"DRY" WITNESS FROM CANADA IS BOOMERANG

Favors Wine Sale, Beer Making.

[Tribune Telegraph Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 26.—(Special.)—Much to the delight of the wet and discomfiture of the drys, former Premier E. C. Drury of Ontario, Canada, headline dry witness before a house judiciary committee hearing on the prohibition question, turned out to be an advocate of what the country are considered wet methods.

Although he said he disapproved Canada's present liquor control system and commended "prohibition," Mr. Drury's testimony indicated that in Canada and the American conception of "prohibition" are two radically different things.

Sale of wine at wineries in five gallon lots and manufacture of beer in the home under government permits is proposed as needed "safety valves" in a prohibitory system. At the same time he urged "more moral suasion and less force" in enforcement, and indorsed direct popular vote on the liquor issue and discounted prohibition as a boon to prosperity.

Has 6 "Best Witnesses."

"All ground," commented a wet member of the committee after the Canadian official had finished, "he was one of our best witnesses."

The only other witness appearing at today's session, the fifteenth of the committee's hearings on legislation to repeal or modify the eighteenth amendment, and the eighth given to the dry side of the case, was John J. Lentz of Columbus, O., former representative and vice president of the American Insurance Union. Mr. Lentz testified to the benefits of prohibition in the light of insurance statistics.

At the close of the session the committee adjourned the hearings until next Wednesday, when the drys will have their final day before the wets return for rebuttal. The dry time was extended to allow the appearance of Supt. F. Scott McBride of the Anti-Saloon league.

Hume Greets Testimony.

Much has been said at the hearings, especially by "wet" witnesses, about Canadian liquor dispensary systems, and the securing of Mr. Drury, who served as head of the Ontario provincial government for four years, as a dry witness was looked upon by the prohibitionists as their master stroke. His testimony, however, was greeted with cold silence from the audience of dry partisans.

"The people of Canada always have decided the liquor question for themselves and, in my opinion, they eventually will return to the prohibitory system we had in 1921 and 1922," Mr. Drury stated. "Government control is not the remedy."

The 1921 and 1922 system, he explained, was not absolute prohibition of all but a prohibition of liquor retailing, with the sale of wine and manufacture of beer for home consumption as "wine safety valves."

Prohibition Discarded.

Reviewing the liquor history of Canada, Mr. Drury explained that each of the provinces went through what amounted prohibition after the war, at one time or another, each one exception, dissolving it in favor of government control.

Government control, in his opinion, has not failed in Ontario because it means "government sale only." Under it, he said, drinking and arrests for drunkenness, crime generally, and many accidents have increased and vice has taken place in hotels and clubs. He saw as the main reason for this the fact that "Anglo-Saxon government will not stand for interference into private affairs.

"I have never at any time had use for prohibition in Canada?" Representative F. H. La Guardia (Rep., N. Y.) asked.

"No, never bone dry," replied.

Representative Emanuel Celler (Dem., N. Y.) referring to a statement of the witness that Ontario decided prohibition referendum until soldiers returned, asked if it was thought the adoption of the eighteenth amendment in the war was a matter of dry protests stopped by the war and the chairman overruled.

Celler read to Drury figures showing increased savings accounts in Canada, asking him how he accounted for this instead of prosperity under government control.

No Connection, He Says.

"There is asserted, "the rooster crows before the sun rises, but he has nothing to do with bringing the sun up."

THE WAYS OF NATURE

WEALTHY SPINSTER WILLS HER DEAF EARS TO HELP CURE DEAF

Miss Abby Hosmer of 10 West Elm street, wealthy daughter of the late Henry Hosmer, a pioneer Chicago commission merchant, has recently drawn a will in which she bequeaths her ears to medical science so that a study of them after her death may assist physicians in their search for a cure for deafness.

Now more than 70 years old, Miss Hosmer has suffered from deafness since childhood.

The will was revealed last night by Dr. Austin A. Hayden in an address before a joint meeting of the Chicago Medical society and the Chicago Laryngological-Otological society. Dr. Hayden told the physicians that more than 300,000 Chicagoans are afflicted with deafness without immediate hope of relief. He urged that more deaf persons follow the example of Miss Hosmer and will their ears to science to aid research.

"Until medical science can have opportunity to make microscopic studies of the ears of those who have been deafened during their lifetime, and a history and sound chart of which deafness has been accurately kept, we will remain considerably in the dark as to why one out of every ten persons is suffering from some form of this malady," Dr. Hayden said.

LITA HINTS SHE AND CHAPLIN MAY PATCH QUARREL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 26.—Lita Grey Chaplin, divorced wife of Charlie Chaplin, on arriving here today from the Aquitania, hinted there may be a reconciliation between her and the screen star. Lita denied any knowledge of reports that he was sailing for Europe next month, but she admitted "if Charlie comes over we might accidentally meet somewhere. I am still one of his greatest admirers, you know."

When asked about a reconciliation Lita said:

"You never can tell; the kiddies might bring us together."

Parts of 2 Townships May Join Evanston Schools

A petition to annex parts of the New Trier and Niles Center school townships to the Evanston school system was filed last night with the Evanston school board.

N. U. Teachers Get a 33 Pct. Pay Increase

A 33 per cent increase in professors' salaries at the college of liberal arts at Northwestern university was adopted yesterday. The increase was a part of the development plan decided upon when the late Milton H. Wilson, manufacturer of men's haberdashery, left $3,500,000 to the college.

The new salary scale, recommended by President Walter Dill Scott, and approved by the board of trustees, is as follows; professors, $7,000 to $10,000; associate professors, $5,500 to $7,000; assistant professors, $4,000 to $5,000; instructors, $2,400 to $3,500.

Appointment of 10 additional outstanding men to the faculty was also approved by the trustees. These professors will be obtained as soon as possible, it was announced.

To Limit Enrollment.

A number of other innovations were decided upon by the faculty, among them a plan to limit the number of students in the college in the future.

"This will give," the report of the faculty said, "opportunity for better selection of students and will make possible improvements in the methods of instruction and greater attention to the individual needs of the students."

The faculty report also pointed out that the curriculum of the college of liberal arts "should be reordered in harmony with present social instruction and to accord with the current views of the organization of knowledge."

As a first step in the reorganization of the curriculum, a freshman survey of orientation course for next year was authorized, to be followed later by other similar courses. The purposes of these courses is to "produce an acquaintance with the natural sciences, with the social sciences and with the arts."

Provision for Research.

Emphasis was also placed in the faculty recommendations on the importance of making adequate provision for researches as "such funds are acknowledged universally to be an essential condition for the well being of a faculty that is seriously interested in its tasks."

One innovation will be the appointment of departmental examiners to investigate the degree to which the desired aims of the various colleges are achieved.

The board of trustees decided that none of the principal nor income from the Wilson fund should be used for the construction of new buildings, although the announcement stated that there was need for an immediate building program with an expenditure of $12,500,000.

INVALID GETS 30 DAYS FOR HAVING LIQUOR

Logansport, Ind., March 26.—[Special.]—Confined to his bed for eight months with a spinal illness from which physicians say he can never recover, Otis Woodruff, 35, was sentenced to serve thirty days at the state penal farm and assessed a fine of $100 and costs in court here today for alleged possession of liquor.

The defendant was unable to appear in court in person and entered a plea of guilty through his attorney. Officers said they raided Woodruff's home and found a quantity of liquor previous to the time he became bedfast. He has been suffering with the spinal illness for five years, physicians stated.

BODY OF MOTHER AND HER SLAYER FOUND BY SON

A Waukegan divorcé, mother of three children, was shot and killed yesterday by a boarder in her home who took his own life after killing the woman. The victims are Mrs. Myrtle Brown, 28 years old, and Albert B Hopper, 41 years old, of Roanoke, Va. They were found dead yesterday in the home, 1308 Paul street, Waukegan, by the woman's son, Bertie, 8 years old, on his return from school.

Bertie told police the boarder had often made love to his mother and threatened to kill himself because she rejected his proposals of marriage. Mrs. Brown was divorced six months ago from Henry Brown. The two other children are Alethia, 6 years old, and Harry, 10.

Bootlegger, Silent on His Boss, Gets Three Years

Asserting that the penitentiary is the only fit punishment for bootleggers who refuse to tell on their higher-ups, Federal Judge Thomas Slick of Hammond, Ind., yesterday sentenced Charles Tornebena of Valparaiso, Ind., to serve three years in prison and to pay a $500 fine. Tornabena was convicted of operating two large stills on his farm.

OUST BOSSES FOR 1933 FAIR, IS PRIMARY CRY

BY PARKE BROWN.

With only ten days of campaigning for the primary left, the spotlight in the Cook county political battle is being centered more and more upon an issue that is not an integral part of the immediate situation before the voters, but one that experts predict may be a factor in many of the Republican contests over nominations for local offices.

J. F. CORNELIUS.

"What effect will the outcome have on the election of a World's Fair mayor next year?" is a question heard now with steadily increasing frequency. "Will it encourage Thompson to run for a fourth term? Will it help toward electing a mayor who will make Chicago attractive to millions of visitors?"

These and similar queries have become so general that one ward committeeman is reported ready to come out with a "Stop Thompson Now" slogan, and the Deneen group is considering turning its principal guns on the city hall with emphasis on the possibility of a continuation of the Thompson regime.

Move to Liven Up Campaign.

So far the county campaign has been dull. It has consisted almost entirely of ward organization meetings. But for the last ten days it is recognized by all managers there must be some fireworks if the independent voter is to be aroused into taking sides, and the city hall issue is recognized by the opposition to Chairman Snow and his majority on the county central committee as the only one showing promise of public response.

For that reason, and because of the present agitation over taxes, the Deneen group is preparing to direct a heavy drive for the tax machinery offices, the one place open on the board of review and the two on the board of assessors.

Thus J. F. Cornelius probably will be the front of the attack on the city hall. He is the Deneen candidate for the board of review and his selection as the spear head of the attack is considered especially advisable, as this is a three cornered race so far as important entries are concerned.

Snow Group Backs Weber.

Chairman Snow and his organization are backing William H. Weber, now chairman of the board, who has served as one of its members since 1924 and prior to that year was an assessor for twenty-six years. Also in the race, with the backing of Robert E. Crowe, is William R. Swissler. The experts say Weber and Swissler will divide the old Thompson-Crowe-Galpin vote and give Cornelius a bigger chance for victory than most of his ticket associates.

A somewhat similar situation exists in reference to the board of assessors for which two are to be nominated. Assessor Charles Krutckoff, elected to the board in 1918, is a candidate for renomination, with County Treasurer Harding as his principal backer. The other candidate on the Snow-city hall ticket is Fred Belzan, a plastering contractor, who, it is said, has no important backing among Thompson's close associates.

The two Deneen entries are Robert F. Barbee, former alderman never affiliated with the city hall, and A. A. Blumenfield, a lawyer and a newcomer in politics.

Brundage Faction in Field.

But the reported possibility of a split vote among the groups that sometimes have followed the regular organization leadership such as Snow's is that the Brundage group has its own candidate for one of these two places on the board of assessors. He is County Commissioner Francis L. Boutell, who also has served in the city council and has been a Brundage man throughout his political career. His record in the council was praised by the Municipal Voters' league, and on the county board he has been a Brundage independent.

As the bosses see it, control of the taxing machinery—the breaking up of the present majorities of the two boards—is at stake in this primary and the subsequent election. The review board is now all Republican. Weber and Charles V. Barrett direct

City to Hand Out Delayed Wages April 9

The next pay day for city employés and school teachers was set yesterday for April 9 as the Strawn citizens' rescue committee acted upon a request of city officials for $8,690,000 to pay salaries for one month. Teachers' salaries for March will be due a few days earlier, and most city employés will have checks due them for the two weeks ending April 1.

In order to provide the money the Strawn committee issued a call for a 20 per cent payment from subscribers to the $74,000,000 taxpayers' trust, asking that payment be made on April 8. This means that nearly $15,000,000 will be paid by the subscribers, which, added to the $22,000,000 already distributed to the local governments, will dispose of half of the fund.

With the exception of approximately $500,000, the $22,000,000 sent in by the subscribers has been turned over to the city, county, schools, and sanitary district. The county will be given $433,000 to meet bond interest next Monday.

Where Money Will Go.

The disbursement of the $8,690,000, when received, was outlined as follows in a letter sent by Deputy Controller Petterson to Ald. John S. Clark [30th], chairman of the council finance committee:

City corporate	$3,900,000
Teachers' salaries	3,650,000
Miscellaneous schoo. employes	750,000
School playgrounds	60,000
Public library	160,000
Municipal tuberculosis sanitarium	150,000
Firemen's pension fund	100,000
Total	$8,690,000

As the Strawn committee has announced that it will deal with the schools through the city, the city officials will turn over 1929 tax warrants held in special funds and invest $4,460,000 of the Strawn cash in 1930 warrants of the school board. The aldermen have objected to this practice on the grounds that the 1928 and 1929 warrants held in the transit fund are being exchanged for 1930 warrants which have no definite maturity date.

Lay Objection Before Mayor.

The objection was placed before Mayor Thompson last night by Ald. Clark in the presence of President Caldwell of the board of education. Ald. Oscar F. Nelson [46th], a member of the transportation committee, was present also but he and Clark were said to have received little satisfaction from the mayor, who is reported to have told them to "sleep for a night on the problem." The mayor said, "I guess we will be able to get along all right."

President Caldwell is to confer again today with Melvin A. Traylor of the First National bank concerning the sale of the school warrants in New York where Caldwell says he has four bankers who will buy if the Chicago bankers coöperate.

Mr. Strawn announced yesterday that the suggestions of the citizens' committee for state legislation will be ready in about a week. The most pertinent suggestion, he said, is that the governments act quickly so as to "be able to pay salaries after our committee retires July 1."

Efficiency Expert Hires Pipe Lighter for His Men

GLASGOW, Scotland, March 26.—(AP)—A professional pipe lighter has been employed here to keep street railway laborers from wasting their time. His sole duty is to refill and light the men's pipes as fast as they go out. His job was established by an efficiency expert. The men have to furnish their own tobacco and matches.

CITY DIGS OUT OF DEEP DRIFTS; SCHOOLS CLOSE

Street Cars Slowly Resume Service.

SCHOOLS—Closed today and until further notice.

STREET CARS—Officials hope to have most of main lines in operation this morning.

ELEVATED—Full service expected, with the addition of extra cars and extra trains to care for increased traffic.

SUBURBAN TRAINS—Normal service on scheduled time promised by all railroads; extra equipment added to provide for increased traffic.

MILK DELIVERY—Normal service promised by distributors, although deliveries may be late; some small dealers depending on Indiana milk may fail to get supplies, but adequate supplies are assured by large dealers.

The worst blizzard in the history of the Chicago weather bureau came virtually to an end last night, leaving the city buried under a record snowfall of 19.1 inches and free to devote its efforts to extricating itself from the drifts. The storm of snow lasted all of yesterday, surprising the U. S. weather forecasters who had looked for a cessation of the downfall yesterday morning.

For today, an official forecast of cloudy and cold weather, with "little if any snow likely" gave hope that Chicago may by tonight measurably restore its crippled transportation systems and clear the highways of the surrounding territory sufficiently to forestall any danger of a food and milk shortage.

Storm Leaves Ten Dead.

The record breaking blizzard, which caused ten deaths in Chicago and its suburbs, blew itself out about 8 o'clock last night, after 44 hours of incessant blowing and snowing. The snowfall was the greatest ever recorded by the weather bureau in any storm. The previous snow record for one storm was 14.8 inches, established last Dec. 17, 18, and 19, in a storm of the same type.

The blizzard also established a new record for twenty-four hours by piling up 14.5 inches of snow between 1 a. m. Tuesday and 1 a. m. yesterday. The previous record for a single day was 14.4 inches on Jan. 6, 1918.

Chicago Schools Closed.

With streets, sidewalks and car tracks blocked, the attendance at schools was so light that President H. Wallace Caldwell of the board of education ordered the buildings closed at noon yesterday and announced last night that they would remain closed today until further notice.

He would give no indication of future plans, refusing to say whether the schools will reopen tomorrow. Many of the teachers and janitors and firemen were unable to reach the school buildings, causing a lack of heat in some of the buildings, although the fuel supply, Mr. Caldwell said, is adequate.

About 75 per cent of the county rural schools were closed yesterday and practically all suburban schools with the exception of those in Berwyn, La Grange and Winnetka were shut down. The Bellwood school will be closed until Monday, but Oak Park schools will open tomorrow, it was announced.

Thousands Shovel Snow.

While thousands of men labored yesterday shoveling snow, their efforts were confined largely to preventing the steadily falling flakes from obliterating the few trails that had been broken through the drifts of Tuesday. If there is no further snow to contend with today, officials of transportation companies promised a rapid return to normal service.

The street car lines and the interurban lines of Chicago and its suburbs were hit the hardest by the blizzard. Yesterday only a half dozen main lines of the Chicago surface line were operating, while street car service was practically abandoned in all suburbs, as the drifted snow was packed into ice that completely covered the rails.

ice, from six to ten inches deep, defied the heaviest type of snow plow. One plow, weighing 69,000 pounds, was found to be useless, its huge scraper jumping over the compact ice without making any impression.

Service was extended slowly on several main street car lines last night. Cottage Grove avenue cars had reached 115th street, while cars on the Madison street line ran to Cicero avenue. Other lines open were:

State street, from the loop to 47th street.

Progress toward normal car movement is impeded by continuing cold weather which keeps the packed snow frozen in the car tracks.

C. H. Evensen, traffic superintendent, said that all main street car lines probably would be in operation by this morning, with partial service on many branch lines.

Chicago Gets to Work.

The almost complete paralysis of the street car service failed to interfere as seriously with the transportation of loop bound workers as it did on Tuesday, when the entire city was caught off guard by the sudden storm. Expecting difficulties, most of the street car passengers turned to the elevated and other railroads yesterday. Companies employing large numbers of workers coöperated by dismissing their employés early to enable them to reach their homes before night.

The Chicago Motor Coach company bus service was expected to be approaching the normal today. Snow plows and traffic on the main streets yesterday helped to break up the drifts that had blocked the buses on Tuesday.

"L" Trains Carry 1,000,000.

The elevated lines caught the brunt of the load thrown off by the bus lines and the crippled street car system. Between 7 p. m. on Tuesday and 7 p. m. yesterday, company officials estimated that 1,000,000 passengers were carried, breaking all previous records. The normal 24 hour load is approximately 600,000 passengers.

Six hundred extra men were put to work on the elevated lines and extra cars and trains kept the service operating near schedule, although the heavy passenger traffic caused delays in loading. Extra men and equipment will be used today to keep the elevated system operating as near normal as possible.

Suburban Trains Near Schedule.

All of the railroads operating suburban trains said that their service was moving near schedule, with the addition of extra trains and extra equipment to help bear the load of heavier travel. All of the Illinois Central's regular electric suburban trains were running on the usual schedules, with extra trains added to care for local travel.

The Chicago & North Western, Burlington, and Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific added extra equipment to their trains and although the suburban travel was almost unprecedented, officials said that the trains were running on scheduled time.

Many Motorists Stranded.

The operation of bus lines from points beyond Gary was halted as buses were stalled in mountainous snowdrifts. Hundreds of bus passengers and motorists were stranded in hotels and farm houses throughout northern Indiana and southern Michigan. With more snow forecast for today in those states, no hope was held for a resumption of motor traffic for another 24 hours.

County and state forces were using all available men and equipment to clear the roads in Cook county and Illinois. Most of the highways were still impassable, however, even sunny skies and rising temperatures failing to have any material effect on conditions in southern Illinois, where hundreds of motorists were stranded and bus service was at a standstill.

Roads were blocked throughout the storm area from the Mississippi river to Ohio and from Milwaukee and Detroit to near the Ohio river, stopping bus traffic throughout that region.

The Chicago Motor club last night advised the public to postpone for at least forty-eight hours all plans for drives from Chicago unless the necessity is urgent.

DIG AWAY AT STREETS

City officials saw little prospect of making the streets generally passable before tomorrow, although 3,000 men were working in the loop and 800 were stationed at the principal intersections in outlying districts removing the snow. Heavy traffic helped to batter down the drifts on the main thoroughfares, but many side streets in all sections of the city were impassable.

The main park boulevards were open, with the exception of the outer drive in Lincoln park. Three hundred men were at work with trucks and plows keeping the outer drive on the south side open. The drive was cleared from the loop to 39th street early yesterday, and later the open stretch was extended to 56th street.

Because of the rapidly drifting snow, however, the force was kept at work throughout the night to make automobile traffic to the loop possible this morning. George T. Donoghue, superintendent of the south parks, said that all of the main routes of the park system were open and that most of the boulevards had two traffic lanes, and all of them at least one.

H. O. Wegge, superintendent of Lincoln park, had 65 men and 20 trucks, tractors, and plows removing the drifts in the north side drives, with only the outer drive and a three block stretch of Sheridan road north of Irving park boulevard still under the drifts.

All of the principal west park drives were open, 250 men with 15 truck plows laboring to keep them clear of drifts.

Automobile traffic was still curtailed, however, although quite a few hardy spirits ventured out in their own cars. Between 6 a. m. Tuesday and 4 p. m. yesterday the Chicago Motor club received 2,700 distress calls from stranded motorists, 90 trucks being employed to haul vehicles out of the drifts.

Of those stalled 60 per cent had been stranded by short circuits in motor ignition systems, caused by the infiltration of the fine snow under the hoods of the cars. Only about 40 per cent were blocked by the deep snow.

CITY GETS MILK SUPPLY

For a time yesterday the city was threatened by a shortage of milk, food, and other supplies as a result of the inability of dairy farmers to reach the city with their trucks. The milk situation was relieved, however, when farmers in the southern Wisconsin dairy region trucked their milk to receiving stations and sent it on by train to Chicago, the storm having had no effect on the roads more than 75 miles northwest of Chicago.

The Indiana farmers were unable to get their milk through to the city but their failure affected only a few small dealers who depend entirely upon Indiana for their supplies. The large dealers offset this shortage by supplying milk to the small dealers, and all of the large distributors promised full deliveries today, although they may be late.

"All Orders to be Filled.

Frank H. Kullman, vice president of the Bowman Milk company, said every order was filled yesterday and that every order will be filled today. The same statement applies to all other large distributors, he said.

Wholesale houses had difficulty in delivering supplies to small outlying groceries. Chain store operators said that although the storm had interfered with deliveries to their stores, the public demand was satisfied, but that a continuation of the storm would cause a shortage of fresh vegetables and other perishable goods.

Although incoming supplies to the packing houses were curtailed there was no prospect of a meat shortage, packers said. Large baking companies augmented their forces to insure the production and prompt delivery of bread.

SIX MORE DEATHS

Six deaths in Chicago and its vicinity yesterday were attributed directly to the storm, raising the death toll for the two days to ten. The day's victims:

Michael Kruska, 74 years old, 2328 Lister street, died of overexertion while he was shoveling snow in front of his home.

John Fitzgerald, 60 years old, 7821 Yates avenue, collapsed in front of his home after walking through the snowdrifts and died a few minutes later.

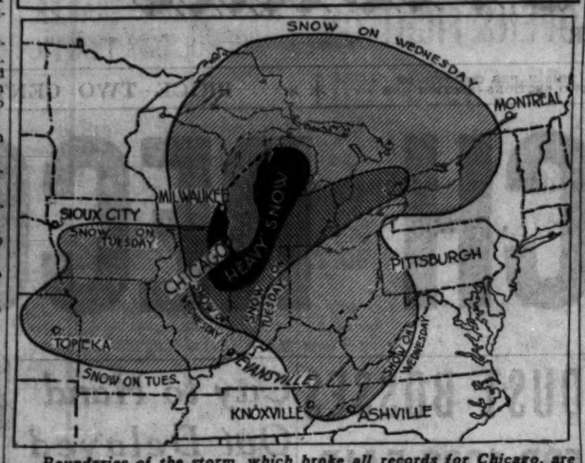
Michael Pratos, 55 years old, a laborer, was fatally injured when he slipped in the snow while running for a street car and died a short time later at the County hospital.

John Wahlen, 65 years old, 12 South Peoria street, was found dead on the Illinois Central tracks at 27th street, where he apparently had been struck by a train while shoveling snow from the tracks.

John Florentine, 55 years old, of East Gary, died of exhaustion after fighting his way through the blizzard from Gary to his home, where he collapsed.

Henry Baldenow, 54 years old, 3908 Pierce street, Gary, was struck by a Nickel Plate train in West Gary, where he was working as a track walker, and was killed. Fellow employés said he was blinded by the snow.

Storm District Boundaries



Boundaries of the storm, which broke all records for Chicago, are shown in above map as of Tuesday and yesterday, when it had moved eastward. The storm remained over Indiana for almost forty-eight hours, a freak of nature, and kept Chicago in the heavy snow area for two days.

Orphaned Items of the Storm

Chicago's record breaking blizzard seemed to have no effect on the activities of Cupid. Although the weather kept many clerks away from the county building, the number of persons seeking marriage licenses was only slightly below normal. Chief Clerk Sidney Summerfield issued fifty-six licenses during the day.

Four teachers at the Audubon school, 3500 North Hoyne avenue, believe that any vehicle is adequate in a storm. When a police patrol overtook Miss Grace Carney, Miss Barbara Menne, Miss Edith McMillan, and Miss Alice Grossman, as they were seeking transportation home, they boarded the wagon and rode to the Town Hall police station at Addison and Halsted streets, continuing their journey to a bus on foot from there.

Snowdrifts and post-season wintry winds brought joy to Billie and Millie, Lincoln park's polar bears, who galloped about in glee as the snow piled up. Billie's joy was so great that he resented the snow shoveling activities near his cage and snatched a shovel from one workman who approached too close to the bars.

Reports that wolves had invaded the northwest side sent detective bureau squads out to buck snowdrifts in search of the animals. Sergt. Roy Hessler, who led the hunt from the Albany Park station, decided the call was a hoax, after he had searched for two hours without finding any wolf tracks.

Roofs of a half dozen buildings collapsed under the strain imposed upon them by tons of snow which accumulated during the two-day blizzard. Among the buildings wrecked was the old Cafe de Champion, owned by Jack Johnson, former Negro heavyweight champion, at 39-41 West 31st street, which had been closed for years. The one-story brick building, once used by Johnson as his training quarters, was pulled down by firemen after the falling roof had forced the walls apart.

A crew of men working in Evanston to clear the rails of the south bound street car track in Central avenue to facilitate one-way service, unwittingly cleared the inside rails of both tracks, leaving the outer rails still buried in ice for a distance of 500 feet. The crew of fifty men then had to clear the outside rail of the southbound track.

A prisoner who was being transported from Peoria to the state prison farm at Vandalia paid not only his own railroad fare but that of two deputy sheriffs and four other prisoners when the deputies' automobile was stranded in a snowdrift. The prisoner who lent the money to the deputies had been sentenced on a bad check charge.

Chicago was "snow conscious" yesterday, the records of the weather bureau showed. Mrs. Edna Baker of the bureau answered 2,000 telephone calls from persons who wanted to know "how much longer the storm will last."

Loop hotels were packed for the second time last night as thousands of workers spent the night downtown as guests of their employers. The Stevens was "sold out" yesterday morning and would accept no more reservations. The rooms of the Palmer house were all taken early in the afternoon, and the La Salle housed 1,000 employés of the Illinois Bell Telephone company. Offices and private dining rooms were converted into bedrooms at the Sherman to care for the evening crowds.

ONLY 45 FIRE ALARMS

The fire department had an unusually small number of calls during the day, only 45 alarms being sounded between 9 a. m. and 9:30 p. m.

Commissioner Goodrich and other fire department officials issued warnings for householders to exercise the utmost caution to prevent fires, pointing out that because many of the streets in outlying sections are impassable fire equipment would be unable to reach many fires in time to prevent a serious disaster. They asked that snow be shoveled from fire hydrants and the worst of the drifts be removed in outlying streets.

The snow blocked sidewalks curtailed mail deliveries, only one or two being made in many districts where there are usually three or four a day. No air mail moved in or out of the city, all planes being kept on the ground by the deep snow and low visibility.

LAKE WAVES DIMINISH

Lake Michigan had abated considerably yesterday, although the waves were still buffeting the shore from northern Indiana to Waukegan. The lake level, which was 2.9 feet above the Chicago datum on Tuesday, had fallen to 1.4 feet above Chicago datum yesterday. With the shifting of the wind from the northeast to the west, the level should be back near normal, which is .6 of a foot above Chicago datum, by today, said Horace Ramey, assistant engineer of the sanitary district.

Before the storm abated, however, it swept out six summer cottages at Zion and tore out 1,000 feet of sidewalk in Zion along the lake front.

The continued churning of the sand at the bottom of the lake turned Chicago's drinking water to mud color, and the chlorine dosage was increased at all pumping stations. At the Chicago avenue station eight pounds of chlorine was placed in each 1,000,000 gallons. The usual dose is four and one-half pounds. Seven pounds was being used at other stations.

PLANE REPORTED IN TROUBLE OVER NORTHWEST SIDE

Residents in the vicinity of Kilpatrick and Elston avenues reported to the Municipal airport early last night that a plane, supposedly in distress, was soaring about overhead, apparently seeking a landing place.

Herbert Young, 4947 North Kilpatrick avenue, reported that what he believed to be a plane had been circling at a low altitude for more than forty minutes at 7:45. He said the engine of the plane was sputtering.

Airport officials telephoned the Northwest Airways hangar, thinking the plane might have been a Northwest mail ship attempting to get through from Milwaukee, but learned that none of the air line's planes had left either Milwaukee or Minneapolis for Chicago.

All planes were warned to steer clear of Chicago yesterday because of the blizzard, although Northwest planes were flying between Milwaukee and the Twin Cities.

MARCONI TURNS ON AUSTRALIAN LIGHTS BY RADIO

Does It from His Yacht, 10,000 Miles Away.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENOA, Italy, March 26.—Another fairy tale of twentieth century electric science was realized, and another vision of Senator Guglielmo Marconi was converted to substance on board the yacht Electra, anchored in the Genoa harbor, this morning.

The radio wizard and inventor of wireless telegraphy, standing in the radio room of his yacht tapped the key of his small transmitting instrument five times at three-second intervals, and projected a short wave circular radio current, which crossed the equator through 10,000 miles of space, and illuminated all lights in the electric building in Sydney, Australia.

Greatest Radio Test Ever.

This was the greatest successful experiment ever undertaken in the actual transmission of energy by wireless, and, according to Marconi, opens up unlimited vistas in perfecting radio telephony and television. Huge Sydney crowds gathered outside of the exhibition building to witness the lights flash on, according to messages received aboard the yacht.

Technically what Marconi did was to send a small current, which was picked up by an amplifier with thermoionic valves, and transmitted to a relay. This relay, in turn, closed a circuit of current generated in Sydney, functioning with the commutator, which supplied current for the lights.

"Calls up" Sydney First.

The real significance and the practical value of the feat lies in having been able to establish this communication through a small station, using a minimum of energy.

Marconi's telephonic communications to Sydney were made with only a 50 foot antenna on the yacht, and its small power generator. President Fisk of the Sydney exposition was on the other end of the phone, while Marconi read his message, which was broadcast at Sydney. Several other persons were then permitted to exchange conversations with Australia. His phone "calls" were carried on waves of 26 and 28 meter amplitude.

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

SAO PAULO, Brazil, March 26.—A raging tropical storm accompanied by cloudbursts has wiped out the small town of Bom Jardin on the Atlantic coast near Recife. Ten persons are reported dead and more than 100 injured. The inhabitants, about 1,000, have taken to the hills. More than 200 homes have been swept away.

RUSSIA BLOCKS AUSTRIA IN HUNT FOR EX-SOLDIERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, March 26.—The war may be over and the question of reparations settled once and for all, but in hundreds of Austrian homes aged parents and growing children are still waiting for the return of their kin who were captured by the Russians during the war and never heard of again. The Austrian government estimates that thousands of them are still living in Russia or Siberia.

Vienna suspects the soviets of hampering their return. Moscow replies that the former Austrian prisoners have seen the light and have not gone home because they prefer to live out their lives in the paradise of communism.

Maj. Gen. Maximilian Ronge, in charge of bringing back the former war prisoners, puts the blame squarely on Moscow. He announced that the soviet government flatly refused even to answer any question regarding the unfortunate ex-soldiers on the ground that they all had become Russian citizens.

The failure of so many thousand former soldiers to return caused a good many legal complications in Austria, especially for wives who, after waiting for years, finally desired to marry again. Legislation now permits them to do so.

FRANCE CUTS HER ARMY 44 PCT., BUT BUDGET GROWS

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, March 26.—That France has reduced her army by 44 per cent since 1913 was claimed by Senator Albert Mahieu today as the senate approved the 1930 army budget. Expenditure has, however, increased, owing to a boost in war material.

This year France will begin application of the one year service act, practically all conditions being now fulfilled. One of these conditions is that a force of 106,000 permanently enlisted men should be maintained.

War Minister Maginot, replying to critics, said France alone, since the war, had made serious reduction in military forces and had set an example.

STATE HOLDS UP GRAND JURY QUIZ IN POLL KILLING

Swanson Speeds Inquest to Aid Police.

Chief Justice Swanson took action yesterday to prevent what the police called a miscarriage of justice in the case of John Pampinella, a Democratic precinct worker, accused of the murder of the Rev. William H. Thompson, a colored Thompson worker, and ordered a resumption of the inquest to be held this morning.

Judge Swanson acted at the request of the police, after assistants of State's Attorney Swanson, a Deneen official, had refused to allow the police to take certain witnesses before the grand jury. The prosecutor's office said the inquest must be completed before the witnesses are heard by the grand jury. The police said the witnesses would testify they saw Pampinella sneak up behind Slaughter and shoot him in the back of the head.

Although Pampinello forfeited his bond when he failed to appear for arraignment yesterday morning he surrendered himself to Chicago avenue police last night. He was locked up to await the inquest hearing today. He refused to explain his failure to appear at court.

Pampinella Fails to Appear.

Chief of Detectives Stege learned that Pampinella had been released on bond of $7,500 when assistant state's attorneys told Judge John Sbarbaro that there was no evidence against Pampinella.

The police are maintaining nine witnesses at a hotel at the expense of the city, awaiting an opportunity to testify before the grand jury, it was said, and the action of State's Attorney Swanson's office in barring the witnesses yesterday costs the city $200 a day, as well as allowing this for possible intimidation of witnesses.

Developments in the case were called to the public attention by the crime commission, which is headed by Frank J. Loesch. It was Loesch who acted as special prosecutor in the Granady murder case of two years ago in which a colored Deneen worker was slain on primary day by supposed anti-Deneen workers.

Vote Acted Despite Primary.

Col. Henry Barrett Chamberlin, executive director of the anti-crime body said the "Slaughter case" was clear in every way to the Granady case, and prosecution should not be stopped by the fact a primary election is to be held in two weeks. The crime commission reported the facts of the Slaughter case as follows:

"Mr. Slaughter, a preacher though not yet ordained, was active in registering voters on March 11. Pampinella was the precinct captain of an opposing faction and he was heard to threaten Slaughter. About 5:45 o'clock the evening Slaughter was slain as he walked down an alley. Pampinella was later arrested and charged with the crime.

"Edward Prendergast, leader of the Deneen faction of the Forty-second ward, went to considerable effort to secure Pampinella's release. In the courtroom of Judge John Sbarbaro and Prendergast used language that caused him to be cited for contempt of court and Pampinella was held without bail. Later Prendergast was purged of the contempt charge.

Refer to Court Hearing.

"On the following day Assistant State's Attorney Frank Mast stated to the court that Assistant State's Attorney Barry Cabel informed him there was no evidence against Pampinella and the defendant was thereupon released on $7,500 bond. The case was continued to March 26, the day following that set for the inquest.

"On March 24 Lieut. Otto Erlanson of the homicide bureau, Chief Stege and others discussed a request to allow a continuance of the inquest till after primary day. Lieut. Erlanson reported that he had nine witnesses who were being held in a hotel, one of them being a school boy. Three of them had seen Pampinella kill Slaughter, he said, and the others would testify to Pampinella's flight.

"It was decided that the police should not accede to the request of Prendergast, the ward leader, for a continuance, because of the expense involved and the fact they might be charged with playing politics. On the next day, however, the inquest was continued indefinitely.

Bond Is Forfeited.

"The morning when the case was called before Judge Sbarbaro the defendant failed to appear. Judge Sbarbaro forfeited the bond and issued a capias for the arrest of Pampinella. Mast, Erlanson and McGinnis then asked permission to take their witnesses before the grand jury immediately.

"Assistant State's Attorney Mast was summoned to State's Attorney Swanson's office. Upon his return he informed the police lieutenants they will not present their witnesses to the grand jury until after the inquest is held.

"The lieutenants protested that the matter had been postponed indefinitely. Their protests were unavailing."

Then Chief Stege informed Coroner Hoffman of what had happened the latter sought to get the members of the coroner's jury together immediately. Failing to reach them in time for an inquest last night he directed that they be called together for an inquest this morning.

ARTIST EMPLOYE OF R. MODJESKI KILLS HERSELF

Pistol Tied to Wrist of Belle Silvera.

New York, March 26.—[Special.]—Unable to obtain relief from sleeping sickness, from which she suffered for years, Belle Silvera, 52, an illustrator, who lived in the home of Ralph Modjeski, internationally famous engineer and bridge builder, at 121 East 38th street, committed suicide tonight.

Her body with a pistol tied to the wrist was found by Modjeski. Nearby were three notes, one bequeathing her clothing to the Salvation Army, another addressed to an attorney in Chicago, and a third explaining her illness and the reason for tying the pistol to her wrist—to insure her ability to shoot again if the first shot failed. Miss Silvera had been employed by Modjeski to sketch bridges and engineering projects on which he worked.

Both Miss Silvera and Modjeski were former Chicagoans. The latter is the son of the late Mme. Helena Modjeska, famous tragedienne.

Lived in Woods for Month.

Little could be learned here of the woman's past, but detectives who investigated her death said they learned that some years ago she went from Chicago with a man who was a back to nature advocate into a dense woodland and there the two lived in the nude for a month on roots and berries.

Modjeski, who is 69 years old, said the woman, an expert on maps and frequent contributor to literary reviews, had been employed by him six years and had occupied the top floor apartment of the building in which he lives and which he owns.

He said he heard a shot and ran upstairs to her apartment to find her partly dressed body in the bathtub, the head on a pillow, the pistol still clutched in her right hand.

Wins High Honors.

Modjeski only last October was honored with the John Fritz medal, his sixth scientific award as a bridge builder. The only son of the great tragedienne, Helena Modjeska, but for his own stubborn leaning to engineering and his mother's fond indulgence, he might have been a musician or actor.

From 1892 on for years he was a consulting bridge engineer in Chicago, where he met Miss Silvers. Among the bridges in whose construction he has participated are the McKinley bridge at St. Louis, the Manhattan bridge at New York, the Columbia bridge at Celilo, Ore.; the Keokuk bridge over the Mississippi, the Ohio river bridge at Cincinnati, the Thames river bridge at New London, Conn.; the Quebec bridge, the Poughkeepsie bridge, and the Philadelphia-Camden bridge.

TWO UNLUCKY BANDITS HOLD UP AN EMPTY BANK

West Alexandria, O., March 26.—(AP)—Two bankers sat in the First National bank here today chatting about money that used to be there. Two other men walked in and roughly ordered "Hands up!"

"Can't you see you're being held up?" shouted one of the robbers.

"That's too bad," said Draper. "This bank has been broke since a year ago. The cashier who was here then killed himself. There's not a penny in the vault."

The robbers searched and found nothing but dust and a musty odor in the vault. Then they drove away.

12 MINERS KILLED IN GAS EXPLOSION; 7 OTHERS ARE UNHURT

Arnettsville, W. Va., March 26.—(AP)—Twelve miners perished here today in the dark recesses of the Yukon mine of the Crown Coal company in an explosion of gas. Nineteen men were in the mine and seven escaped unhurt.

The blast occurred about 4,000 feet from the slope entrance in what is known as No. 9 right heading, and the miners who met death were laboring in that portion of the workings. The ones who escaped were unaware of the explosion until they had reached the outside.

All the bodies had been removed from the workings tonight. Some were badly scorched. Only a small section of the mine was damaged.

Rescue work was carried on by company men, crews from nearby mines, representatives of the West Virginia department of mines and of the United States bureau of mines at Pittsburgh.

WHEN MAE WEST IS QUOTED JUDGE BREAKS A GAVEL

New York, March 25.—[Special.]—The judge broke his gavel this afternoon after an unusually purple line in "Pleasure Man" testimony being heard in Criminal court here. A few minutes later one of the jurors recalled that he had an important business engagement and the long drawn out trial came to another abrupt recess.

The state is nearing its close in the case against Mae West and her fifty-four men associates in the play the Broadway police squad panned with night sticks one night almost two years ago.

To date the police critics have related a lot of low comedy, but have failed to present a very damaging case against the actress-author known as "Diamond Lil."

Sergt. James T. Powers, who took shorthand notes when jabbed in the ribs by his superior critic, Capt. James J. Coy, on the opening night of the play, spent another day under cross examination. He told of elderly scrubwomen who talked of days when they "had it," of young female impersonators who strutted like "proud ladies" and of an acrobatic team with one pair of pants between them.

Architect Feared Lost in Snow Found with Friend

Sheldon Brumbaugh, 26 years old, 911 Lake street, Evanston, who had been missing since Tuesday afternoon, was found last night at the home of a friend in Evanston. Brumbaugh, an architect, was having lunch with a sister, Miss Adeline Brumbaugh, 916 Michigan avenue, Evanston, a teacher in the Evanston High school, when he complained of a heart attack and started home. Miss Brumbaugh notified the police when she learned he had not returned home by Tuesday night, fearing that he had collapsed in a snowdrift.

UNCLE SAM FINDS NEW EXCUSE TO DELAY BUILDING

Leaders Renew Battle to Start Postoffice.

Although Ernest R. Graham, Chicago architect who drew the general plans, last night fixed June 15 as the date on which work could be started on the city's $14,000,000 new postoffice, John W. Philp, fourth assistant postmaster general, in Washington, said the whole project must be "indefinitely delayed."

Mr. Graham had said all the general plans for the structure were ready, that he had held conferences with postoffice officials and officials of railroads whose interests will be involved, and that he had settled all the "fundamentals."

The architect said the passing of the Keyes-Elliott public buildings bill by the senate on Tuesday had made it possible for the government to advertise for bids at once. He added that his own firm of Graham, Anderson, Probst & White would make the working drawings and that excavation and work on the foundations for the structure might definitely be started by the middle of June.

U. S. Announces Another Delay.

Then the government declared the project must be held up for another indefinite period.

Told of the government's action, E. H. Craig, executive secretary of the Building Construction Employers' association, at once called another meeting of representatives of the city's builders and labor unions, to be held tomorrow. Invitations were sent to:

Oscar W. Rosenthal, president of the Builders' Association of Chicago; Patrick Sullivan, president of the Building Trades council; Martin Durkin, vice president of the council; Edward Ryan, architectural iron workers; Hugh Mulligan, business manager of the asbestos workers; Charles Rau, business manager of the steam fitters; Patrick Cullen, business manager of the stone cutters; Michael Artery, president of the iron workers' district council; John Donlin of the Plasterers' International union; and Thomas Dowling, president of the local plasterers' union.

Seeks to Force Work.

"I am going to try to get this group to take some action to force the government to start work on the building," Mr. Craig said. "There is no defense for the position the federal officials have taken. Their puny excuses are tiresome. It may be that we will appeal to President Hoover himself."

Another group which was aroused by the new turn of events was the committee of the Association of Commerce which has been working to speed up the federal building. This group was headed by Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Association of Commerce, who said:

"It is unbelievable. What is the government trying to do to Chicago?"

The Government Explains.

The Washington dispatch last night said: "Postoffice officials said today that complications have arisen which will make necessary a revision of the specifications prepared for submission to the Chicago architects. Until the postoffice department reaches a decision regarding how it wants the building constructed it will be impossible for Graham, Anderson, Probst & White to complete their designs."

"We have struck a snag," the message quoted Mr. Philp as saying. "We have found that some of the working arrangements that have been prepared won't work."

It was suggested to Mr. Philp that the postoffice department has had some three years already in which to make "working arrangements" that would work.

"Well," was the reply, "it takes time to get things right. The interior of this building will be very complicated. Everything must be coordinated so that there will be no delay in handling the mail."

Mr. Philp declined to estimate how much longer it will take the postoffice department to straighten out the tangle.

2 Suspected Rum Runners Found Strangled in Auto

Cleveland, O., March 26.—(AP)—The bodies of two suspected bootleggers were found in a parked automobile in Brecksville, a suburb, tonight. They were identified as Anthony Borsellino, 40, and Anthony Borsellino, 33, cousins, both of Cleveland. They had been strangled to death.

Smuggler Is Killed.

El Paso, Tex., March 26.—(AP)—One smuggler was killed and another captured here tonight in the seventeenth clash of the year between liquor smugglers and customs officers. The dead man is Francisco Velarde. Jesus Jaso is the man held. A large quantity of liquor was seized.

JOSEPH PORTUGESE.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Joseph Portugese, 18 years old, was booked last night for the murder of his sister, Mary Portugese, 22 years old, who was found dying in her home at 900 Sibley street on Tuesday morning. He will be arraigned in boys' court this morning. This action was taken despite a post-mortem examination of the body yesterday which, Sergt. Thomas Cooper said, might uphold the original theory of suicide. The examination disclosed a bullet hole in the girl's head. It was thought at first that she had been beaten to death. At the inquest yesterday Portugese said the police beat him to force a confession.

ROSENWALD ADDS 2 MILLIONS TO MUSEUM GIFT

Total of $5,000,000 Shown in Suit.

A contribution of $2,000,000 made recently by Julius Rosenwald to the Museum of Science and Industry, to be located in the reconstructed Fine Arts building in Jackson park, has been increased to $5,000,000. This became known yesterday when Attorney Leo F. Wormser filed a brief in the Supreme court at Springfield asking to remove the last obstacle to the rehabilitation of the Fine Arts building.

Will Aid Reconstruction.

Mr. Rosenwald's original contribution of $2,000,000 was made to equip the museum, the brief stated. An additional donation of between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000 is to be given by the Chicago philanthropist, it was disclosed, to aid in the reconstruction of the old World's Fair building. It was made in accordance with an understanding between Mr. Rosenwald and the south park commissioners that he would supply the funds needed for the restoration above the $5,000,000 provided by the park board.

The Wormser brief was filed in answer to a taxpayer's suit seeking an injunction to stop the project on the ground that the south park commissioners violated the law in issuing $5,000,000 in bonds for the reconstruction of the building which will later be used by a private corporation.

Name Three to Board.

The appointment of three engineering advisers to assist in the organization of the industrial museum was announced yesterday by the American Engineering council, with headquarters in Washington. The advisers will be Prof. M. E. Cooley, dean emeritus of the engineering college of the University of Michigan; E. L. Ryerson of J. T. Ryerson & Son of Chicago, and Prof. J. W. Roe of New York university.

EX-SHOW GIRL OPENS FIGHT ON ERLANGER WILL

Claims Widow's Share in $75,000,000 Estate.

BY TOM PETTEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 26.—[Special.]—The fight for the Erlanger millions is on. Surrogate James A. Foley decided today that Charlotte Fiscal, the woman who says she lived with the late Abraham Lincoln Erlanger for twenty years as his common law wife, has a right to contest the theatrical man's will that left his estate, estimated at $75,000,000, to his brother, Mitchell L. Erlanger, a former Supreme court justice.

The scene today in the Foley library, where the surrogate conducted his hearing because he has not been well enough to go to his office, resembled a first rate family row. Max D. Steuer, attorney for the former show girl who says she is Erlanger's widow, attacked Erlanger's blood kin as "greedy for a brother's fortune."

Erlanger's Last Moments.

"As Erlanger lay dying," shouted Steuer, "these people you see here were flocking around him trying to get his estate. Every move and act of Mitchell Erlanger during the later years of his brother's life had two motives. One was to prevent his brother from marrying any one and the other was to get his money."

Steuer turned to point at Saul G. Barron, the lawyer who drew the Erlanger will now under fire. Barron, along with Erlanger's brother and two sisters, figured in the will.

"You are entirely familiar with the fact that this woman was living with Erlanger as his wife at the time of his death," he told Barron.

Steuer furthermore declared that Barron visited the Erlangers while they were at the Hotel Shelburne in Atlantic City and that the woman known as Mrs. Erlanger paid the bill.

"Mrs. Erlanger" Not Present.

On one side of the library sat Mitchell Erlanger and his three lawyers — Barron, former Controller Charles L. Craig and Isador J. Kresel. Steuer stood on the other side of the room. He didn't have any one with him, as "Mrs. Erlanger" has consistently refused to appear in public. Both sides displayed a willingness to fight to the last ditch. Lawyer Kresel directed a number of allegations at the women he called Charlotte Fiscal. He insisted she always had used her maiden name and never had been known as Mrs. Erlanger. Then Steuer's turn came.

"It was in 1920," he declared, "that A. L. Erlanger started to live with this woman. I have seventy-five affidavits from people who were aware of the relationship or who were convinced they were man and wife."

Druggist and Hospital Physician Holdup Victims

Frank Patterson, 5448 Harper avenue, manager of the Jackson Park Hospital pharmacy, 7531 Stony Island avenue, and Dr. Samuel Miller, a physician on the hospital staff, were robbed by three youths armed with revolvers early this morning. The robbers got $50 from the cash register and $2 from Dr. Miller's pocket. The pharmacy is in the Jackson Park hospital building.

COUNCIL ASKS STATE BAN ON AUTO TRAILER IN HOLIDAY TRAFFIC

The city council yesterday directed its committee on judiciary to draft an act prohibiting the operation of trailers on all public highways in Illinois on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, for submisison at the next session of the general assembly. Traffic congestion on the highways, according to Ald. John Toman [23d], who introduced the order, is greatly aggravated as a result of trailers and many serious accidents are directly attributable to them.

The resolution of Ald. Dorsey R. Crowe [42d] calling for an appropriation to raze the north half of the old county jail was referred to the finance committee. The aldermen had voted $500 for repairs to safeguard pedestrians, but an investigation revealed that the repairs would cost $20,000.

DR. GRIFFITH DIES IN HOTEL DINING ROOM

Dr. Charles Byron Griffith, well known north side surgeon, died suddenly last night in the main dining rom of the Edgewater Beach hotel, where he and his family live. He was 50 years old and death was ascribed to heart disease. Dr. Griffith was a member of the American, Illinois, and Chicago Medical societies, active in the Kiwanis organization on the north shore, and a member of the faculty at the Lake View hospital. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Marie Griffith, and son Jack.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 26.—When Lee, Higginson & Co. today agreed to lead the American and German consortiums in advancing a $125,000,000 loan to the German government on the strength of the loan promised to Germany by the Swedish match king, Ivar Kreuger, they saved the republic's finances temporarily and enabled the government to pay its obligations on April 1.

The government has tried its best to compel the parties in the reichstag to accept the new taxes and its financial reform plan before April 1, but trouble has arisen over the financial reform plan. Tonight the Socialists and the German People's party, government supporters, talked seriously of deserting it because they could not agree to the reform on jobless insurance.

Chancellor Hermann Mueller is to meet the party leaders at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, and the air is thick with rumors of the cabinet's resignation if the stand on the tax breaks up the government's coalition.

Asks Star as Special Cop, Is Held for Ten Cities

J. J. Klinck, 39 years old, 6244 South Park way, appeared at the detective bureau yesterday and asked that he be made a special policeman with permission to carry a gun and star. He carried a letter from the Frederick H. Bartlett Real Estate company, by which he is employed as a watchman, vouching for his integrity. Lieut. John Cartan discovered that in 1927 Klinck was wanted in ten cities for passing bogus checks. Klinck was put in a cell. Telegrams were sent, notifying officials in the cities of the arrest.

BROTHER TO KIN OF SWANSON IS BENDER ACCUSER

Says He Drew Petition to Recover Bond.

A brother of a son-in-law to State's Attorney Swanson appeared as a witness for the state yesterday in the trial of Andrew Bender, charged with altering court records in bond forfeiture cases. Bender was record clerk when Hoyne and Crowe were state's attorneys.

The witness was Attorney Albert O. Olson, and he testified that he had filed the petition to set aside a bond forfeiture in behalf of Rosa and Emil Klein. This petition was referred to by Assistant State's Attorney Grenville Beardsley as "deception and fraud on the court." The case is being tried in Judge E. I. Frankhauser's Criminal court.

Names Former Prosecutor.

The testimony of Attorney Olson brought in not only his own connection with the alleged conspiracy to set aside bond forfeitures by altering court records, but connected up former Assistant State's Attorney Lucius Winchester and Bender. The latter is the only man indicted.

No mention of Olson's relationship with Russell Olson, Swanson's son-in-law, was made during his direct examination by Assistant State's Attorney George Lavin. The disclosure came during the cross examination by Attorneys Benedict J. Short and George Guenther in behalf of Bender and after the state had entered vigorous objection.

The judge said that the defense had the right to show any connection of state witnesses that might show their interest or affect their credibility.

Tells of Call to Office.

Attorney Guenther during the argument said that he was going to ask for instructions on accomplice testimony and that therefore he had a right to show Attorney Olson's connections.

The testimony of Olson was in substance that on Dec. 31, 1928, he received a telephone message to go to the state's attorney's office. He was introduced then to the Kleins by either Bender or Winchester. He then drew up the petition for setting aside the bond forfeiture based on altered records and filed it before Judge Sullivan, then chief justice of the court. He was accompanied to court by the then Prosecutor Winchester, who was at the time Bender's superior. He said he was never employed by the Kleins, but was promised a $50 fee by Winchester. After the petition was allowed he was paid his promised fee by Bender.

Original Petition Missing.

On cross examination Olson said that he drafted the petition filed in the Klein case from copies of petitions he had used in other cases. It was reported he filed six such petitions.

The original petition and order in the Klein case has disappeared from the court files. The prosecutors said they had never been able to learn how they disappeared.

The defense objected to introducing Attorney Olson's office copies of the petition and order as substitutes, but the substitutes were admitted. It was during the arguments of this subject that Prosecutor Beardsley said that the state wanted to show the "deception and fraud" practiced on Judge Sullivan in the case.

Serve Aldermen in Snow's Suit to Restore Bailiffs

Members of the city council were served yesterday with a summons to appear in the Superior court on April 23 to answer the mandamus action brought by Bernard W. Snow, chief bailiff of the Municipal court. Service was had as the members came to the council meeting. The action seeks to restore 52 deputy bailiffs who were cut out in the 1930 budget, to the city pay roll at a cost of $130,000.

WINS GEM ROW

New York, March 26.—(AP)—Supreme Court Justice Dike has denied Mrs. Helene Schaper an injunction to restrain her sister, Mme. Frieda Hempel, singer, from disposing of jewelry pending determination of proceedings for its recovery.

Mrs. Schaper alleged that four years ago she gave Mme. Hempel pawn tickets for the jewelry. Mrs. Schaper was without funds, she said, and the understanding was the singer was to protect the jewelry, on which Mrs. Schaper placed a value of $10,000, until her finances were in better condition.

Mrs. Schaper said her sister redeemed the jewelry and offered it for sale to satisfy her lien. Mme. Hempel said the jewelry, worth only $3,000, was given as security for a loan of $2,000. In order to save the jewelry from pawn, Mme. Hempel said, she was compelled to pay $2,600 additional.

SLOVAK LEADER FIGHTS JAIL FOR QUOTING U.S. PACT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BRATISLAVA, Czecho-Slovakia, March 26.—The appeal of Dr. Adalbert Tuka, the quiet little Slovakian professor, against a 15 year prison sentence meted out to him by a lower court last October because he suggested that Slovakia secede from union with the Czechs, began before the Court of Appeals here today.

It is not expected that a judgment will be rendered for a fortnight.

A reversal of the lower court's decision would contribute much toward the alleviation of bitter feelings of the Slovaks against the Czechs. An approval of the decision would send the Slovakian leader to jail for most of his remaining days and seriously complicate the already precarious situation between these peoples, who, only eleven years after their union, are unable to live side by side in any kind of harmony.

Dr. Tuka's case is that the three judges who tried and sentenced him decided the trial on political grounds only. He sticks by his original defense that his only action in the whole affair was his recalling that Slovakia was automatically released from allegiance to the republic ten years after the Pittsburgh agreement which specifically stipulated this.

The government lawyers maintain that the Pittsburgh treaty, under which the Czecho-Slovakian republic was created, was illegal, first, because it was signed merely by private citizens representing American Czech and Slovak societies, and, second, because it was dated on Memorial day in 1918 and therefore it is invalid before the law.

Bratislava was jammed today with minor Slovak agitators from the surrounding country who threaten trouble unless the professor is released.

CONSTITUTION IS BREAKING DOWN, BECK WARNS US

Terms Prohibition "Crowning Atrocity."

Philadelphia, Pa., March 26.—[Special.]—Representative James M. Beck, ripping from the constitution of the United States what he indicated was the dry husk formed by years of abstract thought and traditional interpretation, last night presented the nation's bill of rights as a living organism—in the process of deterioration.

His address, one of the most significant in his career as a leading authority on the constitution, was delivered before members and guests of the American Philosophical society in their historic hall in Independence square. His words were carried to every part of the United States over the radio.

Citizenry Has Changed.

"The everlasting difference," he said, "between the American people when they framed the constitution and the American people today, is this:

"Our forebears thought in terms of abstract political rights, but we today think in terms of concrete economics.

"Moreover, the gospel of the American people today is efficiency, and to secure such efficiency they are apparently willing to sacrifice any principle that makes for the greater consideration of security."

Mr. Beck declared the modernistic conception of the constitution which he supported was by no means a comforting one, pointing out that "if the constitution is a living organism, then it has within it the seeds of death."

"Such a conception of the constitution," he added, "challenges the thought of each living generation of Americans to the great question whether this living organism is to grow in wisdom or perish in folly."

Dry Law an "Atrocity."

Illustrative of the changes to which this living constitution has been subjected and which point toward its deterioration rather than its growth, Mr. Beck enumerated encroachments on the character of the original bill of rights.

This list culminated with "the crowning atrocity of the eighteenth amendment, which invades individual liberty in a manner at which Washington and Franklin would have stood aghast, and which, in this respect, relegates the once proudly conscious states to the ignominious position of being mere police provinces."

The other "portentous" changes to which the constitution has been subjected, as they appeared in Mr. Beck's roster, were:

"The destruction of the electoral college, except as an empty form.

"The profound change in the representative system, due to the changed democratic ideal that a representative should think with and not for his constituents.

"The breaking down of the barriers that once marked the different functions of the executive, legislative and judiciary.

"The steady deterioration in power of congress as the great council of the republic, and the corresponding aggrandizement of the executive until he is, in everything but name, an elective king.

"The denial of the right of the states to determine, in respect to their local conditions, the qualifications of an elector.

Prize Winner

"William suffered from constipation," says Mrs. W. I. McClure, 7732 Cregier Ave., Chicago. "He was sallow and bilious; didn't have any appetite; couldn't digest his food.

"California Fig Syrup has changed all that. It regulated his bowels quickly; improved his appetite and digestion. He has improved right along until friends say he's a regular prize-winner for health."

Mothers by thousands praise California Fig Syrup. Physicians endorse it. Its rich, fruity flavor appeals to children, its pure vegetable goodness is safe for any child. The prompt relief it brings bilious, headachy, constipated children lasts; because it helps tone and strengthen bowels and stomach. Next time bad breath, coated tongue or feverishness warn of constipation, try it with your child and see how it helps!

When buying, look for the name California! That marks the genuine, famous fig syrup for 30 years.

PAIR OF WETS SEEK U. S. SENATE SEAT IN MASSACHUSETTS

Boston, Mass., March 26.—(AP)—Massachusetts tonight had two senatorial candidates seeking election on platforms calling for repeal of federal prohibition, one a Democrat, State Representative Roland D. Sawyer of Ware, a Congregationalist minister, and the other, Eben S. Draper of Hopedale, a former state senator and a Republican.

Draper announced his candidacy some time ago, but until today his stand on prohibition was undefined.

Last night, in announcing his candidacy, Mr. Sawyer placed himself on record unqualifiedly for repeal of prohibition and taxed Draper with being "evasive" on that issue.

Today Draper issued a statement that he would stand for election on an anti-prohibition platform, "not unmindful of the fact that I shall probably lose the support of the fanatical drys and the backing of the political machine, but I will not seek office under false pretenses."

up. Similarly, there is no connection between savings accounts and liquor control."

"In view of the claims of our dry American friends about prohibition and prosperity, I am glad to hear you say that," La Guardia remarked.

Much of the questioning revolved about the pending act in the Canadian parliament to stop liquor clearances to the United States, which Mr. Drury approved and said "is sure to pass." Often, he said, he has seen boats bound across the lakes loading liquor "in open daylight." Adoption of the anti-smuggling bill, he said, would "clear the border of criminals who now infest it."

Former Representative Lentz, whose testimony preceded that of Mr. Drury, told the committee that "prohibition is annually saving the nation thousands of lives," citing statistics of 7 insurance companies showing decreases in mortality rates since 1921. Under questioning, however, he explained that his tables did not include those of the Prudential, Metropolitan and other "industrial" companies.

Drinking "Less Popular."

"The saloon has gone from the nation, and, with slavery and many other evils, let it remain in the discard," Lentz asserted. "The fact that enforcement has its difficulties should not for a moment deter us in the onward march toward complete sobriety and that happy day when alcohol as a beverage will have vanished so completely that no man, boy or girl will even think of a sip from the rapidly disappearing pocket flask as being a bit smart—a fad that is growing less popular with the passing of time."

In the Morning!

Just take a pleasant-tasting candy Cascaret tonight and see how fine you feel next morning. You wake with coating gone from your tongue. Breath is sweet; eyes brighter; you feel like a different person. The most pleasant way to be rid of constipation ills is with candy Cascarets. They are made from cascara—a never-failing laxative—as any doctor will tell you—and a laxative that actually helps strengthen the bowel muscles. So the prompt, harmless relief Cascarets always bring is lasting! Their gentle, thorough action makes them ideal for elderly people. Children love their delicious candy flavor.

"Drunkenness Is a Disease and I Can Cure It"

—Leslie E. Keeley, M. D., LL. D.

THE EDITOR of a powerful Chicago Newspaper before his death, challenged this statement of Dr. Keeley that "Drunkenness is a disease and I can cure it." He defied Dr. Keeley to cure the man whom he would send to the Institute. The results were so convincing that, through his great newspaper, he was personally responsible for thousands of men and women taking The Keeley Treatment for Liquor.

DRY OFFICIAL KILLS PLANTER IN GUN BATTLE

Promptly Exonerated by Superiors.

Clarksdale, Miss., March 26.—(AP)—Sheriff Lee C. Matthews of Coahoma county today maintained a guard around E. S. Chapman, deputy prohibition administrator for north Mississippi, while the national prohibition department investigated his killing last night of J. L. Doggett, wealthy Delta planter, in a pistol duel on a busy street.

Public feeling here against the officer eased sufficiently today to permit Sheriff Matthews to retain Chapman in the county jail until his preliminary hearing is held, but both the jail and prohibition headquarters were under guard.

Slayer Slightly Wounded.

Chapman, in his jail cell, suffering from a slight wound, said: "I will tell all there is to tell at the proper time."

Doggett was well known throughout the delta for his charitable acts, his friends said. Surviving are his widow and two children.

Friends of both sides agreed that the trouble came up over a bond disagreement in liquor cases. Doggett had made bonds professionally in a number of prohibition cases.

F. N. Collier, of the legal staff of the federal prohibition department at New Orleans, was dispatched here by O. D. Jackson, Tenth district prohibition administrator, to investigate the shooting. He will make a report to Washington.

No Suspension, Doran Rules.

Washington, D. C., March 26.—(AP)—E. S. Chapman, assistant prohibition administrator from the northern Mississippi district, who shot and killed J. L. Doggett yesterday, will not be suspended because Assistant United States Attorney Suck reported to Prohibition Commissioner Doran today that Chapman acted in self-defense and is fortunate to be alive.

Another Dry Agent in Trouble.

Newark, N. J., March 26.—(AP)—Myron Coffey, federal prohibition agent, will be arraigned Friday in Newark police court charged with atrocious assault and battery on complaint of Joseph and Edward Brach. The brothers allege they were beaten by Coffey during a brewery raid last week in which forty prisoners and 7,000 barrels of beer were taken. Coffey was once indicted in Chicago in connection with an attack on a municipal court bailiff during a raid.

What wrecked the Romance of Hollywood's Ideal Couple?

SHE IS TODAY one of Hollywood's most famous stars. Many consider her to be the most beautiful woman on the screen.

He is today one of screenland's noted directors. For years he has fostered her career—helped her along the dangerous road that leads to stardom.

"Hollywood's most devoted couple," they were called. "A perfect romance," friends said. And now, after more than six years of happily married life, they have agreed to a divorce.

Her husband, who still loves her, reported to a friend, "You said I would lose what I valued most in life—and I have."

What is Greater Than Love and Marriage?

Why did this romance fail like so many other Hollywood marriages? They are both wealthy and talented. They both have everything in the world any man or woman could desire. They both admit that they still care for each other. Why, then, have they separated? What one thing has shattered so many marriages in the film colony? What one thing means more to a movie star than love and marriage?

You have seen this famous actress on the screen many times. Now you can learn the true intimate drama of her own life. Read the absorbing article about this celebrated star by Madeline Glass in the May issue of Picture Play Magazine. Get a copy today.

Intimate Gossip of Hollywood

"Barriers Burned Away" by Samuel Richard Mook presents the true Ronald Colman as revealed by himself and his closest friends—Clive Brook, William Powell and Richard Barthelmess. For years Ronald Colman avoided interviewers. He said that he did not want Hollywood publicity. At last he has discarded his aloofness. This fascinating article shows you the real Ronald Colman.

Is it hard to get along on $10,000 a week in Hollywood? Marion Davies says that it is. "Up From the Top" by Malcolm Oettinger reviews the exciting and colorful career of this great star. This unusual article explains also, why so many stars with enormous incomes are often broke.

Inez Sabastian continues her thrilling new serial "The Movie Racket." Also features stories about Edmund Lowe, Warner Baxter, Ann Harding, and other popular stars. Reviews of latest pictures including two special articles of interest to all fans—"They've Hit the Bull's-eye" and "When Friends are Enemies." And the regular famous departments of Hollywood news, of course. Don't miss the big May issue of Picture Play Magazine!

In answer to the question, "Do you drink?" 22 co-eds voted "Yes" and 41 "No," while the men's vote was 86 "Yes," and 69 "No."

Digest Poll Trend Unchanged.

New York, March 26.—[Special.]—The trend of city votes against strict enforcement of present prohibition laws was continued in incomplete reports from eleven cities, issued today in the Literary Digest national prohibition poll.

Two California cities, Redlands and Pomona, gave clear majorities for enforcement, and the remaining nine, in California, New York, Kentucky, and Maryland, had larger votes for repeal and modification, combined than for enforcement. Of the eleven, seven gave pluralities for repeal and four pluralities for enforcement.

Los Angeles, Cal., the largest city of the group, showed 11,899 for repeal of the eighteenth amendment, 11,561 for modification of the Volstead law, and 9,211 for enforcement of existing laws.

The wettest cities were Annapolis, Md., and Covington, Ky., both giving a clear majority for repeal. In Annapolis 57.8 per cent of the ballots were for repeal and in Covington 85.7 per cent were for modification and repeal together.

The completed work will be sent to Chicago to be installed in the institute of which Prof. Breasted is head.

FOE OF "LIFE FOR PINT" OUT FOR CONGRESS

Lansing, Mich., March 26.—[Special.]—Senator Seymour Person, liberal leader in the Michigan legislature and the attorney who took up the case of Mrs. Etta Mae Miller, former "life for pint" law victim, and won a new trial for her from the Supreme court, will seek the place in congress now held by Representative Grant M. Hudson of East Lansing, dry leader and proponent of movie censorship. Senator Person announced his candidacy today at a dinner for newspapermen. His record indicates that he will favor policies diametrically opposite to those supported by Hudson.

Announcement of Senator Person's candidacy practically assures a clear cut fight at the September primaries in the largest congressional district in the nation between Volsteadism and extreme Puritanism, as represented by Hudson, and moderation, as advocated by Person. The sixth congressional district is estimated to contain more than a million citizens. It includes the counties of Ingham, Genesee, Livingston, Oakland, and part of Wayne. In it are the cities of Flint, Lansing, Pontiac, Highland Park, Dearborn, Hamtramck, and such wealthy residential sections as Bloomfield Hills and other parts of Detroit.

CALDWELL SHOWS ERRORS IN CRANE SCHOOL FIGURES

Difference in Method of Appropriation Bared.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

On March 22 THE TRIBUNE printed a comparison of the 1929 and 1930 appropriations for the Crane Technical High school and college. H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the board of education, writes that the comparisons "are entirely incorrect," pointing out inadvertent errors in THE TRIBUNE'S story.

The errors were made by the writer and are explained as follows:

In 1929 the school board appropriated for the Crane Technical High school and college as one unit. In 1930 the board appropriated for the Crane Technical High school and college in exactly the same form, with the same unit number and the same account numbers. There is nothing in the text of the appropriation bill to indicate that the 1930 appropriation is not for the entire Crane Technical High school and college, nor is there a note to indicate it is incomplete. But it was.

Another Appropriation Made.

The board made another appropriation for the Crane Junior college in addition to the appropriation for the Crane Technical High school and college. The $9,000 set aside under the budget for fuel for the "high school and college" was intended only for the high school, and the board set aside another $9,000 for fuel for the college. That is illustrative of other items.

The result was that the comparison in THE TRIBUNE on March 22 contrasted the 1929 appropriations, which were correctly presented, with the 1930 appropriations for the same purpose, but to which should have been added the supplemental and newly created budget for the Crane Junior college.

Caldwell Presents Figures.

On that comparable basis there was not a reduction of 15 instructors, as the comparison made in THE TRIBUNE showed. Instead, there is an increase of 30 instructors in both high school and college. A summary of the appropriations for the two years of the combined Crane Technical High school and college, as prepared by President Caldwell, is as follows:

Accounts—	1929.	1930.
Instruction	$ 929,228	$1,084,519
Operation of plant...	26,438	90,915
Maintenance of plant..	37,488	49,257
Total operating	$1,064,152	$1,224,691
Capital outlay	20,040	10,324
Total for school....	$1,084,192	$1,235,015

In his letter Mr. Caldwell says: "I naturally presume that THE TRIBUNE is not desirous of permitting incorrect statements of fact to be circulated. I trust the above explanation will permit a correction of an improper interpretation of the actual facts."

WASHINGTON NOTES

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 26.—(AP)—Representative Bolton [Rep., O.] announced that Postmaster General Brown had advised him that the site of the Cleveland postoffice would be in the new terminal area, between West 3d and West 6th streets and Prospect and Huron avenues.

Purchase of 72 model R-1820 air cooled engines from the Wright Aeronautical corporation at a total cost of $527,940 was announced by the navy department.

The Parker bill to provide for the coördination of public health activities of the government was passed by the house and sent to the senate.

President Hoover approved the selection of Capt. Ammen Farenholt of the navy medical corps for promotion to the rank of rear admiral, to succeed Rear Admiral Albert M. D. McCormick, who has reached the statutory retiring age.

Justice Sutherland refused to order the release on bail of Antone Parmagini, convicted at San Francisco with others of violating the narcotic laws.

London Put in a Corner by Maneuver.

BULLETIN.

TOKIO, March 27.—(Thursday.) (AP)—Domestic and political obstacles have delayed Japan's decision on the tentative Japanese-American naval agreement, promised for today, and the cabinet's extraordinary session was called off. Opposition to the plan, which would have allowed Japan 69.6 per cent of American naval tonnage in place of her requested 70 per cent, centering in the naval general staff, was so vigorous that ministers, convinced of the wisdom of acceptance, were fearful of precipitating a government crisis.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 26.—The American delegation, it became known tonight, has definitely passed the buck to the British on the question of paying the price which France demands for joining a five power navy reduction treaty. If the British government offers a security guarantee acceptable to France, the American delegation will favorably consider America's commitment to a consultative pact.

Under this plan Great Britain would be pledged to protect France against aggression. America would be pledged to consult with European powers in the event of a European war, but would not be bound to employ armed forces against the aggressor.

Whether the United States would be committed by implication to take sides in a European quarrel, and join any boycott proclaimed by the league of nations, is not clear. Whether Prime Minister MacDonald's government will make a concession in line with a security guarantee acceptable to France is the big question of the moment, and one the British cabinet must decide within a short time.

A French Maneuver.

France has been maeuvering since the beginning of the conference to induce Great Britain to underwrite French security. The British, who have perceptibly veered away from community interest with the French, have refused to give Paris security guarantees, declaring against "entangling military alliances." But both France and Great Britain would like to commit America to an understanding by which America would not be neutral in case of a European war, but would respect any blockade declared by the league of nations.

Now the American delegation holds out a promise of such an approach to commitment of a character represented by a consultative pact on the condition Great Britain will give France an acceptable guarantee.

Politics Is the Game.

Politics is being played, and the London conference has undergone a kaleidoscopic change. Instead of Great Britain and America having France backed into a corner, America and France now appear to be associated in a maneuver to back Great Britain into the corner. The consultative pact, brought into the picture a month ago by Secretary of State Stimson, and then ruled out by himself a fortnight later, is back. Credit for this latest development is said to be due to Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, who has been specializing on negotiations with the French.

When Mr. Stimson threw the consultative pact overboard it was on the ground that such an understanding could not be entered into as the price for reduction by France of navy tonnage demands. Such a consideration, according to Mr. Stimson, would rise up and plague us in the time of a European war. It would be an implication of a pledge by America to supply armed forces or to take other measures for the defence of France. It would be possible for France to say, it was reasoned, that but for the American pledge to consult, implying a promise of protection, France would not have reduced her navy at the 1936 conference, and would have an adequate navy for defense without outside help.

No Quid Pro Quo Stigma.

Because a consultative pact had been made quid pro quo for the French tonnage concession, Mr. Stimson felt that it would be impossible, not only at this conference but for years to come, for America to go into a consultative pact or even into an implementation of the Kellogg pact, because it would then be said to have been in consequence of secret understandings at this conference.

Since Mr. Stimson thus dismissed the consultative pact, American pacifists, internationalists, and such organizations as the Foreign Policy association, have brought great pressure to bear on the Hoover administration to reconsider such a pact.

As a result of this pressure and ingenuity, Ambassador Morrow's consultative pact now reappears in a setting designed to divest it of its quid pro quo stigma for scaling down French tonnage demands.

FROM AUCKLAND, NEW ZEALAND

Auckland is the chief port and largest city in the dominion of New Zealand and presents a fine metropolitan appearance, having a population of upwards of 210,000. It was formerly the capital city of the colony, which assumed a dominion status in 1907. British control of the islands was assumed definitely in 1840. The chief exports of New Zealand, which to a great extent pass through the port of Auckland, are wool, frozen meats, butter, cheese and hides. The city has extensive manufacturing establishments, shipbuilding plants, sugar refineries and glass making industries.

HUNG JURY IN O'DONNELL CASE IS DISMISSED

Bernard O'Donnell, brother of the notorious Klondike O'Donnell, failed to win his acquittal on a gun toting charge yesterday because one juror held out for conviction. The jury was discharged by Judge Harry B. Miller in the Criminal court after it had deliberated for 21 hours without arriving at a verdict. The jury stood 11 to 1 for acquittal.

Attorneys W. W. Smith and Everett Jennings for O'Donnell objected to the discharge of the jury. They asked the judge to let the jurors debate for another night if necessary, but the disagreement order was entered when the jurors themselves said that they did not believe a verdict could be reached.

O'Donnell was arrested on Feb. 12 along with George Barker and Jack [Three Fingered] White, ex-convict business agents for the coal teamsters' union. The arrest was made in a café at 4654 West Madison street. O'Donnell was jailed for perjury on Tuesday night after he had testified that he did not own the revolver found on his person.

BRIAND RETURNS TO NAVY PARLEY WITH A SMILE

Sees U. S. and Britain Bowing to France.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 26.—Happy over what he looks upon as a surrender by Great Britain and the United States to the demand for a security pact that France made as a price for the reduction of her naval forces, Foreign Minister Briand arrived here tonight.

The wily old French diplomat was in excellent humor as he strode into the Carlton hotel saying, "I am back again. Tomorrow we shall set to work anew."

Paris in Good Humor.

He declined to discuss the latest developments of the treaty situation, but from members of his entourage it was learned the French government is highly optimistic over the outcome and expects Great Britain to join a Mediterranean Locarno and the United States to participate in a general "consultative agreement." Paris delegates firmly believe that in the case of an international crisis Washington would find itself inextricably committed to support France, if not militarily, at least to the extent of acquiescing to a blockade of her enemies and accepting an embargo on all shipments to them.

"We do not expect America to pledge herself to go to war in case European hostilities threaten an outbreak, but we do believe if the five powers here sign an undertaking to do all in their power to prevent war that means will be found to force any aggressive nation to desist from starting a conflict," a delegation member said.

"France is now placed in a curious dilemma. To placate Great Britain and enable England to preserve a two-power standard with a navy as powerful as the two strongest continental powers, we must reduce our sea strength. But if we decrease our fleet below the announced requirements, America will not take part in a consultative pact, for she fears we will demand help on the ground that we reduced because we obtained this pact."

New Difficulty Arises.

A new difficulty arose tonight when the Italians announced no Mediterranean pact would be acceptable to them unless all the powers interested were signatories, indicating that Spain, Greece, and Turkey, and especially Jugo-Slavia, across the Adriatic, must adhere to any Mediterranean Locarno.

"And that still leaves the question of parity," said a member of the Rome delegation. "Regardless of whatever security safeguards are adopted Italy maintains her original position of insisting on complete equality of naval strength with France."

750 CONVICTS RIOT AT PRISON STEW AND YELL 'WE WANT MEAT'

Jefferson City, Mo., March 26.—(AP)—Rebelling against "Irish stew" and demanding "fried meat" for lunch, 750 of the 4,000 convicts in the Missouri penitentiary mutinied for two hours this afternoon in the prison dining hall. They finally were quieted without violence after Warden Leslie Rudolph promised to improve the menu if there was anything wrong.

Subsequent investigation by Warden Rudolph brought an announcement that the meal "probably was not what it should have been," and that the "potatoes in the stew were slightly raw."

This evening the same 750 prisoners returned in orderly manner to the dining room and quietly ate the evening meal, consisting of stewed prunes, bread, sirup, and coffee. The prison was quiet tonight, with guards vigilant to meet any emergency.

When the outbreak started Warden Rudolph summoned National Guardsmen; then, with only eight prison guards, he entered the dining hall.

Warden Rudolph found the convicts banging on the tables and shouting, "Meat! Meat!" They defied the guards' demands to form in line and leave the hall.

When the warden started to talk some of the convicts hissed, but when he concluded they cheered and gave him "a wonderful hand," he said later. Then they marched quietly to their cells.

DAWES AND ADAMS MADE "KNIGHTS" OF LONDON ROUND TABLE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 26.—An unusual distinction was conferred upon Ambassador Charles G. Dawes and Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams tonight when, with much serious ceremonial, they were each invested with the insignia of "Senior Knight" of the ancient order of "The Knights of the Round Table."

The knight's order is a famous old English club which meets periodically at a famous Strand restaurant and discusses current topics around a luxurious banquet table. Many notables are invited to its sacred precincts but only on rare occasions are "foreigners" allowed in the charmed circle. Tonight in addition to the subjects of the "investiture" other members of the American delegation were entertained, including Senators David A. Reed and Joseph T. Robinson. Sir Trevor Dawson, the knight president, presided.

Responding after his investiture, Mr. Dawes declared that Americans visiting this country are particularly interested in the old environment in which their forbears lived.

its affairs with Edward R. Litsinger, Deneenite, as the third man. If Cornelius should win in the primary and election Deneen would control. If the Democrats should win in the fall there would be a three way division of power.

Situation Among Assessors.

There are five members of the board of assessors — four Republicans, Krutckoff, Charles Ringer, Gene Oliver and Adam Wolf, and one Democrat, John E. Conroy. Three of the group, Oliver, Wolf and Conroy, are holdovers. Ringer's term expires but he is not a candidate for renomination. None of the holdovers is a Deneen man, but if that camp should elect two men or one man with the Brundage group winning the other place, there would be a realignment, the observers say.

Cornelius, who is expected to be the head and part of the Deneen effort in this direction, has been in the real estate business in Chicago since 1909 and is now president of the concern that bears his name at 4554 Broadway. He is an athlete; was a member of the Northwestern university football teams of 1903, 1904 and 1905, and in 1905 represented the central Y. M. C. A. at the Olympic games in St. Louis. He spent four years in social settlement work. He is a past president of several organizations. Recently Gov. Emmerson appointed him to the board of state museum advisers.

Hope to Identify Girl Amnesia Victim Today

Authorities at the Juvenile Detention home hope this morning to identify a 17 year old victim of amnesia as Bernardine Lamb of Justice Park. Bernardine's mother, who said she recognized a picture of the girl in the newspapers as that of her daughter, has been unable to appear at the juvenile home because of the stormy weather. The girl was found at South Rockwell and West 65th streets on Monday, suffering from a lapse of memory.

8 Out of 10 People Are Just Like Him

"I used to work on until I barely had time to eat, and then hurriedly," says Herbert Coulson of 2415 Birchwood Ave., in Chicago. "The first thing I knew I was having indigestion from the excessive acid. Well! It was bad while it lasted. But I'm rid of it now, by taking Acidine. It sweetens my stomach and the gas is gone in a few minutes."

A normal stomach has all it can do to digest the starchy food you eat. What can you expect if you abuse it. Help your stomach by taking ACIDINE. Two million people are already depending on ACIDINE because it is so sure, tastes so good and costs so little. Get it at any drug store.

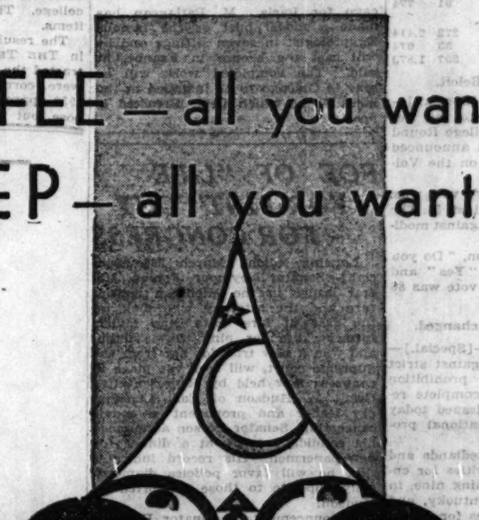
COFFEE — all you want of it!
SLEEP — all you want of it!



THAT'S not a wistful wish—it's an actual, proven fact. For the way has been found to remove from coffee the one ingredient that can steal sleep—caffein. Drink Sanka Coffee—genuine, delicious coffee from which 97% of the caffein has been removed.

Yes — it's real coffee! . . . . . .

Sanka Coffee is real coffee—a superior blend of the finest Central and South American coffees grown. Nothing is added—only caffein is removed. In Sanka Coffee you'll find all of coffee's satisfying flavor—all its fragrant aroma. Drink one cup of it and you'll agree with coffee experts that no other blend is finer.

Physicians here and abroad endorse Sanka Coffee whole-heartedly. Your grocer carries it—ground or in the bean,—in pound cans that preserve its freshness and its fragrance. He sells it on this money-back basis: "If, after a thorough trial, you are not satisfied with Sanka Coffee on every score, return what's left in the can and we'll refund the full purchase price." Get a can of Sanka Coffee today—and sleep tonight!

. . . . . Make the night-test! . . . . . .

The first time you try Sanka Coffee, drink it at night. It won't keep you awake. Next morning you'll know, from actual experience, that you've discovered a delicious coffee you can enjoy morning, noon and night—without regret! © 1929, S. C. Corp.

Reduce the Acid

In sick stomachs—instantly

Sick stomach, sour stomach and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug-store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Make of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

TREASURER FIGHT GIVES CAMPAIGN NEW FIREWORKS

Candidates Rap "Banker Control of Office."

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

The Republican battle over the office of state treasurer blew into Chicago and for the day pushed the senatorial contest into the snowdrifts. Senator Charles S. Deneen's night meetings were called off on account of the blizzard and the stalled street cars, and at noonday the senator spoke at a loop rally on the Illinois waterway. Downstate, Ruth Hanna McCormick spoke at Danville last night. Today she has a series of birthday celebrations, starting with the cutting of a five foot cake at Monroe street headquarters at 11:30 a. m. and winding up with a massmeeting tonight in the Evanston Women's club.

During the lull in the main fight the treasurership candidates turned their thoughts from snowshoes, igloos, and raindrops, and melted the icicles with caloric words. Managers of Clarence Buck, former director of agriculture and Lowden campaign manager in 1928, issued word that after a downstate tour Buck appears to be some distance in the lead. Among his supporters are four former state treasurers, Garrett DeF. Kinney, a Deneen leader; Omer N. Custer, a Lowden warhorse; Oscar Nelson, and Andrew Russel.

See Advantage in Name.

Reports from downstate gave a new answer to the old line: "What's in a name?" for downstate leaders reported that the name of Warren E. Wright ought to be "worth 50,000 votes to him." The reports were that voters in some regions are confusing Mr. Wright who lives in Jacksonville and was an automobile investigator in the secretary of state's office with Warren Wright, president of the Lincoln park board, and with Senator Harry G. Wright, of De Kalb, who once talked of running.

It was Charles A. Gregory of Lovington, however, who knocked the icicles flying with few select words upon "the ex-state treasurer-bankers' combine."

Mr. Gregory, who is a former legislator and once was Illinois prohibition director through the backing of the late Senator William B. McKinley, says he was brought into the race by Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom. He carries letters in which Carlstrom says he got out 500 blank petitions for Gregory and sent them out to his 39 inheritance tax attorneys downstate to have filled. Carlstrom later came out for Mr. Buck.

"The ring of ex-state treasurer-bankers," said Mr. Gregory, "in addition to their financial ability to back the candidate who agrees to perpetuate their hold on the state funds, tries to make the opposition believe it is whipped before the fight begins."

Thorpe Adds Criticism.

Similar utterances were put forth by Byron C. Thorpe, mayor of Berwyn and one of the seven candidates.

"We find a group of ex-state treasurers, all bankers, in one camp," said Mr. Thorpe. "For 25 years, ever since the late John Smulski was treasurer, we have had a self-perpetuating group controlling the treasurership. It's just a continuation of the old régime. The constitution says a treasurer shall serve two years and shall not succeed himself, but as manipulated by the ex-treasurers' ring the office is controlled by a self-perpetuating coterie."

Samuel N. Hunter of East St. Louis, who is running for the treasurership on the slogan "break the chain," blew in from downstate.

"Chain bank control of the state treasurer's office," he said, "with the fury of a hurricane is leveling the two year provision in the state constitution into a tangled mass of débris."

Deneen Cites His Record.

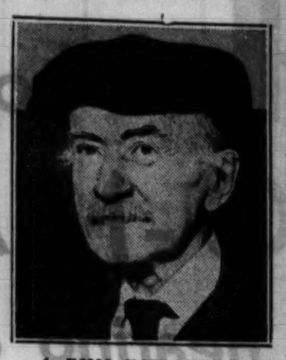
Senator Deneen, in his speech at the Grand Opera house at noon, dwelt on his record on the waterway issues. "It required 12 years of legislation and litigation to make a start towards completing the Illinois waterway," he said, "and it will be a matter of great pride to me should I be able to witness the culmination of the plans which were originated during my first term as governor, 25 years ago. We are the greatest railroad center in the world, the waterway will make us the greatest waterway center in the interior of any continent."

Mrs. McCormick, after cutting her birthday cake today, will go to Wilmette, where she will be entertained at three North Shore teas, and at 7 o'clock Northwestern university students are to form a torchlight parade, recalling the Mark Hanna campaign for McKinley in 1896.

MINNESOTA BANK ROBBED.

Sanborn, Minn., March 26.—(AP)—Two bandits raided the Farmers State bank here this afternoon, intimidated two employes and a customer, and fled with between $4,000 and $5,000.

FOUND DEAD



A. EMIL KJELLBERG.

In a flat at 1257 East 46th street, A. Emil Kjellberg, 85 years old, recluse and herb dealer, was found dead yesterday, apparently from old age and malnutrition, the police said. In his trunk the police found bankbooks indicating deposits of more than $10,000.

Kjellberg was a native of Sweden, educated in Stockholm, and he had been a familiar figure in the neighborhood for years. He is said to have a nephew living in Chicago, but police were unable to learn the latter's name.

ELMORE FASTENS 'JOB SEEKER' TAG ON A. R. BRUNKER

BY PARKE BROWN.

Albert R. Brunker, head of the "Civic Safety commission," was labeled a job seeker yesterday by President Elmore of the sanitary district. On Tuesday Robert M. Adams took exception to Brunker's activities because the full county board ticket of the Republican Business Men's organization was not indorsed by a committee that Brunker brought into existence. Yesterday President Elmore was indignant that the same Brunker committee ignored the Elmore slate of five candidates for the drainage board.

Mr. Elmore issued a public statement that included extracts from a letter written to him by Brunker asking for a place on the sanitary district pay roll for a man to whom President Elmore referred as a "friend" of Brunker's.

"Mr. Brunker is a job seeker himself," declared Elmore. "In my possession is a letter written by Mr. Brunker in August, 1929, in which he asks me to put a friend of his on the sanitary district pay roll because 'he has protected our interests here against all the inroads of people who, as you well know, have to be watched in political activities.'

"In the same letter he farther states: 'I have put in nearly a year and a half of heavy political activity for which I have not received a cent of compensation. I cannot help but feel that I should be entitled to consideration in this case for that reason, if for no other.'

"In other words, Mr. Brunker admits he is in politics and claims that he should be paid for work done by an award of jobs. A postcript on this same letter states, 'We are paying this man $62.50 a week.'"

The correspondence file in this case in President Elmore's office showed that he merely acknowledged receipt of Brunker's letter, referring only to another matter mentioned in it, and that thereupon Brunker wrote another letter, saying in part:

"I am interested in knowing what the situation is on my friend Merritt, about whom I wrote you at that time, and will appreciate any assistance you can give me along this line."

This letter also was merely acknowledged.

Elmore also pointed out that one of the sponsors of the sanitary district ticket indorsed by the Brunker committee is Edward E. Gore, a former president of the Association of Commerce, about whose $75,000 audit of the sanitary district's books Brunker spoke warmly before the City club last year.

FIND MINER HANGED TO TREE.

Harrisburg, Ill., March 26.—[Special.]—The body of Andy Kivish, 45, Harco miner, was found hanging from a tree near his home early today. Tracks in the snow indicated he had attempted to climb other trees near. He had been ill and mourned the recent death of his wife.

CLEAN KIDNEYS BY DRINKING LOTS OF WATER

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders.

ORR INDORSED BY DEMOCRATS OF SCHUYLER CO.

Rushville, Ill., March 26.—[Special.]—The Democratic central committee of Schuyler county at a meeting here last night instructed its delegates to the judicial convention to cast votes in favor of Judge Warren Orr of Carthage, candidate for the Supreme bench from the Fourth district. Schuyler will give ten votes for Judge Orr. Hancock county's twenty-six votes will also go to Orr.

Warren County for Searle.

Rock Island, Ill., March 26.—[Special.]—At a meeting of the Warren county Republican committee at Monmouth today sixty-four delegates were uninstructed as to their vote at the judicial convention which will be held April 10 to select a candidate for justice of the Supreme court from the Fourth judicial district. It is generally conceded that the delegates of Warren county will swing into line for Judge C. J. Searle of Rock Island.

J. P. Kaliff of Aledo was indorsed by the Warren county Democratic committee in the Democratic contest.

WILBUR BOOSTS CROPS LEGGE IS TRYING TO CUT

Public Land Policy and Farm Board Clash.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 26.—[Special.]—While Chairman Alexander Legge of the federal farm board is striving to reduce wheat and other surplus crop acreages, other government agencies will continue to encourage agricultural development in new areas.

Officials of the other agencies, notably the reclamation bureau of the interior department, are forced to go forward with their programs in the hope of recovering the government's money from so-called "revolving funds."

Mr. Legge this week expressed his opposition to the development of new reclamation enterprises and will have the coöperation of interior department officials in so far as proposals to authorize new projects are concerned. But projects already authorized and for which congress is appropriating about $10,000,000 annually for new construction, interior department men will keep going in order not to jeopardize the eventual collection of more than 150 million dollars which is supposed to be repaid to the government.

Point with Pride to Crops.

Although reclamation sponsors seek to minimize total production in connection with a discussion of the agricultural surplus situation, they point with considerable pride to the fact that the value of all crops produced on government irrigated land in the quarter of a century since the passage of the reclamation act has amounted to a billion and one-half dollars. Latest figures show an annual crop value of 143 million dollars, an increase of $10,000,000 over the previous year. Of the total about 5½ per cent represents wheat, which means that the government is furnishing water to produce annually about $8,000,000 worth of the crop which the government farm board is trying to reduce to stabilize prices.

The general land office, another agency of the interior department, also is ready to encourage development of new areas. The latest annual report of the commissioner of the general land office shows the approval of 8,236 homestead entries for patenting.

Misdirected, Says Hyde.

Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde has taken cognizance of the part played by the government in contributing to the present farm surplus situation by its land settlement activities.

"Much of the economic hardship suffered by farmers has been caused by the rapid expansion of the area devoted to farming," said Secretary Hyde in his recent annual report. "Our public land laws and policies have favored expansion. Expansion has been misdirected as well as overstimulated."

Dr. Elwood Mead, commissioner of reclamation, takes issue with the theory that the crops produced on the present government reclamation projects have contributed to any serious degree to surpluses of farm products.

"The crops grown on federal projects in the west have never exerted an injurious influence on the price of staple farm crops," said Dr. Mead. "The area of such crops is too small. The total project cultivated area is only three-tenths of 1 per cent of the nation's cultivated area."

TARIFF COMPROMISE SUGGESTED TO ADD TO ITS FLEXIBILITY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 26.—[Special.]—Ground for a compromise between the President and congress on the flexible provision of the pending tariff bill was suggested today by Senator A. H. Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.] in an open letter to Senator Reed Smoot [Rep., Utah], chairman of the senate finance committee.

Under the Vanderberg plan, similar to that recently proposed by Representative F. M. Davenport [Rep., N. Y.], both the President and congress would have power to revise tariff rates—the President when congress is not in session, with the changes always subject to congressional veto if congress subsequently chooses to act. When congress is in session, under the Vandenberg scheme, it could consider individual rates without opening up a general revision.

FARMERS EXPECT TO PLANT MORE GRAIN THIS YEAR

Washington, D. C., March 26.—(AP)—A 2.8 per cent increase in the acreage of corn this year, a 15 per cent decrease in that of durum wheat, and a .1 per cent increase in the acreage of all other spring wheat, as compared with last year's harvested acreages, were indicted by farmers' intentions on March 1 to plant this spring as announced today by the department of agriculture.

The report, based on returns from about 50,000 farmers, was prepared by the crop reported board, which said it was to furnish information which would enable farmers to make such adjustments in their plans for this year's plantings as may seem desirable. The board said the farmers' intentions to plant are not a forecast of the acreage that actually will be planted, but simply an indication of what farmers had in mind to plant at the time they made their reports, compared with the acreage grown by them last year.

The acreage actually planted may be larger or smaller than these early intention reports indicate, the board said, due to weather conditions, price changes, labor supply, and the effect of the report itself upon producers' action.

Woman Hit by Auto Dies; Cook County Toll Is 202

Miss Anne Buckholz, 45 years old, 5862 Ridge avenue, died yesterday at the Edgewater hospital of injuries received on March 22 when she was struck by an automobile at Bryn Mawr and Broadway. The driver of the car, David Pemberton, colored, 26 years old, 1806 Gray avenue, Evanston, was booked by police for assault with a deadly weapon. This death raised the 1930 Cook county motor toll to 202.

You Meet Septics in the movies!

There is a certain fastidiousness which habits of cleanliness cannot achieve alone. The person you sometimes suspect of carelessness may have bathed within the hour.

If you are a septic, soap and water will not solve the difficulty. Nor will any refreshant neutralize unpleasant vaporings of the body, or the breath for any length of time.

Nobody is septic by nature. It is a condition anyone can correct. Just a few days are sufficient to take the taint out of perspiration, and render one's breath as pure as can be; and this perfect personal cleanliness made permanent. Ask any doctor—or nurse—about Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

You may not know whether you are a septic. Try Stuart's Calcium Wafers, and see! If there is any stagnant matter in the system, everything will speedily be sweet and clean. Your skin will be less acrid; color improved; this colonic correction even brightens eyes and whitens teeth! And you will never need another harsh cathartic from the time you have learned to prevent even semi-constipation by just occasionally taking a tiny calcium wafer.

MAKE THIS TEST

A five-day test should prove to you very conclusively the system's need for Stuart's Calcium Wafers, and the decided benefit from these little wafers. Your druggist has them—the test size for pocket is 10c. Or the family size, 60c.

Here's how OIL-O-MATIC cuts heating cost

MOST any oil burner will assure your family more comfort and better health than coal heating. Most any make has a good motor, fan and controls. There are quality differences, of course, but the important fact is the widely varying operating costs.

Oil-O-Matic—and only Oil-O-Matic—offers you the savings made possible by this patented Williams metering pump. This simple device positively measures exactly the right amount of oil. Each drop of oil is then mechanically atomized and mixed with the proper amount of air. Thus your Oil-O-Matic efficiently burns low cost fuel oil or expensive distillate without adjustment. Government tests show oil heating cost can be reduced as much as 30% by burning economical fuel oil.

Come in today. See the famous Model J Oil-O-Matic which is heating far more homes than any other burner in the world. See the lower priced new Oil-O-Matic Junior which brings medium sized homes the economy of Williams fuel oil heating.

INDIAN MAIDEN'S LOVER TO BLAME HER FOR MURDER

Squaw Who Admits Witch Slaying Testifies.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 26.—[Special.]—From old Nancy Bowen, the Indian squaw who slugged Clothilde Marchand to death with a hammer because she believed her a witch, came a story today that nominated Lila Jimerson, the Red Lilac of the Senecas, for Sing Sing's electric chair.

Tomorrow Henri Machand, the noted artist and sculptor for whose love, the state contends, Red Lilac concocted the weird murder plot, will take the stand and help the state prosecute his Indian sweetheart.

Both Waive Immunity.

Marchand, haggard and worn and palpably afraid, today was brought from the county jail where he is held in $25,000 bail as a material witness, to the court house, where he signed a waiver of immunity. A similar waiver was signed by Nancy, who has been indicted for first degree murder.

The taking of old Nancy's testimony is tedious work, for all of the questions and answers are repeated and translated.

Crazy Chicken the Last Straw.

A chicken went crazy and dashed about among the Indian huts until it finally dropped dead just before Lila and Nancy went on their fatal errand, District Attorney Moore made the squaw admit. This is an Indian omen of disaster, and the witness shuddered slightly at the recollection.

"Lila tell me that chicken going crazy means that me, and her father Anson Jimerson, and her aunt, Ann Snow, will die unless I hurry and kill the witch," she said.

"Did Lila give the chicken any whisky at this time?" Moore asked, intent on showing that Red Lilac, in addition to a ouija board, a ventriloquistic trick, a fictitious spirit medium and other props, used the chicken as an aid in the murder plot.

"I cannot tell if she did," Nancy replied.

The Radio Explained.

Describing the slaying, Nancy said: "We no talk. The witch turn knobs on the radio. Then she go upstairs and I take out the hammer and hide it under my dress. The witch come down and go to radio again. I go near her. I never see a radio before so the witch tell me how it's done."

"I ask if she keeps company with Indian witches, and she say 'yes.' I ask her if she kill my husband, Sassafras Charlie, and she say she did.

"I take out hammer. She is bending down. If she say she was not a witch I would have gone out. But I know then she controls the evil spirts, and I hit her over the head—once—twice—and the head come off hammer.

"I go wash bloody hands in sink and I go out and meet Lila at trolley station, and we go back to reservation."

Brother of Poland's Boss Agrees to Form Cabinet

WARSAW, Poland, March 26.—(AP)—Jan Pilsudski, brother of Marshal Pilsudski, and a member of the government bloc in the coalition, today agreed to form a cabinet. Marshal Pilsudski is generally recognized as dictator of Poland.

RED KIDNAPING CLEWS INCREASE ANGER OF FRANCE

BY JAY ALLEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 26.—Reports from Berlin tonight stating that Gen. Alexander Koutiepoff, White Russian leader, was taken from France by the soviet ship Spartak after being kidnaped in Paris, imprisoned in the Loubianka prison in Moscow, and recently transferred to an abandoned monastery at Suzdal, 150 miles east of Moscow, tend to confirm Paris police theories regarding the general's abduction. These reports have also intensified the popular demand for a showdown with soviet Russia.

Antwerp dispatches say the Spartak arrived there Jan. 28 from Havre. The ship left Havre Jan. 25, the eve of Gen. Koutiepoff's disappearance.

Missed Interview, Report.

The Berlin report says a soviet journalist was told Gen. Koutiepoff was imprisoned in the Loubianka prison, but was removed from there the day before the writer was supposed to have been allowed to interview him.

The communist Humanite, which has been ignoring the Koutiepoff stories, now asserts Gen. Koutiepoff was really kidnaped by the British intelligence service at the request of Henri Deterding, the oil king.

Despite vigorous protests by Russia, the French government is making no effort to muzzle attacks against Moscow by Nationalist papers.

Calls Protest Mass Meeting.

A mass meeting has been called by the paper, La Liberte, to be held at Salle Wagram Monday, to protest the alleged kidnaping. This meeting will meet with no interference by the government. Premier Tardieu announced today that he will send extra police to guard the hall.

It was learned today that Foreign Minister Briand's talk with Russian Ambassador Dovgalevsky yesterday was anything but a friendly chat. Further proof of the Franco-Russian coolness developed last night at the annual ball, given by the president of the French senate, when Dovgalevsky was the only diplomat absent.

Italian Merchant Marine Budget Increased $300,000

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, March 26.—An increase of about $300,000 in the Italian mercantile marine budget expenditures was called for today in the report of the minister of communications to the chamber, the budget being fixed at $16,100,000. The Italian merchant marine is growing steadily and amounts to 2,700,000 tons, which is nearly equal to that of France.

U. S. CAN'T PAY BONUS AT ONCE, MELLON SAYS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 26.—[Special.]—Proposals to pay world war veterans a portion of the face value of their adjusted compensation certificates in cash received a virtual death blow today in a letter from Secretary of the Treasury Mellon to Representative W. C. Hawley [Rep., Ore.], chairman of the house ways and means committee.

Under a bill fathered by Representative J. J. Cochran [Dem., Mo.] the 635 million dollars now held to the credit of the adjusted compensation fund would be made available for the payment to certificate holders of 25 per cent of the face value of the certificates.

In his letter Secretary Mellon pointed out that the Cochran proposal is based on the false assumption that all of the 635 million dollar reserve is immediately available.

The fact is that in order to finance the scheme it would be necessary for congress to increase taxes or authorize a bond issue for the purpose, he wrote, thereby increasing the public debt with "a consequent disruption of the orderly program upon which the government is proceeding."

DIES FOLLOWING INJURIES.

Charged with Laziness—

Guilty Simply of Acidity!

More than one man today is misjudged and unjustly penalized because of a not understood physical condition rather than any lack of willingness or ability.

So many of us are only half ourselves, only fifty per cent efficient, because we are victims of an insidious condition of acidity! That persistent tired feeling—that clouded mind—that lack of dash and fire—that missing punch that decides so many situations in business—are all usually due to an acid system.

Acidity is brought on by our unnatural eating, excessive smoking and irregular hours. It impairs digestion and causes fermentation and putrefaction in the intestines and drags us down physically and mentally.

A remarkable new corrective of acidity has been developed by a famous 100-year-old pharmaceutical house in Germany.

This new, improved magnesia comes in the form of small white tablets called Magnesia Oxoids which do not have to be chewed, but may be swallowed whole.

Magnesia Oxoids, upon contact with the acid in the stomach, generate nascent, or active, oxygen. Now, active oxygen, as any doctor will tell you, when generated within the digestive tract does just the things required for acidity. It stimulates the secretion of the alkaline mucus. It checks the putrefaction and fermentation in the gastro-intestinal canal. It exercises a stimulating effect upon the activities of the intestinal walls and aids the movements of the bowels.

All three effects are necessary to the true relief of acidity, and Magnesia Oxoids supply them in a perfectly natural manner.

5-Day Acidity Test

See for yourself how much acid has to do with your run-down condition and that persistent feeling of tiredness. Make this 5-day acid test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxoids from Economical drug stores and Walgreen drug stores or any other druggist on our money-back guarantee. Take two after each meal for five days. Note the pick-up in your pep and vigor. Mark the peace of your stomach and nerves. If five days' test doesn't show you a decided improvement in your health, return the balance of the Oxoids to your druggist and he will refund your money.

"CONDEMNING SHADOWS"

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—you men who would keep that trim, proper form, eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the lithe, youthful, modern figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate!... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

EVERYWOMAN regards GOOD HOUSEKEEPING as a pioneer influence.

It has led since 1885 in stimulating her to successful achievements; in giving her the knowledge by which she could attain charm and comfort and efficiency.

It was the first magazine to assemble authorities to show her how Science and Invention could become her servants.

It was the first to create a laboratory—GOOD HOUSEKEEPING Institute—in which household devices and cookery could be scientifically tested.

It created the only Bureau of Foods, Sanitation and Health, to test foods, cosmetics and drug products—so that her dining table, dressing table, and medicine cabinet could be protected.

Its Studio of Furnishings and Decorations with its monthly exhibits of rooms showing artistic American-made furnishings, has been a leader in inspiring Everywoman to live in surroundings of taste and beauty.

Its Fashion Service has won prestige because of the swiftness and authority with which it translates the dictates of Paris to meet the practical needs of style-minded women in every American locality.

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING was the first to teach Everywoman the importance of good merchandise in the needs of her person, her children, her home; the first to guarantee for her products accepted for advertising.

Today, to an unparalleled degree, it devotes talent, brains, and money to enable it to guide with supreme authority the woman of 1930 and 1935.

What is the result of this long, progressive, unfailingly accurate and helpful service? The result is that GOOD HOUSEKEEPING has created good will and won prestige among American families to an extent that makes it conspicuous among magazines.

Everywoman's faith in GOOD HOUSEKEEPING becomes active patronage for advertisers whose goods are worthy to be advertised in GOOD HOUSEKEEPING.

THE SENATORSHIP.

At the coming primary to be held through the state of Illinois on Tuesday, April 8, nominations will be made by the parties for one United States senatorship. The candidates who aspire to this high honor and responsibility are the incumbent, Senator Charles S. Deneen; Congressman at Large Ruth Hanna McCormick, Mr. Newton Jenkins, Mr. Adelbert McPherson, and Mr. Abe Lincoln Wisler, seeking the Republican nomination, and former United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis, Mr. Harold M. Beach, Mr. James H. Kirby, Mr. James O. Monroe, and Mr. Louis Warner, seeking the Democratic nomination.

In the Democratic contest the outstanding candidate is former Senator Lewis, who is virtually assured the nomination. In the Republican primary there is a real contest, but it lies between only two of the candidates, Senator Deneen and Congressman at Large Ruth McCormick. The other candidacies are of importance only as they may affect the choice between the two leading contenders.

In the duty of choosing wisely and well for this responsible and powerful office every good citizen must and will be seriously interested. All three of the outstanding candidates, Senator Deneen, Congressman at Large McCormick, in the Republican primary, and former Senator Lewis, in the Democratic, have conspicuous public records and are making a vigorous campaign upon important issues. These issues are familiar to all readers of THE TRIBUNE editorials and they will be discussed during the campaign and thereafter while they remain undetermined in our public affairs. As to the candidates, it should be said for the information of such as may not be otherwise informed that Congressman at Large McCormick is the widow of the late Senator Medill McCormick, brother of Robert R. McCormick, editor of THE TRIBUNE. The editor of THE TRIBUNE, therefore, not unnaturally wishes Mrs. McCormick well on personal grounds. However, the editorship of THE TRIBUNE is not a personal matter. Such of the public as does not confine itself to one newspaper and therefore has a basis of comparison, will concede that in this campaign the real contenders have received the fairest treatment and the fullest opportunity to present their essential views in the columns of THE TRIBUNE. This fulfills the duty of a newspaper to its readers. As to the issues raised by the candidates and their claims to nomination and election, THE TRIBUNE will express its opinions and convictions. The public may judge whether they are the same opinions and convictions expressed during other campaigns and between campaigns.

PROHIBITION SHOCK.

Dr. Stewart Paton, distinguished psychiatrist, who gave his opinion upon prohibition before the senate committee, contributes to Science News-Letter of March 15 an illuminating analysis of prohibition, its cause and consequences. Dr. Paton, as a scientific student of the human mind and behavior, considers the 18th amendment a serious menace to temperance and sanity — an opinion which the lay observer of events since 1919 can verify from his own experience. The amendment, Dr. Paton points out, "expresses the emotional and mental attitude toward life and its problems that is characteristic not of the people whom we recognize as temperate and sane but of the unfortunates popularly described as insane and criminal. . . . One of the distinguishing features of a sane person is that he has a reasonable amount of confidence in his ability to follow a sane, constructive course of action whenever he is confronted by a difficult or embarrassing situation. When the insane or criminal is confronted by a difficult situation he begins to think of the things that he should not or must not do. The attention is focused largely on the prohibiting complex, and the result is that the drive of the impulse to do what is insane or criminal is intensified. The hysterical interest taken in the subject of getting rid of alcohol as a beverage has had the effect of increasing the intensity and duration of the desire of a great many Americans to drink. . . .

"Fortunately the people in the country who are intrusted with the education of young people have not adopted the same attitude toward their pupils that the American government has adopted towards its citizens. The government has told the world that it has not any confidence in the ability of the American citizen to lead a sane and temperate life. If the school teachers of the country exhibited a similar degree of distrust in their pupils' ability and wish to be temperate and sane the results would be disastrous."

One of the most deplorable results of prohibition, Dr. Paton points out, is that it has diverted our attention from the study of the underlying causes of intemperance, insanity and criminality. This effect is, of course, irrelevant in prohibition logic because the latter puts the cart before the horse, the consequence before the cause. Prohibition is founded on the delusion that if the consequence is forbidden the cause will be cured.

On this phase of the prohibition experiment Dr. Paton says that "the prohibitive attitude of mind has closed our eyes to the fact that intemperance and insanity in many cases are the result of our unpreparedness as a people to enjoy leisure and upon our frantic, breakneck efforts to violate the speed laws that should govern the rate at which the human machine is driven." Instead of subjecting intemperance to a profound study and approaching the difficult problem of control with care and informed deliberation, we embarked upon an intemperate campaign to misdirect human energy, and its result Dr. Paton diagnoses as "prohibition shock." The emotional and mental disorders that were collectively described as shell shock in the late war threatened at one time to interfere seriously with the fighting efficiency of armies, and prohibition shock now interferes with attempts we make to adjust our lives on a temperate, sane and reasonable basis.

MR. MAC DONALD HERE AND AT HOME.

Mr. MacDonald in Washington was one man. Mr. MacDonald in London is another. In Washington the British premier asked to keep only his shirt. In London he is in a suit of the best medieval armor to be found in the tower. When he and President Hoover sat on the Rapidan log the United States could have all the parity and the kind of parity it wanted. That log ought to be preserved as a national relic. The spirit of the Rapidan did not survive the sea voyage.

In conference Mr. MacDonald is not the visitor in the Virginia woods, but the American delegates are lost in an impenetrable forest and Mr. MacDonald must take the chief responsibility for the failure to reach an agreement which would be satisfactory because protective of American interests.

The British prime minister from the first has been too good a bargainer. He has traded too well for his own good. He brought the American cruiser demand down from twenty-one to fifteen. He put aside the American bid for a Rodney type battleship as unthinkable. It seems to remain unthinkable that the United States should be allowed one ship of such power to check off against two in the British navy. He insists on retaining the English naval bases near our shores.

This may be shrewd trading, but it is not good negotiating. It would not be good if it succeeded because it would leave ill will with the people who had been outtraded. It is quite possible that the Japanese in increasing their demands have been inspired by the intransigeance of Mr. MacDonald. If the amiable stubbornness of the British premier does not wreck the conference it is apparent that for American security it should.

The Italian and French controversy is not half so inimical to the success of the conference as is the attitude of Mr. MacDonald.

ILLINOIS WATCHES AND CLOCKS.

The tariff bill as it passed the senate carried lower duties on watches and clocks. These are manufactures in which Illinois is specially interested. More than a third of the country's pay roll in this industry is in this state. It is not maintained at full production now because of foreign competition to which some of its unemployment is attributed. Watch parts are imported and assembled in the east, and to this competition is added, of course, the watches and clocks made by cheaper labor abroad.

The Illinois senators presented the facts to the senate, but got nowhere in the argument. Log rolling was effective for other products of value to other states, but Illinois gained nothing in the trade of votes. It is unreasonable to lower tariff rates affecting an American industry which even now is unable to use its plants at capacity and give its workers full employment.

PAYING FOR RUTHLESSNESS.

The treasury department has withdrawn its objection to the pensioning of a youth shot by a dry agent seven years ago and paralyzed at the age of eighteen. The bill, which provides a pension of $150 a month, should be passed without further delay. It is little enough compensation for a life crippled at the threshold and to be lived out in a wheel chair. If the government not only permits but encourages its agents to use the tactics practiced by the dry enforcement bureau there is a direct public responsibility for results which congress should recognize. Dry enforcement has been directed by a high official always selected or approved by organized fanaticism. It has adopted and justified methods which have become a flagrant scandal, setting precedents in lawlessness, disregard of private right and inhumanity. Congress has condoned this evil too long. Where Americans have suffered through the ruthlessness and unjustifiable violence of officials it is the duty of the nation to give such compensation as can be had and to give it promptly, not as in this case tardily and grudgingly.

Editorial of the Day

CHICAGO POINTS WITH PRIDE.

[Illinois State Journal, Springfield.]

Chicago, ever on the griddle, gathers a meed of comfort from the fact that her motor accident toll for 1929 showed a reduction from that of 1928. Of fourteen cities with a population of 500,000 or more, only four showed a decrease in deaths from automobile accidents.

Chicago's toll, despite the reduction, was second highest in the list of fourteen cities, being exceeded only by Cleveland.

The city on the lake is a large and bustling metropolis. The second largest city in the country and the hub of a trading area of extended radius, her streets are crowded with automobiles from out of town.

Despite this volume of visiting traffic, despite delays occasioned by the lifting of the numerous bridges across the Chicago river to allow a barge bearing an empty freight car to be towed leisurely from here to there, Chicago's traffic system functions. The building of wide boulevards and drives to tap congested areas eases the flow of downtown traffic. Public officials of other large cities, even New York, visit Chicago to see how the traffic problem is handled.

Chicago patrolmen submit to a lot of criticism because of the unhampered activities of the gangsters and racketeers, but automobile drivers have a lot of respect for a Chicago traffic cop.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

DIGGING OUT OF A LARGE FAT SNOWDRIFT—

the first thing that struck our eye yesterday was a story from Washington that Joe Nutt of Cleveland was being touted by many important people for chairman of the Republican national committee. The job is now held (in a manner of speaking) by Claudius H. Huston of Tennessee, but the boys down in Washington don't seem to have much love and regard for Claudius and are saying that national chairman is the very job for Joe Nutt. Well, if there's anything in a name, Mr. Nutt should be pretty popular. He's got a big following in this country. If they keep on putting over freak legislation in this country Mr. Nutt ought to be President. There's enough votes to elect him hands down.

And then we looked around for some more interesting news, but there wasn't anything but snow drifts and stalled cars and icebergs and more snow, and everybody saying to everybody else, "Oh, I had the most horrible time getting home last night. I waited three hours in the middle of the street trying to get a cab, and then I walked to the Union station, and——" Wait, we said everybody said that. No, we are wrong—some people said they walked to the Northwestern station, and some walked to the Illinois Central. But you know what we mean!

We couldn't get anything out of the papers or out of people except what a horrible storm it was and how Minnie and her husband got caught in a big drift on the Midway, and how Laura was out shopping with ma, and they started home, and—oh gosh! Laura lost ma. We gave up. Laura's ma may be lost yet, but we should worry. We had to walk home again last night and we had trouble enough of our own.

OBITER.

I sing my songs for my own delight,
And if you will praise them then so let it be,
And if you will blame them then blame them you must,
And never a difference it makes to me.

Rate them low or a little above,
Or toss them away from you breezily;
I take my songs as I take my love,

DOROTHY R. KISSLING.

ALL DAY LONG yesterday, as on the day before, when the storm started, we just knew it was going to happen. We hoped and feared and prayed that the snow, the blizzard, and the cold would save us. That the mail man wouldn't be able to get through the drifts. But, no! The bellhop brought up the last mail, and there it was, right on top. "Just been swimming in the ocean, now drinking gin fizzes out under the trees. Florida is wonderful! Wish you were here." We seized the post card and tore it into a thousand pieces, and with a maddened scream picked up the andirons and started for the bellhop. Too late, he was gone.

AND THIRTY DAYS HATH SEPTEMBER, ETC., ETC., ETC.

The headlines declare that Washington has ordered our naval parley delegates not to sign a pact binding the U. S. of A. to send ships and armies to help out any of the other nations if they happen to get mixed up in a war. If our delegates had to be ordered by Washington in regard to this open and shut proposition it would perhaps be well for Washington to instruct 'em what fork they should use in eating pie, not to drink from the soup bowl, and that 2 and 2 added together usually makes 4. Also that the sun rises in the east and sets in the west, that it is colder in winter than in summer, and that our todays and yesterdays are the blocks with which we build.

It Was Really Smart of Pocahontas.

Powhatan, the highly advertised Indian chief, stood within his deerskin bungalow an' glared furiously at his daughter Pocahontas. Poor little Pocahontas, crying as though her heart would bust, was huddled up on a rug in a corner of the wigwam. Señor Powhatan was all het up, an' don't let any misinformed historian slip you a paragraph to the contrary.

"Smith," wails his daughter. "John Smith."

"Me not know," wept Pocahontas.

"No? Well, me findum," sneered the chief, and he consulted the telephone directory.

Har, har! Oh, dear reader, have you ever hunted for a John Smith in the telephone directory? Tsk, tsk!

"Oh, for gawd's sake," moaned Powhatan, hanging his shotgun back on the wall.

INDIANS AND CANCER.

An investigation of cancer among North American Indians, made by Dr. B. J. Lee, throws some light on methods of cancer prevention among other peoples. It agrees with Dr. Hoffman and several others that cancer is found occasionally but not often among full blooded Indians. When an Indian is found to have cancer—and this happens at long intervals—the probability is that the sick person will be found to be of mixed blood.

For the rareness of the disease among pure Indians some explanations are offered, though much remains unknown. First, Indians are secretive, they are not disposed to seek medical or surgical advice, and they move about and are not under continuous observation.

Second, they die young. The majority of them do not live long enough to reach the cancer age.

And then follow a group of suggested explanations, some of which other peoples may take notice of.

Cancer of the lips and tongue is rare among Indians. Three of the five causes of mouth cancer are not in great evidence among them. As compared with other peoples they are not heavy smokers. Venereal disease is rare among them. They have but little dental work done and few of them wear plates or have crowns or bridges. As a rule, their teeth are better than those of white people.

The women have few cancers of the breast. They nurse their babies for a long time and this helps to protect them against breast cancer. They are less liable to constipation and this helps to protect them against hemorrhoids. In turn, this serves to protect them from developing rectal troubles. Dr. Lee thinks the presence of pigment in the skin helps to protect them against skin cancer, which is often the result of wind and sun tanning. Possibly they are not subject to cancer of the stomach because of their foods and food habits. The Indian is a light eater. His food is not eaten hot nor does he drink or eat iced foods. His meat is sun cured and requires a good deal of chewing. He puts but little salt on his food. He rarely gets any whisky to drink.

MAN AND HORSE DIET.

E. G. writes: How is it that the horse lives almost entirely on oats? Would man get the same benefits by eating oatmeal slightly cooked?

REPLY.

In addition to oats, horses eat hay and grass. A horse is a grass and grain eating animal and is built that way. Man is built for a mixed diet.

Otherwise you are right.

DISORDER CAN BE OUTGROWN.

R. E. B. writes: What can I do for a boy, 6 years of age, who is subject to frequent nosebleeds?

REPLY.

As a rule it is not necessary to do anything except to stop the bleeding by compressing the nostrils. A youthful tendency to nose bleed is one disorder that is "outgrown." When anything is done, the tonsils and adenoids are removed and the bleeding point in the nose is cauterised.

PROBABLY NOT HARMFUL.

M. Y. writes:

1. Is it harmful to work in a raw fur skin establishment?
2. Does the odor have any effect?

REPLY.

1. I think not. I know of no poisonous chemicals used in such establishments. 2. No. Dr. Benjamin Rush thought such odors caused yellow fever, but that was a long time ago, and though Dr. Rush was right as a statesman, as an expert on yellow fever he was wrong.

WATER PROBABLY NOT CAUSE.

Mrs. L. writes: For over 20 years I drank soft water. A little over a year ago we moved and now have hard water. Would this cause constipation? What is a cure?

REPLY.

I don't think that is the cause. To overcome the habit eat sour milks, lactose, vegetables, fruits, bran, and flaxseed.

BEST TIME FOR MILK.

M. L. writes: When is the best time to drink milk for one who wishes to gain weight? I am 15 years old.

REPLY.

The best time is just before going to bed at night and just before your afternoon nap. The best combination is a bowl of milk and crackers, though sugared rice is a good substitute for crackers.

WENDELL PHILLIPS HIGH SCHOOL.

Chicago, March 18.—[Friend of the People.]—Last week a steam shovel was preparing to dig in the ground for the new Wendell Phillips school. A day later it left. When will this school be started? O. J. H.

The construction of the Wendell Phillips High school to be erected at 49th and State streets was recommended in 1929. However, when bids were received it was discovered that they totaled an almost prohibitively high amount, therefore it was necessary to revise the plans to some extent. These plans are now undergoing revision in the bureau of architecture and when completed new bids will be asked for.

DON C. ROGERS, Director,
Bureau of Building Survey.

WHEN PURCHASING REAL ESTATE.

Chicago, March 22.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I bought an Indiana lot from a Chicago company. The lot is now paid for and the deed has been sent me. What procedure is now necessary in order to be sure that I have clear title to the property? F. I. N.

It is nearly always advisable for a purchaser of real estate to employ an attorney throughout and we advise you to employ one now.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

CANCELLATION OF REAL ESTATE CONTRACT.

Chicago, March 23.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—If one has equity in property bought on the installment plan—i. e., under contract—1. If he moves out, does that cancel the contract? 2. Does he lose his entire equity? 3. Is he liable for further payments? L. C. M.

1. Depends on the wording of the contract. 2. Courts are ordinarily reluctant to enforce such forfeitures. 3. It seems probable that the contract is so worded that he would remain liable.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

GARAGE REQUIREMENTS.

Chicago, March 24.—[Friend of the People.]—I would like to build a garage behind my frame house with only the wall against the house fireproof. Must I build a brick garage? F. J. U.

The above inquirer is advised that the city ordinances provide that a garage adjoining a frame building must be constructed entirely of brick, with eight inch walls. It must also have a reinforced concrete roof, and it is further provided in the ordinance that there shall be no openings between the frame building and the garage.

CHRISTIAN P. PASCHEN,
Commissioner of Buildings.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 27, 1865.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—An enormous story of the voluntary surrender by companies and regiments of the whole right wing of Lee's army, fortified with such names as Halleck and Fargragut for authority, kept the capital agog with excitement over Sunday, but the war department did not have the news.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Gen. Singleton on his return from his speculative mission to Richmond ridiculed the renewal of peace rumors. He is very certain that neither Gen. Lee nor Jeff Davis has any intention of submitting.

NEW YORK.—The morning papers contain nothing new concerning the engagement on the front of the Army of the Potomac on March 25, in which the rebel attacks on Forts Stedman and Haskell were repulsed with heavy losses.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Richmond Examiner of the 24th says: "Events are about to happen which, if we only sustain the war with energy for another campaign, will surely bring us our reward in the independence of our country. A war between France and the United States has become plainly inevitable."

CHICAGO.—Miss Mary E. Hart of Chicago and Capt. John W. Ellsman of the United States hospital at Memphis were married at Centralia on March 22 by the Rev. C. F. Beach.

CHICAGO.—The Young Men's association elected the following officers: President, George M. Kimbark; vice president, C. H. Cram and T. W. Baxter; recording secretary, E. F. Gurton; corresponding secretary, E. S. Brown; treasurer, J. O. Rutter; managers, the Rev. Robert Collyer, G. P. McBride, E. P. Hall, E. J. Warner, G. H. Wheeler, George Taylor, and J. A. Cowes.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 27, 1900.

WASHINGTON.—At last the Porto Rican question is settled. A compromise has been agreed upon and the Republicans are harmonious once more. The duty on all goods sent from the United States to Porto Rico is to be 15 per cent except on foodstuffs and the necessities of life. On goods sent from Porto Rico to the United States the duty is to be 15 per cent, with the full Dingley bill rates on goods sent to other countries. It is practically the compromise suggested by President McKinley.

LONDON.—An expedition of 5,000 mounted troops left Kimberley to attack the Boer forces which for some time have been concentrating at Griquatown. As soon as the Boers are dispersed there the column intends to swing northward to join the army now at Warrenton and advance toward Mafeking.

CINCINNATI.—Rabbi Isaac M. Wise, the eminent Jewish divine, died at his home here from old age. He was nearly 81 years old. For 51 years he was in charge of B'nai Jeshurum congregation here. With his brother-in-law, Edward Bloch, in 1854 he founded the American Israelite, now the oldest Jewish newspaper in the United States. His chief claim for greatness was the founding of the Hebrew Union college.

CHICAGO.—Miss Adele Stein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Stein, 369 Ashland boulevard, and Dr. Joseph C. Beck were married at Kinsley's.

CHICAGO.—The wedding of Miss Sarah Brown, daughter of George Brown of Brooklyn, and Stanley Field will take place on April 17. Miss Brown is a sister of Mrs. Walter Keith, 1904 Prairie avenue.

CHICAGO.—A marriage license was issued to John M. Dowie, 73, father of John Alexander Dowie, overseer of the Christian Catholic church, and Mrs. Elizabeth J. North, 65, a member of Dowie's church and an inmate of the Dowie home.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 27, 1920.

BURLINGTON, Ia.—An attempt was made to wreck Burlington express train No. 5, out of Chicago, near Neponset, Ill. The train carried an express shipment of $150,000. Railroad officials, acting on information that a holdup was planned, switched the train to the eastbound track, and it swept past a pile of ties on the westbound track.

CHICAGO.—Plans to curb the high rents by enabling 5,000 tenants to build permanent two flat buildings through a civic loan association were made public at a meeting of the Chicago Real Estate board's committee of fifteen. Fifteen million dollars will be subscribed to the corporation by public spirited citizens.

NOVOROSSISK, Russia.—Gen. Denikine, commander of the anti-bolshevik forces in south Russia, has asked the British for boats to transport 40,000 soldiers. The bolsheviki are reported within 30 miles of Novorossisk. Denikine's volunteer army has completely collapsed.

WARSAW.—Bolshevik forces attempting to break the Polish right wing on the Podolian front have captured several villages along the Stutch river. Fighting is proceeding over a front of approximately 250 miles.

LONDON.—Allan Bell, 70 years old, the Dublin magistrate who investigated the recent attempt on the life of Viscount French, lord lieutenant of Ireland, was dragged by a gang from a crowded tramcar in Dublin and shot to death before the eyes of the passengers. The assassins fled. Thirty-five prominent Sinn Feiners were arrested later, in the hope of finding the slayers.

FOR A NEW PARTY.

Chicago, March 24.—The Republican elephant has turned chameleon! A little bit of international pink here; a dab of world-wide financial green there; a touch of maternalistic baby blue over here; a ribbon of concrete road cream over there; a few shocks of wheat tan on the trunk; the parched dry brown of the camel along the back where the driver is perched; the bray and the gray of the jackass about the mouth and ears, and a few remaining spots of the vaunted lily-pure white of Barnum's elephant to hold the allegiance of the sucker majority. Wherever this elephant goes it suits its color to the local surroundings. In Chicago it has all the shades of the rainbow. How unnatural this elephant has grown to be! To save it is hopeless; to let it die sublime!

Here's to the birth of a new party for all friends of American freedom. A party which will stanchly defend the individual in all his rights as stated in the bill of rights (without which there would have been no federal government); a party with the American eagle as its symbol, the olive branch of peace in one claw for friendly nations who wish peace, and a real army, navy, marine corps, and aviation corps in the other claw to defend us against those who do not sincerely want peace; a real eagle with its wings spread out to protect all who live within them and who believe in regaining for ourselves and our children true American freedom, "lest it perish from the earth."

E. J. A.

WHAT IS A WARD COMMITTEEMAN?

Chicago, March 24.—I notice that among the offices to be filled in the April election is that of ward committeeman. My knowledge of our civic government is sadly meager and I must confess that I do not know what the legal duties of a ward committeeman are. Can some of your readers inform me? Some of my friends whom I have asked about it seem to have the idea that the title is merely a glorified legal name for the good old fashioned but unofficial position of ward heeler. In other words, the valued activities of the ward heeler have been given legal recognition by the politicians who make our laws, and although the office provides no salary for the holder, it is one, nevertheless, which can be made quite powerful and sometimes lucrative to a pleasing degree. At any rate, when I go to the polls I like to know who and what I am voting for and information as to the legal duties of a ward committeeman would really be appreciated.

DUMB CITIZEN.

SUPREME COURT APPOINTMENTS.

Chicago, March 24.—From early boyhood I have been schooled to believe that in the selection of members of the United States Supreme court all questions of party, patronage, and geography were ignored and that the President reached out for the outstanding eligible justice to fill this all important post.

It is self-evident that in nominating Judge Parker, President Hoover considered first his own political fortune. He has made a frowning bid for the support of the south. Weak though his position is, it is certain that he is grooming himself for a second term.

With the exception of certain sitting judges on the Supreme bench, the most prominent figure on our judicial horizon is Benjamin N. Cardozo, chief justice of the Court of Appeals of New York. It is baffling to learn that the President passed him by in favor of John J. Parker of North Carolina.

DRY LOGIC.

Chicago, March 25.—The writer in the Voice of the People who cautiously signed himself "A Traveler" after his letter on "In Daniels' State" appears to have a sufficient sense of humor, but little sense of anything else.

He boasts of his violating the law in drinking liquor in nine places while in a North Carolina town for one week. Permitting these speakeasies to exist does not speak well for that town, nor does Traveler's patronising such dumps speak well for his sense of self-respect and respect for American laws and ideals. Only an ignoramus will wantonly violate the law and boast about it.

LAWRENCE N. JOHNSON.

NEGLECTED OPPORTUNITIES.

Chicago, March 24.—It is an outrage that the city of Chicago is not at work today creating the great industrial harbor in the Calumet region. That is exactly the kind of operation that should be reserved for times like these, when thousands of men are walking the streets for lack of jobs. The harbor is an absolute necessity for Chicago. Without it we will never be able to take full advantage of our great opportunities in transportation by lake, rail, and barge. It will have to be built within a few years, and it ought to be started now, so that it will be completed by the time the Illinois waterway begins to function.

The fact that Lake Calumet is today in exactly the condition it was at the time of the Dearborn massacre is a sorry reflection upon our present city administration; but for that matter so is the failure of the city to force an agreement upon a street car reorganization. The building of Chicago's subway will provide thousands of jobs. It will keep the steel mills, the cement mills, and many other activities going at a time when orders are scanty. Incidentally, prices never again will be as low as they are today. J. D. C.

THE OLD AND NEW STOCKS.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 25.—What has become of the true blue, Indian blooded Americans? Dead easy to answer: The old stock that did such yeoman service in laying the foundation for the greatest nation the world has ever known laid down their cross and passed on forever. Their children stepped into their shoes and carried on nobly until they became imbued with the idea that work was a disgrace, and idleness and uselessness the proper thing, later adding vice and dissipation to their accomplishments. Then came the greatest curses of all, easy money, easy divorce laws, and easy birth control. Small and neglected families, disrupted by divorce, until now there are thousands of parents who would probably be unable to recognize their own children if they were to meet them.

The younger generations have dwindled numerically, and, in many instances, in quality to such an extent that there is no one else to carry on except the better class of foreign born, or native born of foreign parentage. They have helped to build the country and are helping to maintain it, so we should, I believe, be very considerate of the honest immigrant seeking admission to our country. But we should deal very sternly with those who have been admitted and proved themselves unworthy. Rather than keeping out the good people, let us use every effort in ridding the country of undesirables by deportation of those who have proven themselves so and have failed to declare their intentions by becoming naturalized. They should be weeded out, no matter what their station in life may be. A. E. J.

WHAT JOHN ADAMS SAID.

Waukesha, Wis., March 24.—You are to be commended for your fight for our basic rights both here and abroad. As to the latter the following quotation is pertinent:

"Peace was, meanwhile, on the point of being concluded in Paris—and without France—between England and the United States. As a diplomatic maneuver, or through the insinuations of the agents of England, the American negotiators professed to have conceived suspicions respecting the disinterestedness of France. 'You are afraid,' said Mr. Oswald to John Adams, 'of being made the tools of the powers of Europe?' 'Indeed I am,' was the reply. 'What powers?' asked the Englishman. 'All of them,' said Adams."

This is from Guizot's "History of England," volume IV.

J. H. A. LACHER.

ALE, PORTER, AND TRACTORS.

Chicago, March 24.—Henry Ford's shipments to the U. S. A. of tractors built in his factory in Ireland seems somewhat inconsistent in view of his recent utterances concerning the prohibition question. His Irish workers can have their glass of ale or porter, or a snifter of something stronger when they feel like it, and Mr. Ford evidently does not believe the product of their labor to be inferior to that originating in a country blessed with the prohibition law. Mae Tinee Gives Closeup of Motion Picture World

The Ace of Spades

By WILLIAM MACLEOD RAINE

SYNOPSIS.

Ellen, accompanied by Sim Hart, is sent out with a herd of cattle to fulfill a promise made by his father Chandler Rutledge. On the trail they are overtaken by some men of the Moss outfit, enemies of Rutledge. The Moss men start a stampede and run off some of the Rutledge cattle. Jim recovers them, but in doing so shoots and kills one of the Moss raiders. The men of the Moss outfit swear to be revenged for the man Jim slew. Jim takes refuge in a ranch house where he finds Ellen already in the house. She hides him when the Moss gang comes to the house looking for him, and sends them off on another trail, even though she learns that he killed her brother. Jim rides on into the town after saving Ellen from the unwelcome attentions of Pete Moss. Shear, the town marshal, threatens to arrest him for the killing, but Harrison Pendleton, an old trail driver, arrives on the scene and saves him from arrest. Shortly afterwards Shear kills Doc Brown, who he had threatened his life. This causes a great deal of excitement in the little cattle town. Jim goes into the local gambling den and is astonished to find Ellen Lawson there. She tells him she has come to speak to her brother Steve. Jim guides her to where he is sitting in a poker game with Shear, Buck Roe and others. As they reach the table the lights go out, and when the room is again lighted Shear is found crumpled in his chair with Jim's knife in him. Ellen's right hand is covered with blood. She has apparently parted from Jim in the dark and some one had jostled her. In putting out her hand for support she had touched the crumpled figure. Jim and Ellen are arrested by the sheriff, Manders, and Jim is arrested, but is later released. Jim is warned to find the murderer to clear himself. Ellen arranges a meeting to warn him of the danger. Jim learns that Moss is trying to force her to marry his son Pete, and Jim learns that Moss is trying to force her to marry his son Pete, and she consents that she marry him and they are quietly married. He goes about his business and is led into a trap by the Moss gang. Old Dave Moss tells him he has killed his son. Chandler Rutledge comes to town and when Ellen tells him Jim has gone home he and Pendleton decide to go in search of him.

INSTALLMENT LII.

A FAREWELL MESSAGE.

For a moment unleashed passion leaped from the eyes of the old guerrilla. "I stood in my way long enough, you an' yore father both. You poor fools, you could hunt me down an' make it. Ever hear of a lamb that loved a wolf?"

In the despairing moment Jim's mind flashed back to Ellen—Ellen whom he would never see again. She, too, had used this simile.

"One fooled it, you tried it, an' yore uncle made his brags." Dave ticked off on his prehensile fingers. "First Joe, then you, then Chan, an' if any more of yore family feel biggity why I'll get them, too."

Through all the talk he had made, another thought had been running in his mind. What forlorn hope of escape was there? He kept it hidden, did not by either words or gestures. If they knew what he was thinking they would eliminate the chance. But what chance? Clay stood at the door, his back to a chair by the window. The others were grouped around the table.

Dave broke out angrily. "I've got something to say my own self, fellow. I'll take my girl from me, after you made a fool of me in this very house.

The roar of a gun pursued him. A hoarse voice shouted. Footsteps sounded. Jim raced for the hitch rack.

You're not to marry you. All right. Listen to me. In about five minutes Ellen will be a widow. I'll give her a fittin' time to mourn. Say six weeks. Then she'll be my wife."

"That's me," Dave agreed. "Bring a chair forward, Pete. Sit down, Rutledge."

Jim did not. The old man supplied paper and the stub of a pencil. "Now write," he ordered. "What I tell you to put down. Ready?"

Now dictated. "I got to the end of my rope. Tonight I killed Mame Moss. She wouldn't keep still about what I'd done to her and about how I loved Ellen Shear. . . . Got that?"

Jim's finger had been traveling slowly over the paper. Pete stood behind him looking over his shoulder.

"He's written it," young Moss said.

Jim put down the pencil. "I get yore notion," he said. "Where do I sign at? I confess I killed my uncle an' Mamie Dugan, then I commit suicide. That it?"

"I reckon not," Jim differed.

If Jim was daunted he did not show it. "The Comanche croppin' out in me, I reckon," he said aloud.

Clearly, his mind was busy with the situation. It would take some minutes to build the fire and heat the iron. But he must not wait until Clay's return. Already he could hear him lifting the stove lids. The young man turned to another lamp. Sufficient light for his purpose came in through the open door. One of them out of the room—Buck Roe leaning against the wall. The back of the old man, his hands thrust deep into the trouser pockets of his chaps—Sam still sitting by the window—Pete between him and the door. They had him safe. That was fixed in the minds of all of them. He was one unarmed man surrounded by five armed ones.

He heard the fire crackling. He spoke, apparently driven by his fears. "What sort of a note you want me to write?" he asked shakily.

Pete Moss grinned. "Thought you'd see reason. You Rutledges won't crawl. Write: Clay Moss caught me before I got a chance to get away. Grabbed his horse and lit out. But they are on my tail. Got me surrounded. I'm killing myself. . . . Written that?

An oath slipped from Pete's lips, an excited cry of rage. "That's not the right notion, dad. He says we've got him, an' that you killed both——"

He did not finish the sentence. Jim's arm swept across the table and sent the lamp flying into the face of Dave Moss. Almost simultaneously he was hurling the table over the old man and ducking across the dark room to the wall.

Pete Moss gave a yelp of consternation as the lamp leaped at his face. He recoiled back from the table and jumped to his feet. The room had been plunged in darkness complete and Stygian.

Within the four walls urgent and violent force manifested itself. The thought of four minds was toward furious action. Oaths, cries, the shuffling feet, the overturning chairs filled the place explosively. Somebody stumbled over the fallen table and went down with a crash. Sinewy fingers closed on and held him fast.

Jim seized the arms of the other. "I've got him," he cried.

Sam turned away. Jim heard the thud of a revolver barrel falling on flesh and a cry of pain. For the moment it was every man against his own.

Through the window there came the faint light from a less intense darkness. Covering his head with his arm, Jim flung himself through the frame, carrying the glass as his body crashed forward. He plowed along the ground, pulled himself to hands and feet, and was off like a sprinter at the barrier.

The roar of a gun pursued him. A hoarse voice shouted. Footsteps sounded. Jim raced for the hitch rack, for any horse except the one he had been born. As he heard the boots pounding behind him Jim reached the rack. He dragged at the slipknot, flung himself astride a saddle, and dug his heels savagely into the sides of the buckskin. A bullet whistled past his ear. Already he was flying into night, crouched low in the saddle. Behind him the revolver barked. The clash of raised voices grew louder. Other horses were in the open, heading for the horses. He put the buckskin to the speed. The ground was very rough and broken, but had to take chance of a fall.

Dear old, good old Rin-tin-tin!
Saves this picture that he's in;
Outwits villains; guards the sheep,
O'er his mistress watch doth keep.
Smuggled Chinamen doth smell
Aids the border po-lice well;
Knows instanter friend from foe,
Yep, this grand dog, Rin-tin-tin,
Saves this picture that he's in.
Otherwise it's like a show
Seen for five cents years ago.
Locale is in Mexico,
Where girl's father owns ranch-o.
Chinese smuggglers sly and mean,
Enter on this peaceful scene;
Handsome tramp appears. Ergo!
(Officer in disguise you know.)
He and Rinty busy get,
Trap the villains in their net.
Handsome tramp and her-o-ine
When film ends know love-o-tivine.
While close by doth Rinty-doll,
Doggy eyes both kind and droll.
Armida, the new made star,
Will perhaps go very far;
She's a pleasing little thing;
Acts quite well; also can sing.
(All the acting's pretty fair.)
Dialogue is hard to bear.
Story's trite—in places—dumb
Action? Sure the piece has some
Of the nickleodeon kind.
But—film's short—so never mind.
See you soon.

King's Reception Today.

LONDON, March 26.—(AP)—King George plans to hold a levee at Buckingham palace tomorrow, the first since his illness and the first at Buckingham palace since 1913.

Dr. Walter F. Starkie of Dublin to Lecture Here This Summer

Dr. Walter F. Starkie of Dublin is to teach at the University of Chicago during the summer term as a member of the Romance languages faculty. This was announced yesterday by President Hutchins. The engagement was made possible through gifts by Edward Hines, D. F. Kelly, Michael Igoe, Edward Cudahy Sr., Edward Cudahy Jr., R. G. Brennan, Frank J. Lewis and John J. O'Brien.

Dr. Starkie is the director of the famous Abbey theater in Dublin, professor of Spanish literature at the University of Dublin, and a fellow of Trinity college. He is an author, lecturer, musician and dramatic critic.

Dr. Starkie is an authority on gypsy life, having roamed through southern Europe with various tribes after serving in Italy during the war. His first appearance at the university will be on April 9, when he is to lecture on gypsies and their music.

World's Boy Scouts Invited to Jamboree Here During the Fair

One of the spectacular exhibits at the Chicago World's Fair in 1933 may be the presence of 100,000 Boy Scouts from all over the world. At least that is the plan of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

An official invitation to hold the 1933 international Boy Scouts jamboree to commemorate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Scout movement was issued yesterday by Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Association of Commerce. The invitations was presented to R. Douglas Stuart, president of the Chicago council of Boy Scouts, urging that Chicago be chosen for the jamboree. It is the plan of the Chicago council to forward the invitation to the national and international councils.

Yankee Women in London Honor Wife of Ex-Envoy

LONDON, March 26.—(AP)—Lady Isabella Howard, wife of the former British ambassador to the United States, was the guest of honor at a luncheon of the American Women's club today welcoming her back to England.

Mrs. Philip Snowden, wife of the chancellor of the exchequer; Mrs. Charles G. Dawes, wife of the American ambassador; Lady Bryce, widow of James Bryce, former British ambassador to the United States, and Mrs. Curtis Brown, president of the club, all paid tribute to the tact and diplomacy of Lady Isabella during the years she was in Washington.

Charity Card Party.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

What is your opinion of the naval conference?

The Answers.

W. H. Smith, 1051 Rush street, musician—I thought it was a joke when it started and I think it is a joke yet. All the world desires peace, but the question is will it ever come? Peace, like the 18th amendment, is a cherished hope, but a disillusionment. Both being impracticable are unenforceable.

Mrs. G. Mack, employment agency, 173 West Madison street—It's all right, but I am not in favor of the United States doing all the reducing. We should never give up our rights to any foreign country. I have a sister living in England, and I find that we are misunderstood by the English people. They think we are mercenary, while in fact we are very human beings from Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, and so on.

W. J. Dowling, 2700 North Clark street, salesman—It is all bosh. The United States has done right in calling back Senator Robinson. It looks as though England wants the United States to concede too much to her. We should be at a par with any country in the world so far as armament is concerned.

Miss Doris Schneider, 1372 North Lincoln street, stenographer—Whatever the the conference thinks about it, I think the United States should increase its armament to a point where we need have no fear of anything. Always be on the safe side. We never know what will happen; a war is always a possibility.

H. P. Riccadonna, 1063 Columbia avenue, advertising—I wish they would adjourn, because it seems it has been a failure thus far. I don't believe our country would be benefited by the final result in any event. It is not conceivable that European diplomats would consent to our being given anything in the form of an advantage.

Bishop Perry New Episcopal Church Head

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The Rt. Rev. James De Wolf Perry, bishop of Rhode Island, was elected primate of the Episcopal church at a session of the house of bishops in St. James cathedral yesterday. Only seven ballots were taken. Bishop Perry as primate or presiding bishop occupies a position in America comparable to that of the archbishop of Canterbury in England.

The comparatively prompt election of the Rhode Island bishop has some aspect of being a victory for the younger group of bishops. While it is said that 17 bishops were put into nomination, early ballots pointed to a possible rift between youth and age. Though Bishop Perry has been consecrated 19 years, he is regarded as a "younger" member of the house as ages go among Episcopal bishops. Bishop Hugh Latimer Burleson of South Dakota is said to have figured heavily in the voting. On the seventh ballot Bishop Perry received 69 votes, or one more than necessary for election. Eight-four bishops voted.

Bishop Perry is the third primate to be elected by ballot.

For some weeks past Bishop Perry's name has been favorably considered by the bishops as the successor to the late Bishop Charles P. Anderson of Chicago because of his leadership in the recent reorganization of the national council. It is said that the reorganization sponsored by Bishop Perry will tend to simplify the work of the council and ultimately result in a wider separation of the fiscal affairs of the church from spiritual enterprises.

Bishop Perry is 59 years old and is regarded as belonging to the more liberal group in the church. He represents the "broad" churchmanship of Bishop Phillips Brooks and Bishop William Lawrence, both of Massachusetts. Bishop Perry was born at Germantown, Pa., where his father was the rector of Calvary Episcopal church, and is descended from an old New England family which was prominent in affairs of the church and state in colonial times.

The new primate is an alumnus of the University of Pennsylvania. After being graduated with the degree of A. B. in 1891 he entered the Episcopal Theological seminary at Cambridge, where he was graduated three years later. He was ordained by Bishop Lawrence in 1896.

After serving as assistant at Christ church, Springfield, Mass., Bishop Perry became rector of Christ church at Fitchburg, Mass., and later of St. Paul's church at New Haven, Conn. He was elected bishop of Rhode Island and consecrated on Jan. 6, 1911. The communicant membership of the churches of Rhode Island has doubled during Bishop Perry's administration.

During the world war Bishop Perry was chief of Red Cross chaplains overseas. The new primate has received honorary doctorate degrees from the University of Pennsylvania, Brown university, and Harvard.

Aside from his leadership in the national council of the church, Bishop Perry is known as a zealous advocate of church unity. He was the vice president and chairman of the executive committee of the commission of the world conference on faith and order, which sponsored the world-wide meeting on church unity at Lausanne, Switzerland, in August, 1927. He is also an active member of the departments of religious education and social service of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Bishop Perry appointed the Rt. Rev. Hugh Latimer Burleson of South Dakota as assistant to the presiding bishop. The house of bishops elected Bishop Frederick F. Reese of Georgia as vice chairman of the house. The late Bishop Anderson held the office of vice chairman until his election as presiding bishop.

THE STAGE

When "The Little Show" comes to the Selwyn theater on Easter Sunday it will bring the cast of entertainers which gave it a long run at the Music Box theater, New York. The leaders of the revue will be Clifton Webb, Fred Allen, and Libby Holman. The minor pastimers will be Helen Lynd, John Macauley, Joan Carter-Waddell, Lucy Monroe, Ernest Sharpe, Harold Moffett, Allen Vincent, and Katherine Carrington. It's called "The Little Show" because that's what it is—a sort of an American Charlot revue. There are only fifteen girls in the chorus.

A play that contains only one character will probably have a New York premiere at the President theater in the week of April 21. Irving Kaye Davis wrote it; "Courtesan" is its title; and Elsa Shelly will be the entire cast. . . . Another curiosity of this kind will soon be staged by George Jessel. It was written by John Patton Russell; its title is "Three's a Crowd"; and it contains only two characters. Mary Nash and Robert Warwick will probably act it.

Mrs. Fiske and her associate stars will end their New York engagement in Sheridan's "The Rivals" April 5, and will then go on tour for six weeks. But the staging of this classic comedy at the Goodman theater seems to have prevented them from invading Chicago. As now outlined, the tour will reach its farthest west at Cleveland.

The price of theater tickets, like that of more necessary commodities, is moving downward. In New York the Shuberts are offering a number of dramatic productions at a top price of $3. The list includes "The Matriarch," "Young Sinners," "Topaze," "Death Takes a Holiday," and "The Infinite Shoeblack."

"Babes in Toyland" will follow the lead of "Nina Rosa" and omit Sunday night performances. If this keeps on, the Actors' Equity association, which insists that the Sabbath should be a day of rest for the theatrical profession, may get its wish.

Christopher Morley is represented upon the playbills in the east this week. A play called "The Second Mate," written by Morley in collaboration with Capt. Felix Riesenberg, is now being acted at the Old Rialto Theater of Hoboken. It is described as a melodrama of the sea.

"It's a Wise Child," the play that has fattened David Belasco's bank account this season, will be staged in Paris during the summer by Sacha Guitry and Yvonne Printemps. . . . And the Scandinavian rights have been sold, too.

The revival mania of the season has extended as far as the old fashioned minstrel shows. An entertainment called "Kilpatrick's Old-Time Minstrels" went into rehearsal in New York this week.

The next chapter in the stirring life of Texas Guinan will be spent on the Loew vaudeville circuit. But if some aggressive impresario wants to start something, he should co-star Miss Guinan and Mae West in a revival of "The Two Orphans."

E. H. Sothern, the eminent Shakespearean actor, now retired, will appear in the Studebaker theater Sunday afternoon, April 6, as a dramatic reader.

Marion Talley Selling Books That Might Be Lonely on Farm

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 26.—Marion Talley, young Missouri operatic star, who left the Metropolitan Opera company last April to go back to the farm and the simple life, but remained in New York. Now, however, she is selling the contents of her apartment and says she will go to a farm she owns in that state. The Broadway Art Galleries listed today the "magnificent furnishings and library" to go on sale tomorrow. In the library are such elderly but gay ancestors of the modern novel as a special edition of the "Heptameron of Marguerite of Navarre" and the "Novelino of Massuchio," as well as a copy of "Boccacio's Decameron."

Other books include some French court memoirs, a set of the works of Honore de Balzac, the complete works of Oscar Wilde, the complete works of Henry Fielding, who was one of the forerunners of the English novel. There also is a de luxe edition of "The Golden Ass" of Luclus Apuleius, from which is taken the story of Cupid and Psyche, so dear to painters, sculptors, and poets.

Students of 168 Schools Supply Big Orchestra

311 Young Musicians Give Fine Program.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Whatever discussion may arise now or hereafter about the theory and practice of the music supervisors now in conference here, there is one point in which they have silenced all criticism. They have brought into being the National High School orchestra. It played a concert at the Auditorium last night which for exuberance of spirit and charm of youth became one of the high spots of the season.

Music in large mass would seem to be the order of the day. There are 311 players in the National High School orchestra, representing 168 schools in twenty-nine states of the Union plus Ontario in Canada. And they played a full length adult program that included the prelude to "Die Meistersinger" and Schubert's "Unfinished" symphony, not to mention accompanying a soloist.

Several changes in makeup and manner were noticeable over the former appearance of this orchestra two years ago. At that time Illinois had one of the smallest representations, a fact that I was sternly if somewhat inconclusively reproved for mentioning at the time. Now Illinois has the largest representation. At that time the woodwind section was rather weak. Last night it had improved beyond all telling, that is, until the instruments grew warm with playing and got out of pitch. A short period of retuning took place and all was well again, but it came about half an hour too late.

It was a stirring picture on the stage. Over a hundred violins, more than the total count of most symphony orchestras, so many basses that they had to take two corners of the stage instead of one, a battery of harps, battalions of horns, trumpets, trombones, what not, all gaily dressed girls and soberly dressed boys—incidentally the trombones were so good that they nearly overshaded the rest of the orchestra—and over them Conductor Joseph E. Maddy presiding with a beat that got accurate and stimulating response from every player.

Henry Hadley was expected to appear as guest-conductor of his own work, "The Ocean," but he was too ill to leave New York. Unexpectedly Dr. Howard Hanson was able to leave his orchestral and scholastic duties in Rochester, N. Y., and be present. He conducted Sibelius' "Finlandia," and whatever animation had been running down just before this, during the concerto, was picked up to full pulsation by his efforts.

The piano soloist was Dr. John Erskine, biographer of Helen of Troy, Eve, and various others. He played Mozart's concerto in D, a work considerably out of character with the rest of the program. It may have been too sudden a shift of mood for the participants to accomplish. At any rate, the piece was correctly enough played, but with a considerable moderation of the high spirits that marked the rest of the program. Dr. Erskine, however, believes that the young musicians of America are being hypnotized by the virtuoso ideal.

With one change, the concert will be repeated at the Auditorium tonight. Guy Maier and not Dr. Erskine will be the soloist, and he will play the Liszt concerto in E flat.

Loud applause went up from the supervisors in the afternoon, when Mr. Stock and the Chicago Symphony orchestra tendered them a special concert at Orchestra hall. It was a program that the oldest patron of the orchestra would have applauded as warmly.

The Bach concerto in G, displaying the golden tone of the string section, began the concert, passing thence to Richard Strauss' "Thus Spake Zarathustra," with the full orchestra in all its nobility. Leo Sowerby's suite, "From the Northland," followed, and Mr. Sowerby was called out twice to bow to the audience. The program concluded with two exciting bits from Wagner's "Die Walkure."

During the morning's discussion Mrs. Ruth Haller Ottaway of Port Huron, Mich., spoke on what a college graduate knows about music. Her conclusion was that it is not much. A survey from twenty-three deans of music in universities disclosed that the proportion of college of arts students who elected courses in music was "1 per cent to 20 per cent," which probably rates as the most pessimistic remark ever made about colleges.

Art Luncheon Proves Success Despite Storm

BY THALIA

Thursday's inclemency didn't stem Chicago's luncheon goers. Mrs. John Alden Carpenter gave a party at the Arts club, with her guests including Alexander Archipenko, distinguished Russian sculptor and artist. He has been connected with the Art institute since last September. Other guests were Miss Alice Sturges Seymour Blair, Miss Caroline Kirkland, Isamu Noguchi, and Mrs. Walter Scheve Badger. Mr. Noguchi, whose exhibit of sculpture was one of a group of works shown at the Arts club tea yesterday afternoon, is proving to be a most attractive artist as well as an important sculptor, his mother was an American, and his father a great Japanese poet.

Also in the afternoon many others braved the fury of the weather to attend the Arts club tea, which opened four new exhibitions in the galleries. Refreshments were served at the new tables recently acquired by the club. A pure white color scheme was carried out in the decorations, with bowls of white Venetian glass and clusters of white sweet peas, calla lilies, carnations, and gladioli. Among those present were Mrs. Carpenter and her honor guests, Robert Lee Eskridge, Miss Aldis, Mrs. Gustavus F. Swift, Mrs. Potter Palmer, Mrs. Theodore White Smith, Mrs. Eric Gerstenberg, Miss Agnes Foreman, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Sweeney of Brookline, N. Y. Mrs. Parmelee McFadden, who acted as hostess, was accompanied by her daughter, Miss Marion McFadden.

If any of Chicago's social register girls had any ideas of intriguing the fancy of Seymour Blair, bachelor, during his stay in Chicago this winter, they now must relinquish their illusions. Mr. Blair plans to leave next Monday, and has in mind permanent residence in France. He has been there since shortly before Christmas, visiting his father, Edward T. Blair of 1130 Lake Shore drive.

After about a month in New York city he goes to Paris. He probably will follow the example of the Herman Oelrichs and acquire one of those historic old chateaus just outside that city. His sister, Miss Edith Blair, has a place of her own on the left bank of the Seine.

There were about 500 women present at the anniversary luncheon given at the Palmer house by the Cook County League of Women Voters. Yellow jonquils, ferns, and lighted candles decorated the tables. Those present included Miss Julia Lathrop, Mrs. William G. Hibbard, Mrs. Ralph Poston, Mrs. Hayden Harris, Mrs. Ira Nelson Morris, Mrs. E. R. Litsinger, Mrs. Stephen Wheeler, Mrs. Warner Conn, Mrs. Elisha Chandler, Mrs. Ira Couch Wilson, and Mrs. Ralph C. Otis.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Douglas of Lake Forest landed in New York City on their return from a West Indies cruise on the Augusta, and are staying in town at the Ambassador hotel for a few days.

Mrs. Cyrus M. Carr, Miss Caroline Kirkland, and Mrs. Victor C. Sanborn have returned from a several weeks' visit in La Jolla, Cal., and Miss Kirkland is staying with Mrs. Carr at her apartment at 1130 Lake Shore drive for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Adams, Mrs. J. B. Donnelley, and Mr. and Mrs. John V. Farwell, who have been at Coronado, Cal., have now moved on to La Jolla for a visit there.

Mrs. Sharp Thompson arrived at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., on Sunday and attended the opening luncheon of the Tangerine room of the Casino.

Sailing next Saturday on the new Europa that broke the trans-Atlantic speed record on its last trip will be Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Gorham Jr. bound for a spring holiday on the continent.

Mr. Gorham just recently received his degree of doctor of laws at the University of Chicago. Mrs. Charles H. Pearse of 209 Lake Shore drive and her son, Charles Jr. also sail on the Europa, to go to France, to join the former's daughter, Miss Jane Pearse who has been studying in Paris this past season.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forgan, of Highland Park and their daughter and son, Miss Betty and Robert D. Jr. are sojourning at Atlantic City, N. J.

Mrs. John H Foley leaves on Saturday for a visit to her place on the gulf coast in Alabama. She will return north in June to spend the summer at Lake Geneva with her daughter, Mrs. Florence F. Beggs. Her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Royal Foley [Carlisle Sullivan] are occupying her former residence at 1200 Astor street.

Washington, D. C., March 26.—Vice President Curtis' little party at luncheon today at the capitol, included two grandchildren, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Webster Knight Jr., of Providence. They with their mother, and Mrs. Louis Gerry of Providence, R. I., with her two children, are sightseeing in Washington as guests of the Vice President.

Representative and Mrs. E. C. Eaton of Missouri, who have as their guests at the Roosevelt, their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Frank H. Ellis, and Frank J. Ellis Jr., were joined tonight by Ralph Ellis of Chicago who will spend a few days with his relatives on his way from his school in North Carolina to his home in Chicago.

The former British minister to the Vatican, Henry Getty Chilton, formerly counselor of the British embassy here, now newly appointed to Chile, will stop in Washington on his way to his new post. Mrs. Chilton is a daughter of Thomas J. O'Brien of Grand Rapids who spends his winters here.

Mrs. Frank C. Letts, formerly of Chicago, has returned to her home here after spending some weeks in Arizona.

Pope Receives Agent of 70,000 Alumnae of Catholic Schools

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, March 26.—Miss M. Brennan of New York, representing Mrs. Mary B. Finan of Chicago, who is president of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnæ, was received by Pope Pius XI. this morning. Miss Brennan presented his holiness with two bound volumes containing the records and work of the organization during the last four years.

The audience lasted over 20 minutes and during its course the pontiff expressed his admiration for the activities of the association in binding all Catholic alumnæ of the world. The conversation was carried on in French.

The purposes of the organization include educational and social assistance work, Miss Brennan said later. Founded in 1913, the society has 70,000 adherents, she said.

Women Recall Vote Victory of Ten Years Ago

Celebration Here Linked to General Rejoicing.

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

Hundreds of women who prior to ten years ago were merely women, and who since that time have been women voters, yesterday filled the grand ballroom of the Palmer house to demonstrate their loyalty to the ballot.

The Cook County League of Women Voters' function, for which 150 additional reservations had been received, whose makers were unable to struggle through the storm, was a link in the national chain of rejoicing over the federal suffrage victory of a decade ago, culminating twenty years of effort.

Gov. Louis L. Emmerson sent a message of felicitation to county meeting. Distinguished persons of the feminine world sat at the speakers' table. Radio connected the ballroom with the festivities staged in New York, at which Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, honorary president of the National League of Women Voters, and Miss Katherine Ludington, vice president, were the main speakers.

At the Chicago gathering Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, one of the earlier proponents of votes for women, called the roll of the patron saints of women's suffrage, from Susan B. Anthony down to twenty years ago. Her list eulogized among others Mary A. Livermore, a suffragist of 1869; Mary E. Holmes, a state president of the Illinois league; Dr. Julia Holmes Smith, still living at the age of 90; Myra Bradwell, first woman attorney to attempt to practive in the Supreme court; Frances E. Willard of temperance fame; Lucy Stone, Mrs. Lucy Flower, Miss Jane Addams, whose most prominent convert to the cause was the late President Roosevelt, and Miss Julia Lathrop, whom Mrs. McCulloch credited with having won over the late Woodrow Wilson.

Miss Lathrop, whose achievements as head of the children's bureau at Washington, in social service, and in promoting women's activities, has won her a place on a national honor roll sponsored by the league, looked briefly into the past and less briefly into the future of the organization.

"I think," she announced, "that in ten years or in one hundred years we are going to be more admired than we are at this moment. We can have a tremendous influence in attaining that coordination between departments of our government and that information about them that will help to give the children of the future all the recreation, all the education and all other advantages they should have.

"We have got to have an honest government, honestly administered. There should be no finer future for a young man or woman than to go into the service of their government. I don't know of any one thing that will help it along more than women on our county boards and in congress—women from Chicago."

Mrs. Eric Stubbs, president of the Cook County league, presided, and introduced the guests of honor, including Mrs. Anna Wilmarth Ickes, Mrs. William G. Hibbard, Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, Mrs. Charles Conkey, Mrs. Ella Stewart, Mrs. W. A. Roberts, Mrs. Walter Benson, Mrs. Jacob Baur, Mrs. Florence Fifer Bohrer, Mrs. Ralph Treadway, Mrs. Murry Nelson, Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck, and Mrs. George Bass.

Midland Joins Ranks of Clubs That Give Exhibitions of Arts

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The Midland club of Chicago is the newest recruit to the band of clubs, both those composed of men and women members, to feature exhibitions of paintings and sculpture. Their first exhibition is an extremely fine one. It is of paintings by Karl Ouren, and one recognizes several of the canvases as having played their part in his earlier one man show at the Palette and Chisel club in February. That was a brilliant show and this equals it.

Following the Ouren exhibit the Midland club is scheduled for an extensive showing of paintings, sculpture, etchings, water colors and drawings by members of the Chicago Society of Artists, an exhibition which will run from April 7 to April 19. A few days after this closes paintings by three distinguished artists, Otto Reimer Niebuhr, Karl Wagner and F. Becker, will be put on display. This exhibition will be under the direction of and in collaboration with Carl Wilhelm Schmidt, a philosopher, author and lecturer known here and abroad.

Of the three artists mentioned Becker is famous for his etchings and in the forthcoming exhibit he will show drawings in a new medium which bears the extraordinry name of "Schabezeichnung," a word that is impossible of translation into the English language. The word and the work are for the first time being introduced to Chicago.

Yesterday afternoon at the Arts club four exhibitions opened. There were paintings by Pablo Picasso, gouaches by Ossip Zadkine, sculptures by Isamu Noguchi, and a group of contemporary Chinese paintings. Of these more later.

The Knoedler galleries announce the opening on Saturday of this week of an exhibit of paintings by Ramon Shiva and Rifka Angel. It will continue until April 12.

The Ackermann galleries have done something new in artistic achievement. They offer A "Then" and "Now" proposition of great interest. The "Then" is an aquatint of Old Fort Dearborn by R. Varin; the "Now" is an etching by Karl Dehmann.

Methodists in China Pick Rev. C. P. Wang as Bishop

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, March 26.—The Methodist church in China, composed of Chinese and foreigners, on Feb. 28, for the first time in its history elected a Chinese preacher as bishop. The man selected was the Rev. C. P. Wang. He becomes the first Chinese bishop of the Methodist church.

In addition to the election of Bishop Wang, the East Asia Central conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, also elected another bishop for China, the Rev. John Gowdy, D. D. an American missionary who has resided in China for practically 30 years.

75% of Business Girls wash dishes at home!

. . yet keep hands smooth and white for the office . . . . .

"Our secret is Lux in the Dishpan" . . .

DO wives envy the clever young business girls who look so dainty and carefree?

Really, these girls have lots to do both in and out of business hours!

True—you'd never think so, judging from their smooth, white, well-cared-for hands. The secret is—8 out of 10 told us so—

"We use Lux in the dishpan."

These clever young business girls use Lux for their fine things, of course. That's how they noticed how soft and white Lux leaves the hands.

Millions of wives, too, keep their hands lovely with pure, gentle Lux. So many soaps contain harmful alkali that dries up the natural oils of the skin.

Lux never dries these delicate oils. The mild, bland Lux suds give your hands the very gentlest, finest beauty care known!

Try Lux FREE

Try this wonderful Lux care for your hands, at our expense. Just send us your name and address, and by return mail you will receive a full-sized package of Lux free. Write today to Lever Brothers Company, Dept. X-6, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

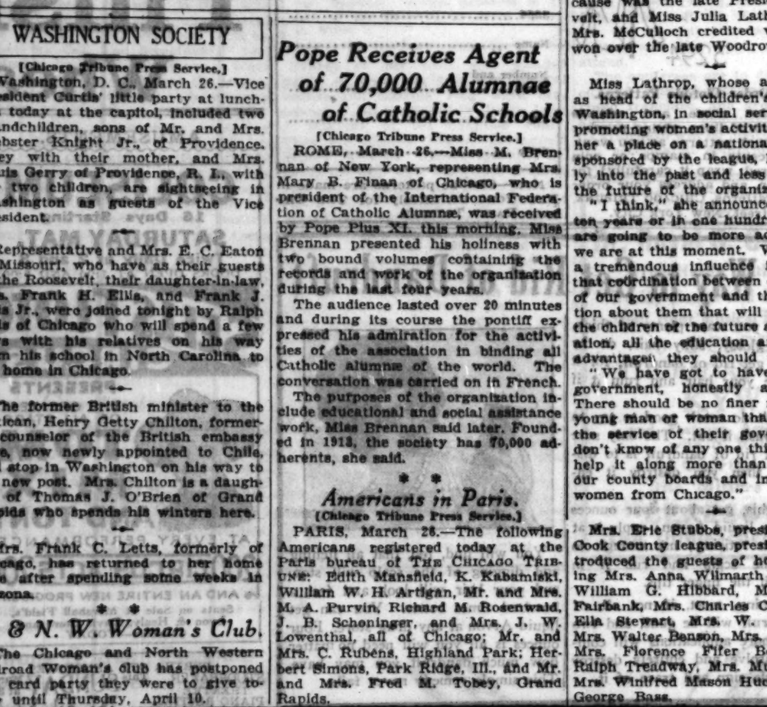
Look..coffee lovers every can is Dated



IT makes a big difference, that date! It shows you just how long your grocer can keep a can of dated coffee on his shelf.

You run no risk of unknowingly buying shelf-stale coffee. Of getting coffee that has had time to lose even a little of its roaster-fresh perfection.

For we watch those dates, too! We call on your grocer at frequent intervals . . . remove any can that remains unsold after the expiration date . . . replace it with a fresh one. No matter when you buy, you buy coffee straight from the rooster.

If you like coffee, by all means try this kind in the dated cans. See what a difference there is in flavor, body, aroma, when the coffee is roaster-fresh. Generations of coffee epicures have preferred Chase & Sanborn's Coffee.

In Chase & Sanborn's Dated Coffee, now available everywhere, you get that fine old blend made even finer by insured freshness. Your grocer has it.

GRAHAM McNAMEE SPEAKING—

Long Skirts Can't Beautify Legs, but Exercises Can

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Any bright little optimists who looked at first upon the lengthened skirt as the long sought remedy for imperfect legs and ankles are doomed to disappointment. They are not, unless they are worn floor length and even all around.

The skirt that nods and dips and raises its hem to nod again does worse things to imperfect legs than the old time full exposure, perhaps because it calls attention more to the nether extremities, perhaps because that human curiosity which is not content till it knows all is whetted. But more likely because the softly feminine materials that go into the new skirt plead for a lovely turn of calf and ankle.

Anyway, the good work of training them has to be kept up, just the same.

Do you know that you can improve legs greatly by the very, very simple exercise of rising up on your toes and coming down again, up and down, up and down? But you have to do it ever so often. It is not a tiring exercise and it only takes a few minutes to raise and lower the foot 100 times. Ten times wouldn't be so effective, but if you would concentrate on that one exercise and do it fifty times at least, morning and night, you could not only make more symmetrical a too plump leg, but help a skinny one, too. I have seen it work out beneficially for both types of legs.

This latter is a good exercise, too, for heaviness that one, for no reason whatever, may acquire in walking. It makes the step more sprightly—younger. It also will shake some of the fat off the thighs and hips.

The rising on toes exercise is excellent for any one suffering early symptoms of a weak or flattening arch.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Salmon Soups and Chowders

A canned salmon soup is not a bad luncheon item for a cold spring day, while one of fresh salmon, made with potatoes and onions, is a reasonable chowder. It is different—with an agreeable difference—from the chowders of white fleshed fish. The canned salmon soup need be little more than a thin creamed canned salmon.

To make a small salmon chowder, take a one and one-half inch cube of solid salt pork, a half pound slice of fresh salmon, one and one-half cups sliced potato, four small onions sliced, two cups cold water and one cup milk. A little butter may be put in the frying pan or preferably in the kettle in which the chowder is to be cooked. Cut the pork into small dice and cook it gently in this butter. There should be at least two tablespoons of fat before the sliced potatoes are put on top of the pork, and on top of those the salmon cut in small pieces, and the onions.

In making this in larger quantities the different ingredients should be arranged in layers with either the potato or onion at the bottom. To the layers of ingredients add the two cups of cold water, let it boil up and then simmer gently till the ingredients are cooked. Add a cup of milk and season to taste with salt. This amount will easily serve four or more people. It can be made to seem more like a soup if, when the ingredients are cooked, they are mashed with the potato masher, instead of adding the milk, this mixture may be made into a loaf with bread crumbs and baked, then served with a cream sauce, thus getting the salmon loaf which is popular.

For canned salmon soup use one tablespoon butter, one-half a small can of salmon—the can of the size that will hold one cup of water—one tablespoon flour, one cup milk, seasonings. Melt the tablespoon butter, braid the flour with it until it is as smooth as velvet, cool if necessary, add the cup of cold milk, stir over the fire until the milk is thickened and let stand over the least bit of fire while picking over the salmon. Shred the salmon, add to the thickened milk and cook gently ten minutes. To make it seem richer, heat the salmon in a little butter first.

Paris Daytime Clothes Turn Black and Blue

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.— [Special.] —The newest color scheme for practical clothes is black and blue. I have already told you that two colors are better than one in the spring style-scape. One color ensembles and even one color dresses are a small minority.

This two color stuff gives Paris a chance to hang on to her beloved black for spring, because she can pep it up with pink, white, yellow, and blue—most particularly blue. Pastel, pale, and turquoise blue are the blues that one sees most often in union with black. The combination has two qualities absolutely essential to spring time chic, prettiness, and ladylikeness.

The blue and black ensemble illustrated, from Lucile, shows a favorite dress and wrap theme in Paris. This is the short cape and the one piece tailored dress. They are made in this case from wool shantung. The cape is hip length with a little band collar that may be buttoned around the neck so that the cape stays put. There are slits in the sides of the cape so you can wear it like a jacket if you like, and even carry packages.

The dress of black wool shantung has a flat collar of turquoise blue georgette which emerges from the buttoned tab at the point of the V shaped neckline in a couple of long flowing tie ends. Pipings of turquoise blue georgette cross the front of the dress, beginning under the armpits and descending to the hipline at the side front, where they are looped over set in pockets. The back of this dress has a flat bolero and the sleeves are flared by two circular ruffles of blue georgette at the back of the lower arm. The skirt is flared by three godets at the front, and extends 5 inches below the knees, giving the smart proportion.

Children Don't Like Suddenness; It Bewilders Them

A booklet by Mrs. Bevans on "Books to Be Read to Children or by Them" will be sent free on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

By Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

Children don't like suddenness. Sweeping generality! To be useful, a column like this must not be too general. Yet some generalities are practical because the application of them can be seen at once. The one about suddenness is of that kind.

Children don't like suddenness. They may not say so. They may not show it directly. But children don't like suddenness. The younger they are, the less they like it. The more sensitively organized they are, the less they like it.

It isn't a matter of whim. Children just are that way. An understanding of this fact of their nature is one great ally to you in guilding and managing your young children. It is for their good and yours to make use of the knowledge.

Watch them a little and you'll see. How do they react to strangers who are sudden with them? How do they take it when you make a sudden change of plans? How do they act when you take them suddenly from their play? When you announce that they must go to bed immediately? When you expect instant obedience? Even when you are sudden in seating them at the table, or putting on their outdoor clothes or undressing them?

Children don't like suddenness. They are like animals in that way. Give them time whenever you possibly can. With the exception of emergencies and, of course, boisterous fun, be smooth, deft, and calm with them. And, incidentally, with routine things don't be too efficiently or uninterestingly businesslike.

Children don't switch quickly from one thing to another. Suddenness bewilders, startles, disturbs them. Make use of the knowledge that children don't like suddenness.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S AND MISS' BLOUSE.

Of course you will want a blouse of eggshell crêpe satin with the new, flattering scarf collar with flying ends at the back. This blouse is interesting because of the flat hipline that is shirred at the center front, creating a swathed movement. The long sleeves are dart fitted. This blouse would be effective worn with a black crêpe silk skirt, or the color will blend with almost any color you may care to wear with it.

The pattern, 3294, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years, and 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 2¼ yards of 39 inch material.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Day Dreaming Student.

I had a great habit of day-dreaming during classes, of which my teachers were aware. Once I was called upon to diagram and analyze a sentence. "Moscow" was the subject.

After I had finished the teacher asked, "Where is Moscow?"

I pointed to where I had written it on the board. Every one in the classroom burst out laughing. I became angry and walked to my seat. Can you imagine my embarrassment when the girl sitting near me said, "You should have told her it was in Russia."

Treat the Eternal Triangle Lightly; Make It Temporary

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Because they take the situation so tragically, wives often ruin their chances of winning back the husband who may only be temporarily enmeshed with the "other woman."

When a wife is face to face with the triangle, whatever courage she can muster to look, at least, if she can't feel, that she is not treating the incident too seriously should be mustered, for therein lies her strength. Make a tragedy out of it and it be comes one. Do not take it too seriously and it will be less likely to turn out seriously. We are talking, of course, about the wife who wants her husband and wants to retain him for the rest of her natural life.

True, in some situations in which the other woman plays an active part, nothing the wife can do will help. Eventually, she has to resign herself to the fact that the other woman is loved and she is not. But such instances are rarer than matrimonial breaks would suggest. More often the break comes about through emotional mismanagement on the wife's part. Granted it is easier to advise than to put the advice into practice, still, if a woman wants to hold her husband, emotional [and tongue] control is worth an experiment.

Of course you are hurt. Every woman is hurt when a man turns from her to another woman, even for a short time. But if you love him and he is still important to you, don't pull any dramatics. Try awfully hard to take a sporting stand.

You and the other woman are sparring for the same prize. If you win, it's all right. If you don't, well—that's life, and what can you do about it? If you can get into this frame of mind you stand to win. That your mate has wandered or is threatening to wander does not make yours a peculiarly isolated case. Remember that. It will help you to understand that the roving impulse in mates is a fairly common one.

You could, if you're a good sport about it, question yourself on the subject of whether the wandering urge is your fault. It may not be. Investigate, anyway. But don't let the situation bring out ugly qualities in you. Confuse the gentleman by being a nicer person than the other!

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Explain to Him.

"Dear Miss Blake: I love a fellow who doesn't know it. He asks me to go out, but I refuse him because I'm not allowed out. Please advise.

"LONESOME BESS."

Explain that you are not permitted to go out with boys, but that you'll gladly accept his invitations when the ban has been raised.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each childish saying printed. The story told must be original. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

My cousin, aged 4, had lain in bed for six weeks with her leg in a cast due to some broken bones. After she had completely recovered a friend called on her family. Her mother asked her to show how she walked and my cousin, not knowing whether her mother was pleased at her ability or wanted sympathy, asked, "Shall I limp, mama?"

We had often told my little nephews, 6 and 8, that if they were not good the devil would get them. One day they were unruly and sent to bed earlier than usual. We heard Jack say, "Billie, do you believe in the devil?"

"No," answered Billie, "it's just like Santa Claus, it's daddy." G. S.

MY DEAR... it's something nobody forgives or forgets...
Though you may have lovely features and a sparkling personality; though you may dress smartly; though you may love company; you'll be lonely and unpopular so long as you neglect a condition that anyone may have, that none of us can overlook. Bacterial-Mouth. Ugly yellow teeth scarred by decay and soft, receding gums reveal its offensive presence. The only way to remove this condition is to kill the germs that cause it. This Kolynos does with remarkable effect.
Mon. Tues. Wed.
3 Shades Whiter
then Teeth get Whiter
3 Shades in 3 Days
HERE'S the quick, easy way to sound, sparkling white teeth and firm, pink gums—the Kolynos Dry-Brush Technique.* Use it for just 3 days... Then note the results.
Teeth look whiter—fully 3 shades. Gums feel firmer, they are healthier. And your mouth tingles with a refreshing, clean taste.
Kolynos cleans teeth and gums as they should be cleaned.
As soon as it enters the mouth, this highly concentrated, antiseptic dental cream gives you a pleasant surprise. It becomes an exhilarating FOAM that is full of life.
This FOAM gets into and cleans out every tiny crevice, pit and fissure. It instantly kills the millions of germs that cause offensive Bacterial-Mouth—that lead to tooth decay, stain, ugly yellow and to gum diseases. (Kolynos kills 190 million germs in 10 seconds.) Moreover, this FOAM keeps on working after you hang up your toothbrush. For 3 hours it continues to cleanse teeth and purify the mouth.
That is why teeth are so easily and so swiftly cleaned down to the beautiful, naked white enamel—without injury.
If you want whiter teeth free, from decay; and firm, pink gums—discard the dentifrice that does only half the job. Switch to Kolynos.
It will win you in 3 days.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to comb or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it; then you destroy it entirely.

To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid Arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid Arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you may have. This simple remedy never fails.

Again?
A day that might have meant so much and she has to be excused. What a pity there's a woman left who does not know of Midol! One or two tablets in time, and not a twinge of pain throughout the natural process. Or an end to such suffering at any time, five to seven minutes after Midol is taken. Yet this merciful medicine is non-narcotic. Its wonderful results are due to the fact it acts directly on the organs affected; so it's utterly harmless, and it is only common sense to use it. Midol comes in a clever little metal case that you can slip in the smallest purse. And the cost of this comfort is fifty cents.*

*Midol's comfort is not confined to any certain days or age. It relieves at any time of life. Its ease is felt immediately in cases of nervous headache, backache, cramping, hot flashes and all febrile pain peculiar to women

CHINESE TOWNS ALL UNDER GUNS OF RED TROOPS

Fate of 16 U. S. Catholic Priests, Nuns Unknown.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NANKOW, March 26.—Five additional towns located in the district from Nankow to the junction of the Peiping-Hankow and Lunghai railways are occupied by communist troops, according to reports tonight. It is believed that Taiyi and Sinfeng, two towns in southern Kiangsi, and Changyen, two towns in northern Fukien, have been occupied, while Nanchang, near the Kiangsi and Fukien border, is under attack and expected to fall.

Another report from Nanchang, capital of the province, said provincial troops have succeeded in driving the communists who have been holding the town of Kanchow, where seventeen priests and six nuns, all Americans, were reported in danger. Kanchow is located in the southern part of the province near the headwaters of the Gan-kiang river. No word has been received here concerning the missionaries, but French missionaries in the same town were reported safe.

Offer Reward for Red Chiefs.

The governors of Kian and Fuan, occupied by the communists last week, have put a price on the head of the communist leaders, Gen. Chu Teh and Gen. Mou Chi Tang, or a reward of $10,000 for their bodies. As a result of the communist activities, foreign consular authorities, as well as heads of missions, have ordered all missionaries out of the districts.

Communists Seize Big Area.

The communist troops are well supplied with funds and munitions and control a large district.

The Japanese Rengo reports from Peiping tonight said Kuominchun General of the Christian general, Feng Yu-hsiang, have seized Chengchow in the northern Honan province at the junction of the Peiping-Hankow and Lunghai railways. National troops surrendered without fighting.

With the Chengchow occupation, communist troops have been ordered northward, while others have been rushed to the Kan-kiang river district to resist another Kuominchun drive reported to be advancing from Hankow north of Hsingyang.

ARMORY FUND SHORTAGE PUT AS HIGH AS $100,000

Patient investigation of the finances of the Broadway Armory and the 202d Coast Artillery, Illinois National Guard, instituted by Col. Charles J. Kraft and his removal Monday under charges, was said yesterday to have disclosed peculations that may run as high as $100,000.

Assistant United States District Attorney James C. Leaton was preparing evidence to present to the federal grand jury regarding many large sums for which Col. Kraft was said to have failed to account. The shortages appear in connection with the hiring and paying of government clerks attached to the regiment and armory and the statement was made that the money roll was found to be padded in many instances.

Col. Kraft is facing a state investigation in which Gen. Abel Davis, Gen. John J. Garrity and Gen. Frank Schaupp constitute a board of inquiry to determine whether state property and funds have been misappropriated.

Pity Chicago! Radio Artists Sing of Spring

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

The avalanche of compositions on the air last evening relating to spring seemed like rubbing it in pretty hard for snow covered Chicago.

On the orchestral and vocal New York program through W-G-N, 7:30 to 8, we had Goldmark's "Spring" overture, Mendelssohn's "Spring Song," Strauss' "Voices of Spring," Sinding's "Rustle of Spring," to say nothing about several numbers about love in the springtime.

On a program by the Chicago Little Symphony orchestra through KYW, 8 to 8:30 spring popped up again in Mendelssohn's "Spring Song," and love was heard from in selections from "The Student Prince."

On the New York orchestral and vocal program through W-G-N, 8:30 to 9, the Revelers male quartet had the spring fever; evidence, singing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and "Howdy Do, Miss Springtime." Olive Palmer, soprano, advanced the season still farther, singing Chaminade's "L'Ete" [French for summer].

Del Owen, microphone comedian and piano juggler, W-G-N, 9:30 to 9:45, was completely smitten by the love microbe. "Last Rose of Summer" had a futuristic double meaning note or two in it. "Mother Machree," "I Love a Piano" [Irving Berlin], though I suspected and Mr. Owen later intimated that there was something wrong with this number were also on the program. A song with the words, "I Love the Cows and Chickens, and I Love to Raise the Dickens" and "I Can't Give You Anything but Love," were others.

But, not one word or note anywhere about falling snowflakes!

Josephine Jendrzejeh Rites Will Be Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Josephine Jendrzejek, charity worker and leader among women of Polish decent, will be held at St. Helen's church, Augusta street and Oakley boulevard, at 10 o'clock Saturday. Mrs. Jendrzejek, who was 74 years old, had lived in Chicago for fifty-seven years. She died in her home at 2511 North Richmond street. She is survived by eight children, thirty grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Minnie G. Dent, Daughter of Gen. Wheaton, Is Dead

Mrs. Minnie G. Dent, daughter of the late Gen. Lloyd Wheaton, one of Illinois' most distinguished soldiers, died at her home in San Francisco, Cal., Tuesday. Mrs. Dent was the wife of Col. John C. Dent, United States army, retired. Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Edith Dent Kern and Mrs. Lucille Burt. Funeral services will be conducted in San Francisco.

3 MORE DIPLOMA RING DEFENDANTS ARE SENT TO JAIL

CRIMINAL COURT.

Charles White, confidence game, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge D. J. Normoyle.

Monroe Stewart, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge Walter P. Steffen.

Cornelius Johnson, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary; Carl Dominico, larceny, sentenced to 1 year in the Bridewell by Judge Harry B. Miller.

Three of the men who pleaded guilty to their parts in the medical license and diploma ring were sentenced to jail yesterday by Judge John J. Sullivan of the Criminal court. They are Joseph Crane, Springfield printer, and Dr. Robert Lentine, St. Louis dentist, who were sentenced to two months each, and Harry Goldstein, alias "Senator Browsky of Springfield," sentenced to five months.

Albert Carl Barron, a fourth defendant, who was to have been sentenced to five months in jail, did not appear in court yesterday. His bond will be forfeited if he does not appear within a few days, Judge Sullivan indicated. The judge had intimated what sentences he would impose several weeks ago, but he gave the defendants time to settle their business affairs.

William H. H. Miller, former head of the state department of registration and education, was sentenced to a seven months' term some time ago and fined $2,000. It was charged that he was head of the ring.

FALL FATAL TO WOMAN, 65.

Mrs. Ruth Eisser, 65 years old, 1105 Lathrop avenue, River Forest, a widow, fell in her home last evening, suffering a skull fracture. She died before the arrival of a physician.

NEW MEETING CALLED ON CAR MERGER PLANS

No one connected with the project of consolidating the surface and elevated lines was ready to make any statement yesterday, although it was said that progress is being made. The bankers' committee desires 10 more days in which to complete its plan of a financial structure.

A meeting is to be held tomorrow morning in the private office of Attorney Walter L. Fisher on the transit question. It was called by Ald. James B. Bowler [25th], chairman of the council subcommittee on transportation.

Bowler has asked James Simpson, chairman of the citizens' committee, to be present. He has also invited Frank O. Wetmore, Eugene M. Stevens, and C. F. Clarke as representatives of the bankers' committee, and Britton I. Budd, Leonard A. Busby, and Guy Richardson for the surface and elevated roads. The aldermen to be present are Bowler, Jacob M. Arvey [24th], J. B. McDonough [13th], O. F. Nelson [46th], and John Toman [23d]. Maj. R. F. Kelker, engineer for the council transportation committee, also has been requested to attend.

The conferees are to discuss disputed and omitted sections in the proposed franchise, and are expected to arrive at final conclusions. If they do attorneys will be instructed to draft the sections in conformity with the decisions.

MRS. CARO LINA HANSON, MUSIC WORKER, IS DEAD

Mrs. Caro Lina Hanson, wife of the late Burton Hanson, general counsel of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad, died yesterday at her home, 1101 Ridge avenue, Evanston. She was 72 years old.

Mrs. Hanson was well known in musical and charitable circles in Chicago and Evanston. She was a board member of the Civic Music association, the Chicago and Evanston Woman's clubs, the Fortnightly club and served as president of the Amateur Musical club which became the Musicians Club of Women. She was for many years president of the Stockyards day nursery.

BABY KILLED BY FALL.

Eleven months old Joseph Santos, 2454 Grenshaw avenue, died yesterday of injuries received when he fell from his high chair as he was reaching to pull at his mother's dress.

PROSECUTORS GET BOOKS OF 8 MORE CITY OFFICES

The records of eight more city departments were turned over to Assistant State's Attorneys Harold W. Keele and Homer A. Dodge yesterday by First Assistant Corporation Counsel James W. Breen. The records will be photographed at the prosecutor's office and then returned.

The books turned over yesterday are from the engineering department, comptroller's office, civil service commission, building department, department of health, city sealer's office, board of local improvements, and department of gas and electricity.

The state's attorney's office several weeks ago started a general investigation of city hall pay rolls, seeking evidence of pay roll padding.

Yesterday's Puzzle Solved.

So crisp it crackles out loud!

CHILDREN everywhere have learned to listen for the crackle that always comes with Kellogg's Rice Krispies. In a year, this great new cereal has become one of the very largest sellers.

You couldn't serve a more tempting cereal for all the family. Toasted rice bubbles, and milk or cream. Extra delicious with fresh or canned fruits, or honey. Good for breakfast, lunch or supper.

Order a red-and-green package from your grocer. Served by hotels, restaurants. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Oven-fresh in the inner seal wrapper.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 26.—What was to be the Cubs' polishing up exercise preparatory to the opening tomorrow of a four game series with the Pirates developed into a running riot today. The National league champs were in a hitting mood, the angels had something resembling stage fright in the field and a flock of pitchers had nothing. The sum of it all was a painful exhibition in which the Chicagoans triumphed by a football score of 17 to 12.

The only commendable happenings were the homers that rattled off the bats of three of the major leaguers. Cuyler hit two of them, both into the bleachers. Hornsby knocked one over the wall in left, and Stephenson duded them all for distance when he lined one over the brick barrier in center. On these four homers the visitors accumulated eight of their runs. The other tallies happened because of various incidents, chief of which were eight blunders in the Angel defense.

Nelson Again Fails to Impress.

Willie McCarthy probably was highly pleased over the fashion in which his men banged the ball, but he need more or less distress in connection with a four round workout of Lou [Kiss Drive] Nelson, the high priced right-hander from the American association. The youngster yielded nine hits and four runs, which was right on a par with his previous showings. After Nelson had been sidetracked, the hurling was handled by Leo Warneke and he turned out three good innings, but in the eighth and ninth apparently had nothing more than a prayer which the Angels refused to heed.

The Cubs were out in the first inning before the Cubs displayed intentions of getting on a two run rally. Haney drew out both Beck and Grimm before Hornsby started the scoring process by singling to left. A passed ball let the Rajah move to second. Wilson walked and ran to second on the throw in, which was too late to get Hornsby at the plate. Cuyler then lammed a single through short, sending Wilson home. Kiki overran first on his hit and was eradicated to complete the inning.

Angels Tie Score.

Two hits and a pass off Nelson permitted the Angels to tie it at two runs in their half of the first session.

Stephenson's long range homer was the initial incident of the second inning. The ball still was traveling strong when it passed the center field flag pole, which is 411 feet from the plate. According to official figures. Lou Gehrig, the Yankee buster, is the only other notable who has driven a ball over the barrier at that point.

Cuyler's first homer with Wilson on base was the instrument by which the National league champs picked up a couple of more runs in the third. The Rajah also registered in this round on Hornsby's homer to right. This left the Cubs out in front, 5 to 3.

Stephenson's workout was concluded in the fourth by another Angel run, resulting from a triple by Dittmar and a fielder's out.

Three Score in Sixth.

Hornsby again was annoyed by the Angels in the sixth, three more nicklng the plate.

The Cubs' seventh, in which four runs was too ridiculous to warrant comment. It will suffice to mention that the champions made only one hit in this round, that Sigafoos committed three errors and Catcher Hartnett one. This didn't satisfy the home leaguers. They came back with one more in the ninth when Hornsby drilled his homer with two on.

PLAY HOME RUN TUNE FOR ANGELS

It was home run day for McCarthy's Cubs when the Chicagoans humbled Los Angeles yesterday. Kiki Cuyler, left, blasted two into the right field bleachers and Old Hoss Stephenson lined one over the center field fence, 411 feet from the plate. The long range drive still was traveling strong when it sailed out of the park.

KEARNS ORDERED TO PAY $2,000 IN DIVORCE PACT

Los Angeles, March 26.—(AP)—Municipal Judge May D. Lahey ordered Jack Kearns, boxing manager, to pay Mrs. Lagana Kearns $2,000 today, although neither of the principals was in court.

The order was made on a contract which the woman and Kearns signed and which provided that Kearns pay her $500 a month until "one or the other had obtained a divorce." Mrs. Kearns declared Kearns has not paid her for the last four months of 1929.

Mrs. Kearns alleged she and Kearns were married in Atlantic City, August 4, 1921, but Kearns denied he had married the woman.

JOCKEYS LUTHER AND C. E. ALLEN LOSE LICENSES

San Diego, Cal., March 26.—(AP)—Jockeys T. Luther of Aurora, Ill., and C. E. Allen of Chicago, two of the leading riders at the Agua Caliente track and among the best known jockeys in the United States, today had their licenses taken up by the Agua Caliente stewards.

The official order of the stewards read:

Heeney Returns with Wife to Consult Other Manager

Boston, Mass., March 26.—(AP)—Tom Heeney, the hard rock from New Zealand, whose pugilistic progress was halted by Gene Tunney, arrived here today with his wife on the steamer Eastern Glen from Cape Town, Africa. He said he returned to the United States at the request of his manager, Charles Harvey, but did not know what plans the latter had for him.

Helen Jacobs Wins in Cannes Tennis Tourney

CANNES, France, March 26.—(AP)—Helen Jacobs, America's second ranking tennis star, returned to the courts today after ten days' illness to win her first and second round matches in the tournament here. The California star defeated Mrs. Jackson of England, 6-0, 6-2; and Mme. Noel France, 7-5, 6-1.

In the Wake of the News

WALTER ECKERSALL.

WALTER H. ECKERSALL will be laid to rest today. At the bier, mourners will comprise not only athletic notables, leaders in business and civic life, but hundreds from the humbler walks who had known "Eckie" in his post-collegiate career as a constructive exponent of sportsmanship.

Columns have been written, columns more could be written, of Eckersall's gridiron exploits when in the public eye. Director Stagg of the University of Chicago, under whom "Eckie" played four years of collegiate football, sounded the keynote of Eckersall as an individual when speaking of his innate modesty. In a quarter century of personal association, never once did Eckersall inaugurate the subject of his football career with The Wake. When we wished to refresh our memory, we asked questions. The replies were candid, matter of fact, almost impersonal as he told of some play—just as if another person were being discussed. Notable was the lack of braggadocio. There was plenty of credit for the other fellows.

Frankly he admitted how Willie Heston once outwitted him as the Wolverine with a mighty leap hurdled the Maroon safety man crouched low for a tackle. But he did not add "and then I scrambled to my feat and caught him from behind." That required another question.

Once Eckersall wrote for THE TRIBUNE a series of greatest all time players of Big Ten colleges. Chicago was last on the list. Eckersall picked Walter Kennedy, 195 pound quarter back of the 1899 eleven. Kennedy, now a newspaper owner and publisher at Albion, Mich., would not have approved that choice in preference to Eckersall. The story was handed over to The Wake to be rewritten under our name and Eckersall rightly was awarded the honor.

We never have known an equal in such modesty and calm appraisal of self.

Your wedding will be wondrous and I know
The kings of all the world will come to it
To feast their eyes upon you as you sit
On that bejeweled throne of pompous show
Where you will smile to those that come and go
Before you with their gifts and idle bit
Of flattery and unsurpassed wit
And aught their friendly envy can bestow.
Ah, I would give you this and more again,
Could I be seated gayly at your side
Hearing them call you my beloved bride
And oft acclaim your beauty and your charms
With song and drink of those that long ere then
Had been denied the comfort of your arms.

Do You Remember 'Way Back When:

Aldermen Honor Walter Eckersall; Funeral Today

Funeral services for Walter Eckersall will be held at the Holy Cross church, 65th street and Maryland avenue, at 9:30 o'clock this morning. Interment will follow in Oakwoods cemetery, not far from the Midway and Stagg field, where the all time All American quarter back won his fame on the gridiron.

While hundreds of friends were paying their last respects at the Eckersall family residence at 7331 Kingston avenue yesterday the members of the city council of Chicago by a rising vote unanimously adopted a resolution of condolence.

Members of the championship University of Chicago team of 1905 sent a message of condolence to the relatives of the famous grid star. The names signed to the message were M. S. Catlin, Hugo Bezdek, W. J. Boone, Leo De Tray, B. P. Gale, A. H. Badenoch, F. M. Walker, E. E. Perry, C. H. Hitchcock, J. C. Harper, L. D. Sherer, L. L. Larson.

Among Eckersall's warmest friends on the south side were the members of the fire department. Engine company, No. 126, and Hook and Ladder company No. 49 are quartered in the same block where the Eckersall family resides. Eckie was a frequent visitor at the fire house.

The former football hero got his greatest thrills out of going to a fire. He made many daylight and night trips to the scene of a conflagration on the fire trucks and in the fire wagons.

Yesterday the men from the fire house cleared the snow from the street and sidewalks in the entire blocks where the Eckersall residence is located. The work was led by Capt. Anthony Leiber, Capt. Daniel Lyons, Lieuts. J. J. Clifford and James Grace, and Engr. Christian Hansen.

GIANTS SCORE 5 IN ONE INNING; DEFEAT SOX, 9-3

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

San Antonio, Tex., March 26.—Mr. McGraw's New York Giants this afternoon materially assisted Manager Donie Bush in his ax whetting ceremonies by giving the White Sox a severe beating, 9 to 3, in seven innings.

It was by far the worst showing the Chicagoans have made in the spring series with the New Yorkers but tomorrow is pruning day for Mr. Bush and the afternoon's slaughter gave him several tips in his heavy task of determining who is to be who in 1930.

The game was cut short because the weather man decided that the tourists here have had no moral right to be laughing so heartily at their snowbound friends in Chicago. There was no snow here, but no one would have been greatly surprised if a blizzard had swept across the field during the course of the contest.

Break Camp Today.

To make the cold snap doubly depressing, the Sox are scheduled to break camp tomorrow and head 200 miles north to Waco, thence a hundred miles more Friday night to Fort Worth and Dallas, towns reported to be in the path of the Chicago storm.

Returning to today's ball game, the greatest note of cheer rested in the continued ability of J. Smead Jolley to perform at bat and afield. J. Smead drove in two of the Sox three runs with singles and had a double besides. And he made some good catches and throws while the Giants were at bat.

The best the Sox could do in the first inning with three hits and a walk was one run. Hunnefield flied to Fullis but Cissell singled to left and went to third when Reynolds dumped a Texas leaguer in left center. Jolley then shot a single into right, scoring Cissell, Reynolds stopping at third. Watwood fanned but Kamm walked, filling the bases. The rally ended with Clancy's tap to Marshall.

Giants Tie Score.

New York took the lead in the fifth after two were out. Fullis popped to Cissell and Kamm threw out Farrell but Leach doubled to left and proceeded to third when Watwood booted the ball. Freddie walked home when Terry singled to center and Terry went to third when Ott singled to right. Jackson quieted things down with a fly to Watwood.

In the sixth the Giants added two more runs. Marshall was hit by a pitched ball and scored on Fullis' triple to left. On Kamm's low throw of Farrell's grounder Fullis scored.

The Sox came back with one run, but in the seventh the Giants scored five in a batting orgy aided by two walks.

The Sox made a run in the seventh on a walk to Cissell, a single by Reynolds and Jolley's third hit, a single to center.

Four A. A. U. Titles Decided in Ring Meet

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Four championships in the Central A. A. U. boxing tournament were decided last night at the Medinah Athletic club. The winners will compete in the national tournament in Boston April 7, 8, and 9.

Herbert Derex, bantamweight; William Kenny, lightweight; John Dettlaff, welterweight; and Roe Zehms, light heavyweight, are the central states winers. Dettlaff, representing the Ace Boxing club of Milwaukee, and Derex, of Solly and Behms A. C., Chicago, punched their way to titles in impressive fashion, but it was the 175 pound finalists who brought the crowd up roaring.

Roe Zehms of the Belle Plaines and Terries Hill, South Shore A. C., a squat colored lad, started punching with the first bell and never quit until the referee pried them apart at the conclusion of the extra round. Zehms received the decision, particularly for carrying the attack in the closing minutes.

Both were so nearly exhausted in three rounds of fighting that it seemed impossible they could continue. Standing toe to toe they hammered one, two, right and left, stopping only when they fell clinched in each other's arms.

Hill entered the finals when he was awarded his bout with Joe Mendoza, runner-up on the Golden Gloves team, in the fourth round when Mendoza landed below the belt.

Herbert Derex' victory over Joseph Kleko in the bantam weight finals was workmanlike. He beat his opponent to the punch many times, and his right always was dangerous. In the first round Derex landed and Kleko went down for nine seconds.

Milwaukee has its first champion in three years in Detlaff. He was the outstanding fighter of the tournament. In the semi-finals he stopped Oscar Krueger in one round and needed only two to repeat the performance in the finals against Walter Sabbath.

MAUREEN ORCUTT LEADS FIELD IN MIDSOUTH MEET

Mrs. Hill 6 Strokes Back with 160.

Southern Pines, N. C., March 26.—(AP)—Lounging comfortably around the clubhouse today, Miss Maureen Orcutt of Haworth, N. J., saw her brilliant 154 for the first 36 holes of the women's midsouth golf tournament here withstand the assaults of a half dozen entries, including the American champion, Miss Glenna Collett.

Miss Orcutt shot a 76 yesterday before the wind and rain descended and caused tournament officials to offer optional replay today to players caught on the fairways by the elements. The 76, coupled with her low 78 Monday, enabled Miss Orcutt to top the field.

Miss Collett Fifth.

Miss Collett faced weather conditions today almost as bad as yesterday. A cold, driving windstorm swept the links as she made her round in 84, three strokes less than she took yesterday. The 84, with her 80 Monday, placed her in fifth position with 164, ten strokes behind the leader. Her card:

Par—Out	434	443	544	—35
Collett—Out	446	544	745	—43
Par—In	345	463	434	—36—71
Collett—In	445	474	544	—41—81

Three other scores made in spite of the elements yesterday placed their owners in the forefront and within striking distance of the leader. Six strokes behind Miss Orcutt is Mrs. O. S. Hill of Kansas City, with 160, while Miss Marian Bennett, young star from New England, is third with 161. Mrs. John Arends of Chicago is next with 163.

Miss Fordyce Shoots 166.

Among others at the top are Miss Louise Fordyce of Youngstown, O., with 166, and Miss Edith Quier of Reading, Pa., with 169. Scores of the leaders:

Miss Maureen Orcutt, Haworth	78	76	154
Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City	82	78	160
Miss Marian Bennett, New Britain Conn.	81	80	161
Mrs. John Arends, Chicago	86	77	163
Miss Glenna Collett, New York	80	84	164
Miss Louise Fordyce, Youngstown, O.	85	81	166

CARNERA KAYOS TRAFTON AFTER JUST 54 SECONDS

Kansas City, Mo., March 26.—(AP)—Primo Carnera knocked out George Trafton, Chicago professional football player, after 54 seconds of the first round in their scheduled 10 round bout here tonight.

The agile Alp had Trafton, the conqueror of Art Shires, on the canvas a few seconds after the bout started for a count of 5 or 6. Trafton, who had done his best work on the football field for Notre Dame, was flopped a second time with little difficulty. The third time Trafton hit the canvas from a left and right. He rolled over on his back and took the long count before the fans had seen a minute of sparring.

More than 8,000 fans witnessed the bout. The big Italian pushed, rather than jabbed his opponent to the canvas. The Chicagoan was still flat on his back when Primo left the ring.

OFFICIALS FIND KEG ADDRESSED TO NORMAN ROSS

Honolulu, H. T., March 26.—(AP)—Four hours after Norman Ross of Chicago, noted swimmer, sailed for San Francisco today on the liner Matsonia federal prohibition officials disclosed that they had seized a five gallon keg of okolehao, native liquor, at the American Express office, and that it had been addressed to Ross at his Chicago address. The seizure, they said, was made yesterday.

Officials said they would investigate the consignment further. Whether Ross would be questioned about the liquor after he reaches the mainland they did not say.

BY HARLAND ROHM.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., March 26.—Howie Morenz, greatest star of hockey, turned back the Chicago Blackhawks in the longest overtime ever registered in major league hockey history tonight. He scored the winning goal in the two game Stanley cup playoff series after 2 hours 1 minute and 43 seconds of the bitterest hockey ever contested on ice.

The Hawks entered tonight's game at Montreal one goal in arrears. Ty Arbour, veteran captain and right wing of Chicago, scored the tieing goal in 1 minute and 38 seconds. Morenz again put the Flying Frenchmen ahead after Dutkowski apparently had scored, but Referee Cy Denneny refused to count the "goal."

Miller Evens Score.

Three minutes later Miller scored on Tommy Cook's pass to put the Hawks one goal ahead insofar as the game was concerned and all square on the series, since Les Canadiens defeated the Hawks 1 to 0 at the Chicago stadium last Sunday night.

Then came the final setting. For three 20 minute periods in Chicago and for three 20 minute periods here tonight the Hawks battled to the total score of 2 to 2. They played another 10 minutes of "regular" overtime and 50 minutes of "sudden death," the first goal to decide the series.

Then came Morenz. There had been drama before. Chuck Gardiner had twice been knocked cold by crashes with an opposing man. He was revived and he came back. Ty Arbour, veteran captain of the Blackhawks, had been carried out with broken and twisted ligaments in his right leg that may spell the end of hockey for him. Pete Lepine had been carried out and he had come back, twisted ankle and all, to hold the Hawks at bay.

Morenz Comes Through.

Then came Morenz. Three furious hours had passed into hockey history—one in the Stadium, during which 17,475 Chicago spectators watched the Flying Frenchman win 1 to 0; one in Montreal during which the grim Hawks had tied the score at 2 to 2 before 12,000 habitants, and still another hour in which these same 12,000 yelled at every move of Howie Morenz, Pit Lepine, or George Mantha, who carried the Flying Frenchmen to victory tonight.

Then came Morenz, one minute and forty-three seconds after the start of the third hour. He came through to win the cheers of the crowd, to be carried off the ice on the shoulders of his teammates, while Les Habitants leaped to their feet and shivered the roof of the Forum with their cheers.

Morenz had rushed down the ice along with Armand Mondou, sub linesman. Mondou carried the puck. Unquestionably he carried the prayers of all the Frenchmen in Quebec. Inside the Hawks' blue line he passed sidewise, across the rink to Morenz. Morenz took the pass, caught it on his stick like a veteran catcher takes a fast one from the pitcher—drove in and beat Charley Gardiner.

It wasn't Gardiner's fault. Chuck had saved enough shots earlier in the game to win a gold medal and all-time fame for any goalie. He was simply up against the hardest shot in the National Hockey league, with a six foot goal to protect with a two foot body. It couldn't be done.

Play Rangers Tomorrow.

That's why it is Les Canadiens will play New York's Rangers Friday night in Montreal instead of the blue shirted Rangers playing the Hawks in Chicago.

One could go back through the game and recite dozens of instances in which either team should have scored. To try to enumerate the times in which one individual saved the goal that would have won the game and the series and possibly the Stanley cup emblematic of the world's championship would be a roster of both teams.

For the most it wasn't spectacular hockey. The thrilling moments were well spaced, for both teams tried to play the game as safely as possible. The thrills were well spaced, in the manner in which a good fiction writer spaces his thrills. They came regularly but at unexpected moments. It thrilled 12,000 as it might have thrilled 12,000,000 had television been as common a fact as radio.

But to return to facts. The first and second goals were simple, so simple that in both cases the crowd hardly realized the goal was scored until the red light flashed back of the goal.

Arbour Scores First.

Ty Arbour, the veteran who now lays in a Montreal hospital, probably through with hockey for life, scored the first one, tieing the series, scored one minute and 38 seconds after the start of the game.

He captured the puck in mid-ice, skirted the defense men, sailing around to the left and beating Hainsworth with a shot lifted over his prone body. Hainsworth had dropped lengthwise of the net, expecting a low shot. Arbour fooled him.

The rest of the period was a furious battle. And still the score was even. With half the second period gone, after Cook had drawn a penalty for tripping, Morenz slid around the left side of the defense with the speed that is his and his alone, and slid a shot underneath Gardiner's dive. It put Les Canadiens a goal ahead on the series and even on the game.

But before the period was over the Hawks had tied the count again. They thought they had done it on that disputed goal of Dutkowski's. Incidentally Dick Irvin, coach of the Hawks, was fined $200 by Referee Cy Denneny for calling him improper names after the goal was disallowed. In one of the intermissions Frank Calder, president of the league, said the fine would not stand.

Denneny's Ruling Stands.

The facts are these: Dutkowski started down right ice. He passed to Somers, who shot, and Hainsworth, Canadien goalie, stopped the puck by falling on it. Dutkowski, following in his shot, dug the puck out from under the goalie and pushed it into the net.

Referee Denneny declared he had blown his whistle, declaring the puck dead—that is, under the goalie—before the red light had flashed indicating the goal umpire had called a goal. Whether Denneny or the goal umpire was right is immaterial, as Denneny's ruling of "no goal" stands.

Hawks Return Today.

That goal came in 12 minutes and 49 seconds of the second period of the second game. One hour 28 minutes and 54 seconds later, in which both teams did everything a hockey team can be expected to do and more, Morenz ripped the puck into the net for the goal that may make Les Canadiens world champions.

The Hawks will return to Chicago tomorrow, and after a couple of days' rest most of them will entrain for California to play a series of exhibition games with the Pacific Coast league hockey teams.

3 CHICAGO PREP CAGE TEAMS BID FOR STAGG TITLE

Chicago's three entries in the University of Chicago's national basketball interscholastic are expected to make a formidable bid for the title when play opens next Tuesday. The three local teams entered are Morgan Park, runnerup for the City league championship; St. Mel's, west side Catholic league team which was coming fast at the end of the season, and Central Y. M. C. A. Day school, winner of the mid-west prep school championship.

Morgan Park, which won eleven out of its thirteen league games this year, is a good all around quintet. The south siders lost the city title by a margin of one point to Wendell Phillips. They are experienced in playing before big crowds, and with a cool bunch of players, look like the best Chicago team.

St. Mel's was practically unbeatable late in the season, and was only defeated in the Wisconsin tournament last week by the ultimate champion, Terrill academy of Texas, in an overtime fight. Central Y. M. C. A. Day school was also defeated by Terrill at Wisconsin, but won the midwest meet easily.

Browns Will Train for 5 Years at West Palm Beach

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 26.—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns, of the American league, completed arrangements today that will bring them here for spring training during the next five years.

A contract was signed by club officials and authorities of the city giving the Browns exclusive use of the Municipal Athletic field for that period.

Arsenal and Huddersfield Reach Football Semi-Final

BIRMINGHAM, England, March 26.—(AP)—Arsenal and Huddersfield Town won their way to the final of the English Football association cup competition today. Arsenal defeated Hull City one goal to none in a replayed game from the semi-final round. Jackhof of Arsenal scored the only goal of the match, which was played on the grounds of Aston Villa. The final game will be played on April 26.

LOUISIANA DERBY DRAWS HORSES OF PLATER CLASS

BY FRENCH LANE.

The Louisiana Derby will be run tomorrow at Jefferson Park in New Orleans and all the horses that will take part in the renewal of the stake are not worth much more than the $10,000 purse.

It will be the cheapest field that ever competed in Dixie's Derby, but the New Orleans people should not feel badly about it. Miami's Derby attracted but little more and a band of selling platers ran in the $25,000 added Agua Caliente Derby won by the filly Greyola.

This does not necessarily mean there is a scarcity of good 3 year olds. More likely it signifies the owners have become aware of the possibilities for a 3 year old in May, June, July and August and have decided to pass up the purses offered at the winter courses.

Just Good Platers.

Good 3 year olds visited the winter tracks in former seasons, Black Gold, Bagenbaggage, Boot To Boot, Master Charley, Sir Harry, Naishapur, and Boo were among them. But there doesn't seem to be a 3 year old of the same caliber at any of the winter turf centers this year.

Michigan Boy, Brother Rank, Bad News Bob, General Jackson, and Playfellow's Dream are among the starters in tomorrow's Louisiana Derby. Michigan Boy is probably a high class selling plater. The others are hardly that good. Greyola, the Agua Caliente Derby winner, while reported sold for $15,000 the day before the race, was only a good selling plater in New York last year. The colts which trailed the daughter of Grey Lag to the line of finish are not even high class selling platers.

Titus, the winner of the Miami Derby, may be the best of the winter track 3 year olds. He was bred by Joseph E. Widener and sold at auction last season as a 2 year old, but didn't bring much of a price, something around $3,000. But he is a son of Infinite, out of the mare Precipitate, she by Trompe La Morte, a Metropolitan stakes winner, which has developed into a successful American sire.

Titus Improves Gradually.

Titus is owned by George Wentzell, a well to do New Yorker, and is trained by Bob Odom. Titus did not face the barrier until last August and improved gradually at Miami, finally coming up to the peak of his form on Derby day when he easily disposed of all his 3 year old rivals.

With the Preakness, Kentucky Derby, those two rich Chicago 3 year old stakes, the American Derby and Arlington Classic, the Belmont, and any numbers of others to shoot at in New York, owners cannot be blamed for withholding their best 3 year olds from winter track fixtures.

But it is rather sad the winter track promoters should offer rich prizes and be able to attract only horses that are not much better than the seventh race caliber when they appear to run against the northern big shots in the spring and summer months.

Nelson Millard of Yale Breaks Swimming Marks

New Haven, Conn., March 26.—(AP)—Nelson W. Millard, member of Yale's swimming team, today broke the Intercollegiate Swimming association 220 and 440 yard breast stroke records in sanctioned races. Swimming against a teammate, Charles Mercer, Millard swam the 220 in 2:53 2-5, as against the former time of 3:06 4-5. In the 440 he broke the old mark of 6:45 2-5 by swimming the distance in 6:17.

Don't neglect a COLD

DISTRESSING cold in chest or throat—that so often leads to something serious—generally responds to good old Musterole with the first application. Should be more effective if used once every hour for five hours.

Working like the trained hands of a masseur, this famous blend of oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other helpful ingredients brings relief naturally. It penetrates and stimulates blood circulation, helps to draw out infection and pain. Used by millions for 20 years. Recommended by doctors and nurses.

Keep Musterole handy—jar and tube.

PHILLIES SCORE 1ST WIN AGAINST BIG LEAGUE TEAM

Winter Haven, Fla., March 26.—(AP)—Scoring their first victory over a major league opponent this year, the Philadelphia Nationals spilled the world champion Philadelphia Athletics today, 5 to 2. The second base combination of McNair and Williams for the Athletics handed the Phillies their victory with errors at critical moments, each making a boot and a wild throw.

Score:

ROCHESTER WALLOPS CARDS.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 26.—(AP)—Rochester of the International league defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 17 to 7, in an exhibition game here today. The game was the first of the series of nine games between the teams. Rochester pounded Sherdel and Haid freely. Score:

Batteries—Carleton, Irving, Berly and Jontard; Rinkle, Sherdel, Haid, Hill, Lindsay and Smith, Mancuso.

DETROIT BEATS VANCE.

Tampa, Fla., March 26.—(AP)—Dazzy Vance failed to dazzle the Detroit Tigers here today and the American leaguers defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4 to 3.

The Tigers fell on Vance for four runs in the first two innings—a lead which the Dodgers were not able to overcome. Alexander and McManus aided the Tigers' cause with home runs. Score:

Brooklyn	001	200	000	3	8	0
Detroit	310	010	02•	7	11	0

Batteries—Vance, Elliott, Morrison, Meadows and Deberry; Whitehill, Uhle and Hayworth, Shea.

PIRATES WIN, 10 TO 9.

Oakland, Cal., March 26.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates made it two out of three from Oakland by winning a slugging contest here today 10 to 9. Score:

Pittsburgh (N.)	313	300	000	10	12	1

REDS BEAT COLUMBUS.

Orlando, Fla., March 26.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds trimmed the Columbus Senators, 9 to 3, in an exhibition game here today, gathering eleven hits off three Columbus hurlers, while Al Eckert and Kenneth Ash, former Senators, were holding the American association club to five safeties. Score by innings:

Columbus (A. A.)	000	120	000	3	5	3

OXFORD DEFEATS CAMBRIDGE; U. S. GOLFERS STAR

HOYLAKE, England, March 26.—(AP)—Led by three youthful Americans, the Oxford golfers defeated Cambridge today for the first time since 1926.

Oxford, captained by Robert H. Baugh Jr., Rhodes scholar from Birmingham, Ala., won by a score of 11 matches to 3, taking four of yesterday's five foursomes and eight of the ten singles today. All three of the American players turned in victories in the singles.

Capt. Baugh took the measure of Eric Prain, Cambridge leader, by a margin of 4 and 3. Another hard driver from the United States, Charles Sweeney of New York and London, overwhelmed W. C. Carr of Cambridge, 6 and 5, while the third member of the Yankee trio, Harry Scheftlin of New York and Paris, emerged victorious over J. D. Kerr of Cambridge, 1 up, after an uphill battle.

ARGENTINE POLO TEAM IS OUT OF INTERNATIONAL

Los Angeles, March 26.—(AP)—The Argentine Polo team, undefeated to date in its invasion of the United States, will not compete in the international matches at Meadowbrook, N. Y., in September.

This was announced today when the Four Horsemen made plans to depart next Tuesday for New York, from where they will sail to South America. The gauchos will auction off half their fifty odd polo ponies here Saturday, and return the remainder to Argentina.

Substitute Wrestling Card at Fronton Tomorrow Night

Joe Coffey, out of deference to the Central A. A. U. championships, has abandoned his usual bill at the fronton and in lieu of boxing will present an all star wrestling card, to be followed by six games of Jai Lai tomorrow night. The top bout will bring Karol Zbyszko, the Polish star, and Boris Demitroff, his rival from Bulgaria, together in a finish match, two out of three falls. Other bouts will feature Bull Montana, and Joe Basewics, in a one fall match, while Zach Malkov, middleweight contender, will take on Peter Holtz.

Novices Roll Into Lead of ABC Doubles

Cleveland, O., March 26.—(AP)—That but two years of bowling can make a person a potential world's champion hardly seems possible, yet that is the situation as it confronts Joe Lusardi of Rochester, N. Y., as a result of the 1,337 he and his partner, Frank Pocori, rolled to take the lead in the doubles event of the American Bowling Congress tournament here late today.

Lusardi took up bowling less than two years ago, and this is his first tournament. It is but the second American Bowling Congress classic in which Pocori has participated. The latter was the star of the duo, as he hit off a series of 709, Lusardi getting 628. Their games were 373, 488 and 476.

But one other change occurred among the leaders. R. F. Taylor of Passaic gained fifth in the all events with 1,910. He had 624 in his team event, 657 in the doubles and 629 in the singles. Two pairs came close to entrance in the big ten column. H. Robinson and E. Anderson of Chicago clicked off a 1,259, and H. Forrer and G. Lik of Cleveland totaled 1,257. Best singles of the afternoon was a 678 by W. Witte of Passaic.

The pin gathering continued at a hot pace into the evening for the first score posted was 2,959 by the Schwarz Ballrooms of Hartford, Wis., which placed this quintet in a tie for first place with the Spartans of New York City. Games scores were 898, 1,002 and 1,059. Standings:

MOTHER OF BALL PLAYER AWARDED $22,500 DAMAGES

Baltimore, Md., March 26.—[Special.]—Mrs. Josephine Lerian, widowed mother of Walter (Peck) Lerian, catcher last year for the Philadelphia National league club, today was awarded $22,500 damages in her suit because of her son's death. The owners of the truck which fatally injured the ball player failed to contest the case.

While her son was away playing ball, he sent her $60 every two weeks and supported her and paid all expenses of her home when he lived with her, his mother testified.

Horton Smith, 114 Others to Tee Off at Pinehurst

Pinehurst, N. C., March 26.—(AP)—With Horton Smith of Cragston, N. Y., defending champion, determined to win his second crown, a record entry of 115 players, 32 more than last year, will tee off in the 28th annual north and south open golf tournament here tomorrow. Prize money is doubled from last year and amounts to $5,600, $1,500 going to the winner.

Northwestern and Stanford Tankers Arrive at Harvard

Cambridge, Mass., March 26.—(AP)—The Stanford and Northwestern swimming teams, entered in the National Collegiate association's championship meet in the new Harvard pool on Friday and Saturday, arrived here today. Most of the other twenty teams entered in this meet were expected tomorrow.

Neenah Cagers Beat Wausau in Wisconsin Prep Tourney

Madison, Wis., March 26. — The downfall of Wausau, 1929 champions, who dropped a 23-12 decision to the fighting Redjackets of Neenah, marked the first round of the Wisconsin State High school basketball tournament tonight.

Wausau faded out before the sharpshooting of Schmidt and Bell of Neenah, who scored 19 of their teams points, and the guarding of Capt. Ehlers and Neubauer. The former champs were ahead in the first period 7-5, but at the half the count was tied 11 all and in the third quarter Neenah took a commanding lead, 21-11.

Monroe won the thriller of the first day's play from Tomah, 14-13. Kundert tied the score at 11 all with a free throw for Monroe as the fourth period opened and Hoesley, 95 pound forward, won the game with a basket and free throw.

Altoona, a village of 1,000 people, near Eau Claire, whipped Platteville, 17 to 9. Racine Horlick had to show but little to overcome the Baron five, 23 to 13, while Beloit, led by Capt. Duke Milleam with 13 points, vanquished Rhinelander, 25 to 11. Madison Central eliminated the hitherto unbeaten Richland Center five, 21 to 10, in a game in which Carsten and Younger led the central attack.

Superior Central won from Menomonie in a drab contest, 20 to 11, and Oconto, led by a pair of midget brothers, W. and A. Winther, furnished the second major upset of the meet by nosing out Wisconsin Rapids, 22 to 18.

SPARKLERS WIN, 68-6.

GEM BLADES . . a change for the best

Teller . . . "I'm careful, but my blades aren't. The fellows who inspected them must be near sighted."

Banker . . . "Change to Gem Blades. They keep my face as smooth as my shaving mirror."

Stop blaming a bad blade for bad shaves. Change to the Gem and there will be no occasion for blame. Gem's edge is so keen it needs no alibi. The Gem Blade shaves you so smoothly it leaves neither whiskers nor regrets. It is the 100% blade—100% uniform—100% satisfactory—and we stand 100% behind it.

And remember the economy of genuine Gem Blades:—you get more shaves per blade.

Help Feed the Early Arrivals of Birdland

BY BOB BECKER.

While residents of Chicagoland and adjacent states wield their snow shovels to dig themselves out of the 18 or more inches of snow which covers the landscape, they should not forget to take five minutes to clear off a patch of ground where food may be distributed for the birds.

This spring blizzard has put the song and game birds into another tough situation comparable in many ways to the one they faced last January when their food supplies were buried by a sleet storm. It is difficult for a bird to get a square meal when anywhere from a foot and a half to three or four feet of snow is on top of nature's lunch counter. Therefore, now is the time to lend the robins, cardinals (a number have wintered in Chicagoland), quail, and other species with an assortment of food. If the present record snowfall stays with us very long many of our birds will suffer from starvation unless we give them food.

Farmers, estate owners, sportsmen, Boy Scouts, and others who are close to open places or live in the country will give the quail, pheasants, larks, and other species a big lift by distributing wheat, buckwheat, cracked corn, chaff or other grains where the birds will find it. It is comparatively easy to reach the so-called domesticated species of song birds, such as the robin, which like to live near houses. But it is not so easy to get food to the number of song and game birds that stay in the fields, meadows, weedy sloughs or thickets.

Here is a list of foods any two or three of which you can put in your yard or on your acreage to help the birds get by during this bad weather: Hemp seed, cracked corn, chaff or sweepings, buckwheat, canary seed, bread crumbs, chunks of suet, meat bones, and rolled oats. For the birds of field and meadow cracked corn, buckwheat, wheat, or oats are best.

Don May Ask Extension of Time for Speed Trials

Daytona Beach, Fla., March 26—(AP)—With beach conditions showing little improvement, Kaye Don, British contender for the world's automobile speed record, announced today that unless he was able to make his trials by Sunday he would request the American Automobile association to extend his sanction. The original sanction was made from March 15 to 30.

QUERY: WHY DID YANKS RELEASE FRED HEIMACH?

Shawkey Explains, but Experts Wonder.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 26.—[Special.]—What is the "inside" on the sale of Freddy Heimach, left hander, who won thirteen games for the Yankees last year and finished second only to George Pipgras, who took eighteen?

Bob Shawkey today laughed off any suggestion that the release of Heimach to Toledo had a so-called mystery angle.

What Shawkey Says.

"It wasn't reasonable to expect us to go on the road with five left handers," Bob said. "Somebody had to go. At first I thought I'd keep Heimach for relief work only, but when Gomez came along like a house afire my mind was made up for me. It was Gomez or Heimach, and I preferred to work with a 20 year old sensation rather than with a veteran."

As Heimach left to join the Toledo club at Anniston, Ala., Shawkey reiterated the denial of a report that he had fined and suspended the left hander.

Did He Break Rules?

But the Yankee manager did not recede from the stand that "there are things a player can't do on this ball club." Shawkey declined to discuss this statement and explain whether he referred to failure to do enough conditioning work, insubordination or breach of discipline.

In the meantime the camp buzzes with quiet discussion of the case and the experts wonder how a pitcher who won thirteen games in 1929 was not good enough for a wiser price gamble by the Dodgers and Reds, among others.

BENDIX LEADS ACTIVE CHICAGO STOCK SESSION

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Anticipating the annual report which is to be made public today, Bendix Aviation led in an active market on the Chicago exchange yesterday and established a new high for the year at 52. The issue sold slightly above that figure but eased a bit in late profit taking. Utility stocks were also strong with a few touching their best 1930 prices.

Vincent Bendix, president, said yesterday that net earnings of company for 1929 were $7,416,408 after all deductions and ample provision for depreciation. In 1928 the company earned net profits of $6,166,045. "Since Jan. 1," Mr. Bendix declared, "the company has been compelled to make expansion in its plants and equipment, notably the Bendix Brake company, in order to take care of the additional business secured."

Cities Service Gains.

Utilities Power and Light "A" was outstanding in its group with a gain of 2¾, while other utilities, notably Cities Service, showed a strong tone. Cities Service, which has been mentioned frequently in connection with the proposed piping of natural gas to Chicago, climbed 2 points on fairly active turnover. American Commonwealth Power "A" advanced an even point.

The Insull issues were unchanged for the most part. Middle West was actively traded in but showed no change in the price at the close.

An increase in the annual dividend rate on the common stock of Central and Southwest Utilities from 4 to 6 per cent was announced yesterday. The stock was off a fraction at the finish. The new rate will go into effect with the quarterly payment payable July 15 to holders of record June 30.

A dividend basis of 1½ per cent in stock on the common shares of Corporation Securities was announced yesterday. The stock of the company was originally offered in units of one share of common and one share of preferred. The allotment certificates closed yesterday at $9.

Plan Chicago Listing.

It is reported in the street that a new offering of the common stock will be made shortly. Application will be made, it is understood, to list the common on the Chicago exchange.

A spurt of 6 points to 28 on light sales by Raytheon was the feature among the radio stocks. Atlas Stores was strong, rising 1¼ on fairly active trading. Grigsby was easy.

Among the specialties Castle continued in demand and advanced over 2 points to 67¾. Other specialties making substantial gains were Sheffield Steel, National Standard, and Merchants and Manufacturers.

NO MENACE IN CHAIN SYSTEMS, YONKER STATES

Seen Outgrowth of War on Waste.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The vast system of chain stores that have had a mushroom growth in the United States in recent years is "not an ogre to destroy small merchants." It is a new development in efficient distribution and a complement to the mass production that has given American industry world supremacy.

It's was the picture drawn by E. G. Yonker, president of the Sanitary Grocery company and retiring president of the National Chain Store association, in an address before the Bankers' Club of Chicago at a dinner in the Palmer house last night.

"There are those who cry out that if the chain system is to continue the highways of commerce will be strewn with the wreckage of those businesses which are unable to adjust themselves to the pace it sets," Mr. Yonker said. "Perhaps this is inevitable, but the public is entitled to demand that every retail merchant wage ceaseless war on waste.

Ratio of Failure.

"To those who say that the chain store is driving the independent merchant out of business I can only say that the ratio of failures among independent merchants is no greater now than it has been for forty years. Throughout the history of independent retailing nine out of ten individual merchants have failed in each decade. And the ratio has scarcely varied a fraction during these great years of chain store growth.

"To those who charge that the growth of chain stores tends to create a monopoly controlled by a few, with vast power for potential harm, I can only point out that there are in this country more than 6,000 chain store companies operating under separate ownership and management, each in competition with the others in its field.

Success Through Efficiency.

"The individual merchant in one store is just as sure of success as a chain store company with a thousand stores, if he will apply equally efficient methods. The chain store has been obliged to recognize every economic law that affects any retail merchant. With a thorough study and energetic application of essential principles, retailing success is assured to the chain store merchant and to the independent merchant without fear and without favor from the gods of economic destiny.

"Just as the secret of mass production is to be found in standardized articles produced at small unit profit, so the secret of mass distribution is to be found at the same source. Manufacturers have been exhausting themselves to reduce expenditures, to analyze purchasing power, to cut transportation costs, and to increase inventory turnovers. The chain store and those who have profited by its example are doing precisely this service for distribution."

Other aspects of chain merchandising were discussed by F. H. Massman, vice president of the National Tea company.

Upturn in Steel.

A turn for the better in steel production after six weeks of decline is reported by the mid-week steel trade reviews.

"Sentiment in the iron and steel trade has improved," the Iron Age says, "but to what extent this change is based on hope rather than on justifiable expectations is still uncertain. Among the favorable factors are an upturn in production, following a continuous decline since the middle of February, and scattered evidences of better demand. The average rate of activity for the country at large is placed at 76 per cent of capacity, compared with a shade below 75 per cent a week ago."

"Most automotive manufacturers have adopted heavier schedules for April and a few have specified accordingly," the Iron Trade says. "Producers and consumers alike continue cautious and are modest in their expectations, but the feeling is widespread that both production and demand have turned the corner and may be expected to improve slightly over the next few weeks."

Auto Output Expands.

Automobile manufacturing expanded last month in the middle west, according to the monthly review of the Chicago Federal Reserve bank.

"Wholesale distribution of automobiles continued to gain in February and sales of retail dealers to users were considerably heavier," the review says. "But the volume sold at both wholesale and retail remained below a year ago. Used car sales not only increased over January, but also exceeded the same month of 1929. Stocks of new cars did not experience the heavy increase which took place in February last year, so that the volume on hand for the first time since August, 1928, totaled less in the year to year comparison."

American Banking Trend Is Towards Concentration

BY SCRUTATOR.

Despite the opposition to chain and group banking and the constant controversy over the wisdom of permitting the spread of such systems, even a casual look at the problem shows that American banking is becoming more concentrated.

Last year's beginning found this country with 25,407 banks. The year witnessed the passing out through mergers, failures, or other causes of 927. The late reports consequently show that there are now 24,480 banking institutions.

Of those that have disappeared for any cause, the Bankers' Monthly declares that 725 had deposits of less than $1,000,000. There are still about 18,000 banks of this class left. They hold, however, only about 10 per cent of total deposits aggregating over sixty billions.

Deposits of Big Six.

It is interesting to know that six of the country's largest institutions, including one in Chicago, have more deposits than the 18,000 small institutions that represent three-quarters of the whole number of units.

This last compilation, by the California bank of Los Angeles, was made before the recent merger of the Chase-Equitable-Interstate interests in New York. When this change is fully in operation it may be that five will outweigh 18,000. The combination headed by the Chase National is to outstrip even the huge Midland and Lloyds banks of London, with their hundreds of branches over the whole of Great Britain.

Only three of the British big five will in future be in the first five financial giants. The American Banker finds that already ninety-three of the world's 150 largest banking institutions, including the central banks of issue, are in this country.

The movement to concentration is almost as marked among the biggest institutions as among the smallest in the United States. Banking authorities hold that less than a quarter of a million of deposits, except in rare instances, will not make reasonable profits for stockholders. Yet there are still 7,946 such banks. Their total disappearance probably would not mean a shifting of as much in deposits as the holdings of any one of the largest six banks in the country.

Result of Mergers.

Due to the mergers of the last year, there was a falling off in the number of banks with from one to five millions of deposits, from five to ten millions, from ten to twenty-five millions, from twenty-five to forty millions, and even in the total number having more than forty millions. Extremely high brackets must be established before we obtain a gain in institutions.

It is possible, in the view of some economists, that the building up of small banks into larger ones having half a million or more in deposits may have the effect of cutting down the speed of chain and group system spread.

RICHMAN BROS. WILL OPEN 3 NEW BRANCHES

The opening of two branch stores on Saturday and another next month was announced yesterday by the Richman Brothers company, clothiers. Managers for the branches have been chosen from salesmen in the main downtown store. Ben Goldstein will manage the new store at 6400 South Halsted street and Arthur A. Appel will manage the branch at 4011 West Madison street. Both stores will open Saturday. Arthur L. Warriner will manager the store to be opened next month.

CHICAGO STOCK EXCHANGE LISTS NEW SECURITIES

The listings are 1,068,311 voting trust certificates representing class "B" common shares of the American Utilities and General corporation; $5,000,000 Illinois Publishing and Printing company 6½ per cent secured debentures; 500,000 shares of Reliance International corporation class "A" common stock; 115,000 shares participating class "A" stock of the Twin States Natural Gas company, and 500,000 shares no par value class "A" common of the Reliance International corporation.

Offering will be made today of 100,000 shares of the "A" stock of the Twin States Natural Gas. The issue is being marketed by E. R. Diggs & Co., and Investment Securities corporation. The stock is priced at $14 a share to yield about 7.14 per cent.

UNITED AIRCRAFT MAY ACQUIRE NATIONAL AIR TRANSPORT, IS RUMOR

Rumors persisted here yesterday the United Aircraft and Transport corporation, one of the four big aviation holding companies, is negotiating for the acquisition of National Air Transport, one of the oldest and largest mail carrying lines in the United States. The rumors were given strength by the fact that stocks of both companies were particularly strong on the New York stock exchange yesterday.

The acquisition of N. A. T. would join the two largest carriers of air mail in the country. N. A. T. carries mail from Chicago to New York over the eastern segment of the transcontinental mail trunk lines, and Boeing Air Transport, big subsidiary of United Aircraft, carries it from Chicago to San Francisco over the western end of the transcontinental line. Joining these lines would place the main stem of the nation's airways under the control of one company.

The rumors followed the recent announcement that N. A. T. is planning a super transport service for flying passengers between New York and Chicago in less than seven hours. Lester D. Seymour, general manager of N. A. T., left for New York immediately after this announcement. Boeing Air Transport is also planning a passenger service between here and the Pacific coast. This fact led to the belief that the two lines were to join in opening the first all air passenger service from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Youngstown, O., March 26.—Youngstown was warned today by Charles M. Schwab, chairman of Bethlehem Steel corporation, that frustration of the proposed merger between Youngstown Sheet and Tube company and Bethlehem Steel corporation will mean the "throttling" of the city.

Mr. Schwab, who arrived here today with Eugene G. Grace, president of Bethlehem, delivered his first statement on the proposed merger since the Eaton interests came out in open opposition to the plan.

Youngstown stockholders are meeting April 8 to ballot on the consolidation, which is being vigorously fought by a group of stockholders led by Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland capitalist, who is seeking to unite Youngstown and Inland Steel company of Chicago. Mr. Eaton is the largest individual stockholder in Youngstown and Inland. He and his associates also control the Republic Steel corporation, which ranks second to Bethlehem Steel in size.

Hope for Truce Ends.

Mr. Eaton departed for Cleveland before the arrival of the Bethlehem executives, putting an end to hopes for a truce in the fight.

Mr. Schwab expressed surprise there should be sentiment in Youngstown against the merger. The city council this week passed a resolution opposing the merger. The merger, Mr. Schwab said, would be to the advantage of the community.

"Merged with Bethlehem, Sheet and Tube will remain a local institution, and it will have advantages it never before possessed," he said. "The situation is that Sheet and Tube must consolidate with some one.

"In every instance in which Bethlehem has taken over steel properties their values have been greatly increased. We never buy a steel property to shut it down. We never buy a property unless we expect to develop it."

Presents Statistics.

Statistics presented by him showed large increases in pay rolls at plants absorbed by Bethlehem. At Steelton, Pa., he said the pay roll had increased from $4,000,000 in 1916 to $8,000,000. At Lebanon, Pa., the pay roll rose from $2,000,000 to $3,200,000, and at Sparrows Point, Md., from $3,000,000 at the time of purchase to $21,000,000, and at the Lackawanna plants, from $8,000,000 to $13,000,000.

"If Sheet and Tube consolidates with Inland Steel it will still be entirely local, for Inland is local," Schwab said. "A merger with Inland will not enable you to compete any better than you do now."

Grace said that if the merger fails Bethlehem will be forced to build its own pipe plants at Sparrows Point, Md., a duplication which would be bad for the industry as a whole.

INCOME TAX YIELDS NEARLY 533 MILLIONS

Washington, D. C., March 26.—(AP)—The treasury reported today that income tax collection for March 24 were $14,845,688, making total collections as of that date $532,648,716.

The total for the month, however, was approximately $34,000,000 less than collected in the same number of days last year when $566,284,393 had been received. With six more business days left in the month it was predicted unofficially that the total of the March income tax collections would total less than $550,000,000. A drop of approximately $51,000,000 as compared with the month last year.

Change Expiration Date for Fox Film Corp. Rights

New York, March 26.—Announcement that there will be no clearance in the Fox Film corporation class A stock rights and debenture rights on March 28 was made today by the New York Stock Clearing corporation. Rights were recently extended owing to the continued litigation in connection with the Bancamerica-Blair refinance plan. The rights were to be offered under the Bancamerica plan which was recently approved at a meeting of stockholders but which is being contested in the courts. The Fox Film corporation has extended the expiration date of the rights to subscribe to new stock and debenture bonds to April 10.

American Tobacco Co. Boosts Cigaret Sales

The American Tobacco company yesterday reported that the February sales of its leading brand of cigarets approximated 429,000,000 more than in February, 1929, bringing the gain for the first two months of the year to about 1,128,000,000.

(New York stock list on page 27.)

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 26.—Transactions on the New York stock exchange crossed the 5,000,000 share mark today for the first time this year. Bull trading forces rode the rising tide of business in befitting manner, boosting a long line of their favorites to the highest price levels of the year.

Buying centered very largely in high class dividend paying stocks of investment caliber, and a healthy group of really important gains were run up. Western Union, for an outstanding example, recovered more than eleven points of the loss it suffered following the disclosure of its business slump the other day, and other big league industrials like General Electric, Westinghouse, and Consolidated Gas were turned over in tremendous volume at improved ratings.

Credit Public Interest.

Brokers credited the improvement primarily to a growing participation of the public, which has been standing pretty severely aloof ever since it got such a trimming in the big crash of last autumn. There are indications that what the trade calls the rank and file is really getting back into the market.

However, the news budget was much better than it has been for some time, and there's no denying this had considerable influence. Car loadings showed a sharp gain in miscellaneous shipments over the previous week. The Steel Trade Journal reviews reported a break in the production decline that has been under way for months, and reports from various other industrial sources were highly encouraging.

Consider Foreign Bonds

In Building a Well Balanced Investment Account

PRIOR to the World War, foreign securities were relatively unknown to the American investor. Since the advent of the United States as the world's leading creditor nation, this type of security has gained much favor.

Our outstanding position as a creditor nation has led almost every country in Europe, South America, and the Far East to draw upon our investment funds for means to finance governmental, industrial, and commercial enterprises.

Despite the large volume of capital already placed abroad by American investors, the merits of foreign bonds are still relatively unappreciated. The income return of this class of security averages higher than that of comparable domestic securities. It is but reasonable to expect that, as American investors become increasingly conversant with foreign bonds, and as Europe becomes better able to furnish its own capital demands, the yields on foreign investments will more closely approximate the return on domestic securities of corresponding investment merit.

In view of the very favorable record of good foreign bonds and the high income return which they afford, we recommend to investors the consideration of this field in the investment of a portion of their funds.

MEETING THE NEEDS OF CONSERVATIVE INVESTORS

BUYING IN SMALL AMOUNTS SENDS WHEAT HIGHER

Commission Houses Come In on Early Decline.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Bearish sentiment expressed itself yesterday in the wheat market in an opening decline of 1@1¼c from Tuesday's finish, but the break brought in rather persistent commission house buying in small amounts.

There was little pressure thereafter, with the finish at net gains of ⅛@⅞c, with May closing at $1.08⅝@1.08¾, and July $1.06¼@1.06¾. There was buying of May early by brokers who usually act for the government, but as soon as the market started upward the support was appearently disregarded.

There was nothing in the general run of the news to account for the buying other than the strength in Winnipeg, which finished 1⅛@1⅜c higher. Taken as a whole the crop comments, both official and private, were not as favorable as of late. The Kansas state report indicated that rains were badly need over the western part of that state, and the outlook was less promising. Freezing and thawing were claimed in the Ohio valley. The Grain Dealers' Journal today will say that the apparent abandoned acreage in the eleven leading winter wheat states this year is slightly under 11 per cent, compared with a 1909-'22 average of 11.8 per cent.

Export Demand Slow.

There was some evening up on the part of the trade by the government report on farmers' intentions to plant. While this is not an estimate, the returns suggested a decrease of 15 per cent in durum wheat and a very small gain in bread spring wheat. The percentages applied to the area harvested last year indicate a total of 20,197,000 acres, against 20,979,000 acres in 1929. The actual area seeded will depend largely on weather conditions from now on and the price.

Export demand from abroad continues distinctly disappointing, with only 200,000 bu Manitobas reported as sold. Foreigners paid considerable attention to the prospect of France exporting from 8,000,000 to 16,000,000 bu wheat and to the passage of the new German import duty equal to 78c per bu. Liverpool closed 1@1½d lower. Buenos Aires surprised the trade by advancing sharply after an early decline and closing 1@1⅝c higher.

Duluth has 36,000,000 bu of cash grain in store there, but so far no sales have been reported for shipment at the opening of lake navigation.

Corn Has Narrow Range.

While there was evidence of a broader outside trade in corn, with the public coming in on the buying side on the breaks, the market held within a range of 1c, running into profit taking sales on the bulges, with the finish toward the bottom with prices unchanged to ⅛c lower, May being 84¼@84⅝c and July 85⅝@85½c. Weather conditions were distinctly unfavorable for field work and the movement. Local receipts were down to 49 cars, with the basis steady to ½c higher.

If farmers plant the acreage of corn anticipated there will be a gain of 2.8 per cent in the area, according to a department of agriculture report. This would indicate a total of 100,764,000 acres for the 1930 crop, compared with 98,018,000 acres harvested last year.

Trade in oats was light and the market influenced mainly by the action of corn, closing ⅛@¼c higher, with May 43⅝@44c and July 43⅜c. An increase of 2.5 per cent is looked for in the acreage this year, which would make the total around 41,230,000, against 40,217,000 acres in 1929.

Rye was unsettled, but trade was less active, with the finish ¼c lower to ⅜c higher, May being 62c and July 67⅛@67¼c. There was some exchanging between May and July at 5c difference.

Ill. Central Earnings Show Feb. Slump of $629,796

The Illinois Central system yesterday reported net railway operating income of $1,788,486 in February, a decrease of $629,796 from the same month of last year. Railway operating revenues totaled $12,846,347, a decrease of $1,985,547. For the first two months of 1930 net income was $3,286,187, a drop of $1,568,947 from last year, and revenues were $26,487,276, a decrease of $3,492,237.

Big Caliber SALESMAN
Unusual Opportunity for Ambitious Man

Responsible corporation requires 3 seasoned salesmen in connection with its big expansion program. Preference will be given to men who are ambitious to advance, as we will need three or four additional sales executives during 1930 for Chicago and other cities. Men of the right type, who believe they can employ, train and direct other salesmen, will be assisted to qualify for these positions.
Only men of strong personality and selling power considered.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Foreigners show little disposition to anticipate their requirements and sales of only 200,000 bu were reported yesterday in all positions, mainly Manitobas. Local handlers sold 35,000 bu corn., 53,000 bu oats, 6,000 bu rye and 2,000 bu barley to the domestic trade. Deliveries on March contracts were 10,000 bu wheat and 5,000 bu rye.

PROVISION TRADE SMALL

A provision specialist yesterday said there were four trades in lard and two in bellies, which constituted the business for the day. The snow storm has blocked the railroads and hog receipts were light and prices steady to 10c higher, except on light hogs, which were weak. At the close lard was 2½c to 5c higher and bellies 2½c lower. Cash trade was quiet. Exports of bacon were 89,000 lbs and of lard 855,000 lbs. Prices follow:

EARLING ADDING TO APARTMENTS ON SIMONDS LAND

Structure on Fairoaks to Have Italian Court.

BY AL CHASE.

Sherburne M. Earling, north side builder, is adding to his Montrose Beach apartments at 917-33 Montrose avenue by erecting a four story structure at 914-32 Fairoaks street, connecting with the parent building at the rear. The structure, which will occupy a part of the old Ossian C. Simonds property at the corner of Montrose and Sheridan road, will cost about $250,000.

The Montrose avenue building has three wings from the rear of the structure. It will be connected with the addition by the east and west wings, which will be extended. There will be no center wing in the new building and the space resulting will be converted into an Italian court garden.

Will Have 88 Suites.

Fox & Fox, who designed the original structure, designed the addition, which is to have 88 suites of one, two, and three rooms. All the apartments will be furnished and each suite will have a radio outlet. The front elevation on Fairoaks will be of the same appearance as that of the Montrose section.

Carlton D. and Donald S. Engelhart have sold the six apartment building at 7731-33 Kingston avenue, lot 60x124 feet, to Mary A. Murphy. They took in exchange 50x125 feet of vacant at 1217 South Laflin street and 125x125 feet at the northwest corner of 93d and Bishop. The Engelharts plan to erect a six story apartment building and a five car garage on the Laflin street holding.

Adds to Forest Preserve.

The Kaspar-American State bank has transferred title to 4½ acres in Proviso township to the forest preserve district of Cook county for $24,860. The land is located on Salt creek, south of 22d street and three-quarters of a mile east of 5th avenue, La Grange.

The Motorists' Association of Illinois has leased the former Chicago Motor club property at the northwest corner of 33d and Michigan from May 1 for a short term as temporary headquarters. Henry G. Saal was lessor. The E. E. Stults Realty company and George F. Iliff & Co. were brokers. It has been announced that the lessees contemplate erecting a permanent headquarters at 24th and Michigan.

FINANCIAL NOTES

A syndicate headed by the National City company and including the Continental Illinois company, the Harris Trust and Savings bank, and the Foreman-State corporation, will offer today an issue of $2,000,000 San Antonio, Tex., independent school district 4¾ per cent bonds, dated April 1, 1930, to mature from 1931 to 1970 and priced to yield as follows: 1931 maturity, 4 per cent; 1932 maturity, 4.10 per cent; 1933 maturity, 4.25 per cent, and 1934 to 1970 inclusive, 4.40 per cent.

A new issue of $5,000,000 5 per cent 100 year gold debentures has been authorized by the West Penn Electric company, holding company for the electric properties of the American Water Works and Electric company.

Holders of the Republic of Chile 20 year 7 per cent external loan sinking fund bonds, due Nov. 1, 1942, have been notified that $254,000 aggregate principal amount of the bonds have been drawn for redemption on May 1, 1930.

Shaffer Oil and Refining company will be known as the Deep Rock Oil corporation, effective April 1. The change of name applies to subsidiaries operating in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Oklahoma, and Arkansas.

OFFER $5,000,000 ISSUE OF HEARST PAPER'S BONDS

A $5,000,000 bond issue is offered today by Halsey Stuart & Co. on the Chicago Herald and Examiner. The bonds are 6½ per cent secured gold debentures, to mature: $100,000 on March 1, 1931, $200,000 each on March 1, 1932 and 1933, and $4,500,000 on March 1, 1950. The price is 100 and interest.

The Herald and Examiner is owned and published by Illinois Publishing and Printing company. These debentures will be secured by a closed first mortgage upon all buildings, equipment, physical property, lands and leaseholds of the Illinois Publishing and Printing company, by an unconditional guarantee of William Randolph Hearst; and, by pledge of the lease of the Hearst building and annex to the Evening American Publishing company for a period extending beyond the maturity of these bonds.

In announcing the issue, Halsey, Stuart & Co. say it is "one of the most important publishing house bond issues of recent months." This bond house, which handles securities of the Insull interests and other large financing, has brought out from time to time previous bond issues on various Hearst properties.

ABANDON NEGOTIATIONS.

Negotiations for the purchase by Warner Brothers' Pictures, Inc., of Harrisonic Films, Inc., have been abandoned.

Estimated receipts at Chicago today, 5,000 cattle, 12,000 hogs, and 13,000 sheep.

All classes of live stock were late in getting on the market yesterday, owing to the severe storm, resulting in a very erratic trading. Cattle and hogs showed the most uneveness, while fat lambs were fast sellers at steady to strong prices.

Light hogs were weak to 10c lower at the start, but finished stronger, while medium and weighty hogs were mostly steady. Many of the late arrivals were being held off the market.

September Heavy, $9.65.

Contracts for September delivery attracted most attention on yesterday's hog futures market, although prices closed steady to 10c lower. September weights sold at $10.40 and September heavy at $9.65, this being the first time heavy grades have sold for September delivery.

The first sale of medium grades for September delivery was made Tuesday, in the "to arrive" market, four loads of heavy for Monday's delivery were closed at $9.75, but bid only $9.50. Light for delivery any time before April 5 were bid $10.60.

Some better grades of cattle sold to some advantage yesterday, while medium grades in many instances were held off the market on unsatisfactory bids in mid-session and later. Bulk of sales were fully steady to strong for the day at $11.00@13.60. Choice 1,403 lb steers sold at $13.85, although bids of $11.00@12.00 obtained a good many medium to good grades at 1,000@1,200 lb averages at the opening.

Present grades of steers of beef sort sold down to $9.75. Cows and heifers were steady to strong and showed less unevenness. Calves advanced 50c. Stockers and feeders were weak.

Lambs in Demand.

Fat lambs met brisk demand at steadily to strong prices yesterday, better grades of light and handy weights selling at $10.00@10.35, while most good weights brought $9.75@10.00.

Shorter lambs ranged downwards to $9.00 in small lots. Aged sheep and yearlings sold readily at stronger prices, some quotations on matured sorts showing 15@25c advance. Feeding and shearing lambs were steady.

Cotton Old Crop Strong; New Crop Futures Easy

Old crop deliveries in cotton were strong and higher yesterday on buying by spot houses and rumors that the government was back of the rally in its price fixing movement. At the close they were 15 to 29 points higher, while the distant months were under fair pressure and closed 4 to 12 points lower. Liverpool was 6 to 7 points net lower, with spot sales 7,000 bales. Spot prices were up 20 points, with New York 15c, showing an advance of 200 points from the recent low level, or equal to an improvement of $10.00 a bale. New Orleans was 15.65c, Houston 15.70c, and Galveston 15.80c.

Private report estimates the intention of cotton farmers to plant 45,851,000 acres, a reduction of 3.7 per cent from last year's planted acreage. Preparations are further advanced than for several years, with 38 per cent of the spring plowing completed, against 25 per cent last year and 31 per cent (two years ago. Expectations are that there will be greater weevil activity the coming season. Prices follow:

A SALESMAN.

We are interested in securing the services of a man between the ages of 28 and 40, who is accustomed to talking to big men on a basis of equality. In order to interest us you must look and act the part of success, be in position to start training immediately in case you are accepted and have sufficient finances to take care of yourself during the training period, and in the territory to which you are assigned.

We are nationally known as sales counsellors and are serving many well rated organizations. We do not sell Posters or Pep Letters.

A LIFE WORK.

If you are dissatisfied and unhappy in your present work, or if you are unemployed, your problem may be lastingly solved by joining our organization. Our work is dignified, healthful, interesting, constructive, and permanent. We have no dull periods. Learn our business, and you will never have to seek employment. Our business is new; it is of a financial nature in connection with loop banks and trust companies—not insurance. Those selected will receive every assistance and an intensive course of instruction.

Come in Thursday before 1 P. M. and find out about the finest sales offer ever presented in Chicago. Suite 610, 330 S. Wells-st.

Lowest Rate in Chicago on Household Loans $100 to $300

By reason of the large volume and by limiting our service to the larger loans from $100 to $300, "Household" has been able to reduce its interest rate to almost one-third less than the charges permitted by law.

Here Is the Cost On 20 Month Payment Plan:

$200 Average monthly cost.....$2.63
$300 Average monthly cost.....$3.94
Other amounts at same rate.

WE DO NOT NOTIFY your employer, neither do we make inquiries of your friends, relatives, or tradespeople.

NO ENDORSERS. If you are unable to call at our office, phone or write and we will send a representative to your home.
